MODEL TYPE HOME OPEN TO PUBLIC

Mary Pickford Turns Key Admitting Committee to Official Inspection

Mary Pickford inaugurated Better Homes Week in Los Angeles yesterday by opening the demonstration house that has been constructed at Fifth and Flower streets. The key that opened the front door for the first time was sent to Miss Pickford by Secretary Hoover and the house was dedicated to him as president of the Better Homes in America campaign.

Thousands watched the dedication. The music for the occasion was furnished by the band from Jefferson High School.

Miss Pickford was met at the gate by the reception committee which included Louise Seaver, vice-chairman of the campaign, David Wimmer, president of the American Institute of Architects; Ralph Hornes, president of the Builders' Exchange; Roy Kelly, president of the Los Angeles Architectural Club; William Simpson, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Harold O. Seasmith, architect in charge of the house. After the door was officially opened Miss Pickford and the committee entered and inspected the house. Miss Pickford expressed her interest in the movement for better homes and her wish to co-operate.

The first demonstration house was opened in Washington in 1928 by President Harding. Since then many cities throughout the United States have had their demonstration houses during Better Homes Week but this is the first one to be built in Los Angeles. The house will be open to the public during this week and at the end of that time will be given away.

NEW TRADE SCHOOL IN QUARTERS

Frank Wiggins Building Will Open Formally on Thursday and Friday

Announcement of the opening of the Frank Wiggins Trade School has been made by Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of schools, for Thursday and Friday of this week from 1 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Classes have been moving into the building since the latter part of February. As soon as a classroom or department was completed and equipment installed the class took possession. The Grand-avenue school at Eighth street and Grand avenue was vacated last week, and now that the new building at Vasita Boulevard and Olive street is completed the public is invited to inspect it.

The Frank Wiggins Trade School sets a new mark in educational structures, being the first twenty-story building ever used for school purposes. The building alone has cost approximately $1,000,000 and the equipment, which is the most modern in design, will total about $100,000.

Only trade subjects are taught in the school which has both day and evening classes, and they are taught from the trade standpoint. This enables the students to take their place in industry when they have completed the course. Since the school is under the direction of the Board of Education, there are no tuition charges, the instruction being without cost as in any other public school.

The United States Attorney's Office, at the time of Meadows's conviction for dealing in stolen bonds, announced that no prosecution on the dope charge would be made and yesterday's action was the mere formality in carrying out that announcement.

Minister Broaches Plan Hundreds Applaud; Urges Preparedness

Moscow Now Has Ten Million Reservists as Stated by England

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Times]

MOSCOW, April 26.—"Women as well as men must undergo some form of military training." War Minister Voroshilof told the All-Union Soviet Congress tonight amid the enthusiastic applause of many hundreds of women delegates and their men colleagues who occupied the front row of the crowded gallery of the state opera-house.

Voroshilof received a magnificent ovation when he rose to speak as a representative of the Red army commander and his was cheered when he finished. He is not a forceful speaker and hardly stirred the vast audience despite the passionate interest in Russia's military situation during all those months of latent crisis. Nevertheless Voroshilof's pronouncement perhaps better than the present studied attitude of the soviet government than the high strung leader of the dominant party opposition, could have been able to do.

CALLS IT FAIRY TALE

The great War Minister hotly denied the British War Secretary's statement that Russia has the largest army with 10,000,000 men. The real figure of the standing army was 600,000, of which 70,000 were permanent non-commissioned officers, he said.

"In modern warfare," he continued, "is largely waged by machines, but behind the ultimate and decisive—must be trained not only nationally but politically."

"We are the great powers intervened in the elements; but also our neighbors, Poland and Rumania, in three years, had augmented their standing army 20 per cent. Poland, moreover, is continuing to militarize the entire nation in preparation for eventual war and Russia, which is yet unable to put as many men as the yearly draft in Germany, is beginning to train a reserve of future reserve officers. Following this example, Russia is keeping pace with other nations in war technical and chemical defense, being spurred by the respite granted us by our unprovocative attitude in hope to develop our chemical industry. We are neither pacifists nor vegetarians. We do not manufacture poison gas, but we manufacture, and have in stock antidotes, and have invented a new mask which will be a kind of protection."

Penguin Suffers Heaviest Attack of Any Craft in Battle Zone

Northerners' Loss of 2000 Reported as Cantonese Sink River Boats

SHANGHAI, April 26. (AP)—Acting as a convoy for the steamers Tungwo and Tuckwo down the River Yangtze, the United States auxiliary Penguin was subjected to a heavy and persistent fire last night from the south bank of the Yangtze River, midway between Nanking and Shanghai, occupied by the Cantonese.

A number of bluejackets aboard the Penguin were wounded, one it is thought, mortally. This attack proved to be the most serious that any of the American warships has sustained since they appeared in Chinese waters.

Immediately the Penguin opened up with machine guns and rifles, and the Cantonese replied with field pieces; whereupon the Penguin brought her big guns to bear upon the Chinese, who finally desisted.

DESTROYER FIRED ON

The American destroyer Paul Jones also was fired on, but from the north bank of the river, where the northerners control. Investigating another attack, the United States destroyer John D. Ford and the British destroyer Cockchafer discovered six Cantonese gunboats all ready for action.

The Cockchafer was fired on later from the south bank of the river, and opened up with a heavy shrapnel fire, which was kept going most of the day.

While Northern Chinese forces have met with reverses in an attempt to cross the Yangtze River from Pukow into Nanking, the seat of Chiang Kai-Shek's newly-founded Moderate Cantonese government, there are rumors of a concentration of Northerners for an attack on Hankow, the stronghold of the Radical Cantonese faction.

LOSSES REPORTED

Fighting between the northern forces in Pukow and the southern troops in Nanking, which has been in progress for a long time, reached the climax last night when the northerners, crowded into a score or more boats, attempted to cross near the Nanking forts.

A searchlight revealed their approach and a heavy fire was opened upon them. Reports reaching Shanghai say that 2000 northern soldiers perished when the bats were sunk by the Cantonese shells. Details are lacking, and it is difficult to find confirmation for this report.

A fierce battle also was fought last night between five war craft of the Nanking Cantonese and the northern batteries in Pukow. The

POLA'S ROMANCE RIDES HIGH

Prince and Film Actress Get Family Approval and They Will Be Married Before May 15

PARIS, April 26. (AP)—Pola Negri, the motion-picture actress, and her Prince, the Russian nobleman, Serge Mdivani, elated tonight by their warm reception here by the Prince's brother Alex, planned to drive tomorrow to the Chateau de Reuil at Seraincourt, near Paris, to prepare for their wedding there next month.

It now appears that the "single shadow" hovering over the marriage which Miss Negri spoke of when she arrived at Cherbourg today on the Aquitania—the opposition of the Prince's family to the marriage—was all a "fake," as the star and her entourage put it.

Serge's brother Alex, when he rushed up and kissed both of them at the station here, declared that "Papa" Mdivani wanted to come in the worst way, but was deterred by a cold.

"It's not anything serious, I hope?" queried Pola with daughter-in-law-like anxiety.

"Oh, dear no. He's all right, and tomorrow will go to the chateau with us," Alex replied.

Miss Negri said that her marriage to the Prince would take place some time between May 5 and May 15, next, the precise date depending upon how much time was needed to conform with all the French regulations, which are most cumbersome for those who have been divorced. The preliminary steps have already been taken by officials of her film company and Miss Negri believes that the marriage will be nearer the fifth than the fifteenth, allowing for a longer honeymoon before sailing to the United States on May 21.

"I do not know about a religious ceremony," Miss Negri replied to a question. "You see, Serge is an Episcopalian, having gone to school in England, while I am a Catholic. However, I believe it can be arranged."

KEEP ON WORKING

Asked if she were going to give up film work, Miss Negri answered: "No, indeed, I am going to keep on. There is so much to do; and as for the Prince, he also will work—in the oil business, in which he has been interested since he was exiled from Russia."

Miss Negri, who was looking very wan after a rough sea trip, said that she was awfully sick and could not stand up long.

MAXIMUM POPULATION DATE FIXED

German Professor Says Eight Billion Persons Will Occupy Earth in 2227

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive) Within 300 years the human race will reach a total population of 8,000,000,000 persons, the estimated capacity that can live on the earth's surface, according to Prof. Dr. Albrecht Penck, who arrived here today from Germany on the Hamburg-American liner Cleveland.

Dr. Penck, who occupies the chair of geography at the University of Berlin, was here in 1908-09 as exchange professor at Columbia University.

Dr. Penck comes here on a special invitation to attend the bicentennial of the American Philosophical Society in Philadelphia, which opens tomorrow. He will read a paper on "The Position of Geography Under the Science of Soil." Later he will attend the Congress of Soil Sciences at Washington from June 11 to 21, and will also read a paper before this group of scientists on "The Capacity of the Earth for Maintaining the Human Race."

The German professor was reluctant to discuss the future of race existence and refused to hazard a prediction as to what may occur when the earth's surface becomes congested with people. "It passes the faculties of my imagination," he commented.

He was optimistic that future scientists would solve the problem and create either new or artificial foods for the nourishment of 8,000,000,000 persons who will inhabit the earth's surface in 2227.

In the cards there was destiny.

Surveyor Finds Hill Isn't Where it Used to be by All of Forty-two Inches

ALAMO, April 26. (Exclusive)—Now if Mohammed had only had some patience that mountain might have come right down to him.

Lieut. Garner of the United States Geodetic Survey, went over to Mt. Diablo to make some measurements and found some dirty work at the crossroads. His sextant insisted the mountain ought to be right where it wasn't—not by three and a half feet.

Then the Lieutenant decided this prohibition business might not be so terrible after all. Boxing his compass soundly, he sneaked up on a flock of stray logarithms and found that Mt. Diablo has moved forty-two inches closer to the Pacific Coast since 1892.

The world do move.

Father Ricard recommended to scientists the study of medieval philosophy for instruction in clear thinking. He told his hearers that rapid progress was being made on his new observatory at the University of Santa Clara, where he would continue and amplify his work.

LEAGUE TO BE ARMED

Decides to Own Air Fleet

Modern Force Regarded as Essential in Coping With Emergencies

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Herald-Tribune]

LONDON, April 26. (Exclusive)—The League of Nations today was authorized to maintain its own air force. This bald fact with the significant possibilities it conveyed today was received as a last-minute request from the League by the representatives of eighteen countries who met for the second session of the International Commission on Air Navigation in the old palace yard under Sir Philip Sassoon's chairmanship. The League feels that it is absolutely necessary that it own a fleet of airplanes, modern in every respect, to be used wherever urgent communications are required. Emergency cases might mean a difference between success and failure should planes be available, League officials pointed out. The entire question is fraught with extremely delicate complications.

The question arose when the League asked what measure should be taken if any European country should lend planes to the League. The commission thereupon decided that should any European country lend machines to the League these planes should be marked with a deep, black line across the ordinary distinguishing mark of the country's ownership.

The commission decided to inform the League that there was no objection to its owning a fleet of planes, requesting the League to inform the commission as soon as possible what distinguishing marks the League would choose to identify its air fleet. The move is most important since it conveys the idea that the League is attempting to form itself into a sort of independent European state. There is no question at present that the League of Nations desires to use the proposed fleet of planes to enforce its decisions against any country which might not obey its orders, but this, of course, is the only possible outcome.

In a night's campaign here last night 300 automobilists were cited to have their lights adjusted. Officers on the patrol reported nine out of every ten automobiles halted were equipped with lights out of adjustment.

Will Rogers Remarks:

HIGH POINT (N. C.) April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It certainly does pay to have friends. John McCormack heard that I was giving a benefit performance for the flood sufferers at Mr. Ziegfeld's new theater next Sunday night and he called me on the phone just now from out in Illinois and said he would come clear into New York to sing. That he thought it was the greatest need by the largest number of people of anything that had ever come up.

But what the whole country has got to do is wake up and give. These people are going to need assistance for months. Actors will help you in every town to give shows and raise money. They don't fail and neither do the people when they know the need.

WILL ROGERS.

STATE ORDERS LEVEE CUT TO SAVE NEW ORLEANS

Blast on Friday to Check Flood Will Sacrifice Two Parishes; Louisiana Guard Out

NEW ORLEANS, April 26. (AP)—Gov. O. H. Simpson tonight issued a proclamation declaring that a public emergency exists and ordering the creation of an artificial break in the levee of the Mississippi River near Poydras at noon on Friday.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) April 26. (AP)—Desperate measures to protect New Orleans from the floods that daily are laying waste vast new areas in Arkansas and Mississippi were agreed upon tonight by the Mississippi River Commission and army engineers.

Should such action become necessary, a great opening will be made in the levee on the east side of the Mississippi River ten miles below the Crescent city to ease the flood waters which now threatens New Orleans. This would inundate two parishes in Southeastern Louisiana.

Evacuation of these parishes began late today, but some of the trappers of that region who attended a meeting in Braithwaite returned to their armed defense of the levees, vowing they would remain until they had been guaranteed against the losses that would accrue to them by dynamiting the dikes.

CALLS OUT GUARD

Adjt.-Gen. Toombs issued an order for the immediate mobilization of the Louisiana National Guard. He said this was a precautionary measure to meet any possible developments in the flood situation.

The plan to remove the menace from the South's largest city, put forward by Gov. Simpson of Louisiana and Mayor O'Keefe of New Orleans brought an immediate protest from the inhabitants of the thirty square miles that thus would be flooded, as well as from the business interests of Natchez, who demanded a cut at Morganza so as to protect that city as well as New Orleans. To that Baton Rouge objected on the ground that it would flood 3000 square miles of rich country, including Louisiana's sugar cane growing section.

FEAR FOR CITY

While the danger to New Orleans is not thought to be imminent, engineers have been apprehensive for the safety of that port when the crest of the flood, located today off Helena, Ark., passed Vicksburg, to join with the Red River from Arkansas and the Tagoo River from Mississippi.

Should a break occur on the east side of the river near New Orleans, the engineers said, that city would be inundated, with a tremendous loss of property and perhaps of life. Thus far the strengthened levees have held, but whether they could do so under the vastly increased pressure of water was regarded as doubtful.

While the question of protecting New Orleans was occupying the attention of engineers and Federal and State officials, the overflow waters of the Arkansas and Mississippi were hourly making more acute the situation in both Southeastern Arkansas and the Mississippi delta.

SIX TOWNS INUNDATED

Conditions in Arkansas gave Red Cross officials here the most concern for the floods from the Arkansas River were spreading with alarming rapidity, inundating six more towns—Callon, Watson, Endore, Kilso, Dermott and Tiller—and rapidly swelling the army of refugees.

Far to the northeast the situation also was made worse by two breaks in the Kochtitzka drainage district levee four miles south of Dell, a refugee concentration point. It was estimated that twenty square miles would be flooded with the probability that the waters would go into three more towns, McFerrin, River and Marie.

Arkansas City on the Mississippi River below Helena, was reported under from seven to fourteen feet of water, with 5000 refugees on the levee and about 2000 marooned in the lowlands. The Red Cross dis-

Secretary Rides Before Flood

Relief Measures Reviewed and Attention Turned to Protective Plans

Meeting Held in Vicksburg by Chisca Party on Way to New Orleans

MISSISSIPPI RIVER COMMISSION STEAMER CHISCA, VICKSBURG (Miss.) April 26. (AP)—The seriousness of further disaster flood possibilities was the problem Secretary of Commerce Hoover, as President Coolidge's personal envoy to the stricken Mississippi River Valley, sought to solve tonight at a conference at Vicksburg, between relief and flood authorities of Louisiana and Mississippi.

Riding ahead of the flood's crest, Secretary Hoover, Maj.-Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and James L. Fieser, acting national chairman of the Red Cross on the Mississippi River Commission steamer Chisca today passed through the Lower Mississippi delta, where on both sides of the river backwater floods from above were slowly encroaching upon and inundating valuable cotton plantations.

FIGHT TO SAVE LEVEE

Although the inundated regions were not visible from the steamer, army engineers who accompanied the party explained to Mr. Hoover and Gen. Jadwin that on the Mississippi side of the river the flood through the Stops Landing levee break above Greenville was sweeping down toward Vicksburg slowly spreading over thousands of acres and on the Arkansas side the overflow water from the Arkansas and White rivers was pressing southward into Louisiana.

Preparations to prevent the breaking of levees were being made night and day with 2000 men working to build a five-foot top on the embankments which stretch in a practically complete levee system for the 218 miles from Greenville to Vicksburg.

Besides these strong levees, the Secretary learned there were a score of revetments, built of concrete, placed to strengthen the weak spots of the system.

Both Mr. Hoover and Gen. Jadwin, after the survey, felt more optimistic that the levees on both sides of the river would be strong enough to meet the tremendous high water which is pressing southward—today in the vicinity of Helena, Ark.

FLOOD BENEFIT ARRANGED

Many Film Stars Will Give Services to Special Performance for Relief Fund

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, City Council and other civic organizations yesterday raised their voices in pleas to citizens to contribute generously to the fund being raised for the benefit of Mississippi Valley flood sufferers. At the same time D. C. MacWatters, chairman of Los Angeles Chapter, American Red Cross, declared that splendid spirit was being manifested throughout the city as preparations were being made to raise Los Angeles's quota of $115,000 for the national Red Cross Relief Fund.

Hurrying to the call of the needy, it was announced yesterday the entire motion-picture industry, co-operating with legitimate theaters and the Theater Managers' Association, is planning one of the greatest benefit performances ever staged in the West at the Metropolitan Theater next Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock, the entire proceeds to be given to the relief fund.

MANY GIVE SERVICES

While scores of stage and screen stars were volunteering their services to the performance, Mayor George Cryer issued a proclamation urging that every possible aid be extended through the ordinary channels, and that citizens attend the benefit performance.

patched the steamer Cairo to this town to remove the refugees.

Further westward in the Pine Tree State, the Ouchita River went out of its banks north of El Dorado, and it was reported that the town of Calion had been flooded and that from 50,000 to 75,000 acres of land in Ashley county soon would be under water.

DOWN IN DELTA

In the Mississippi delta the flood waters from the Mississippi River and the back waters from the Yazoo made junction south of Rolling Fork and that little town was reported under water. It also was stated that practically all highway bridges north of Rolling Fork had been washed away.

Much of the delta was cut off from communication and only meager reports were received. Dispatches from Greenwood said urgent calls for aid for refugees had come from Isola and north of Belzo. Boats were dispatched to that section.

Rescuers from Greenville, where the water was rising slowly, also continued their search in the flooded area for refugees still reported clinging to housetops and trees or seeking a haven on Indian mounds.

The bodies of a young man and a young woman were taken to Greenville from Stringtown, where they were found. They have not been identified. These were the only additional deaths reported from this area, but it was feared that a number of plantation tenants who failed to heed warnings to seek safety on the levees had lost their lives.

PELLAGRA AND MALARIA NOW PERILS REFUGEES

PINE BLUFF (Ark.) April 26. (AP)—With several cases already reported, Monticello tonight was taking every measure to prevent an epidemic of pellagra and malaria among the hundreds of refugees being taken care of there. Emergency wards have been established and serum is being rushed there to check the spread.

First reports of the disease were brought here today by Lieut. McSwine of the government flying forces, who said there are 3000 negroes and 1000 white refugees being taken care of there. Of the white people, four-fifths are women and children, he reported.

PAPERS FOUND IN RAID SHOW SOVIET SUPPORT

[Copyright, 1927, Publishers' Syndicate.]

PEKING, April 26. (Exclusive)—The revelations of the documents seized in the recent raid on the soviet embassy here have determined Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's form of front against the Christian general, Feng Yu-Hsiang, with the possibility that Marshal Chang will assume a dictatorship under the title of provisional president, after which he would call a constitutional assembly.

The documents show that Gen. Feng received ammunition from the soviets, for which he gave receipts, and $10,700,000, which was not used. The ammunition included bomb throwers, flame throwers and other modern devices. Gen. Feng now is near the western Honan border preparing 3000 boats for transport on the Yellow River. Marshal Chang also is aligning with the Nationalists.

As a result of the decision, Marshal Chang is forming nine new armies of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu adherents in Honan Province.

Meantime, Hankow telegrams report the continued movement of Nationalist troops northward, indicating a double blow against the Mukden war lord, whose currency is dropping off rapidly, today's quotation being about 9 cents to the dollar.

On the other hand, a reaction against Bolshevism is setting in both in Changsha and Hankow, with the reiterated desire for the foreigners to remain. The powers are not willing to concede the sincerity of the Nationalist reaction, in view of the unprovoked attack on the American gunboat Penguin from the shore batteries in the lower Yangtse, causing the greatest foreign casualties of the war.

The ministers again conferred today, but without an agreement, regarding future action on the Yangtse outlawry.

DAVIS IN CONDITIONAL SANCTION OF BREAK

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—Tacit sanction for the cutting of the levee on the left bank of the Mississippi River at Poydras, La., ten miles below New Orleans, to save the city from flood inundation, was given by Secretary Davis of the War Department today in a telegram to Gov. Simpson of Louisiana.

The Governor proposed this move under a resolution adopted by the Mississippi River Commission at Vicksburg yesterday, recommending that he order the levee cut at a point to be designated by himself.

DISCLAIMS CONSEQUENCES

Secretary Davis replied that the War Department could accept no responsibility for the action or for injuries or damages which might result from the action, but would interpose no Federal objection to the breaking of the levee if the Mississippi River Commission and Maj.-Gen. Jadwin, chief of army engineers, found no reason to oppose the plan at a conference to be held in Vicksburg, Miss.

Army engineers estimated that cutting of the levee at Poydras would result in a foot-and-a-half drop of water level at New Orleans. The country which would be flooded is such as to make damage the minimum possible and still afford relief to the flood-threatened city. Poydras is the site of an old break and will afford the river a double outlet to the Gulf.

CHOICE OF EVILS

The only alternative considered by the Louisiana authorities was a cut in the right bank farther up the river, but it was found that the incidental damage would be much greater with the relief afforded New Orleans only slightly more than the foot-and-one-half drop which the Poydras cut will produce.

Secretary Davis made it plain to Gov. Simpson that he lacked authority to authorize the cut, but that since there was involved no threat to life and property in any State but Louisiana he would make no objection in behalf of the Federal government.

The Governor's message, which was signed also by Mayor O'Keefe of New Orleans, pledged the State and city to recompense any and all persons in the area to be flooded for any losses sustained.

GEN. JADWIN APPROVES LEVEE-CUTTING PLAN

VICKSBURG (Miss.) April 26. (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, announced tonight he will approve the proposal of an emergency flood crevasse at Poydras, ten miles south of New Orleans if the Mississippi River threatens to inundate that city.

Gen. Jadwin approved the commission plan after he had received a telegram from Secretary of War Davis saying that he also approved it and told the commission that the final sanction rested in the hands of Gen. Jadwin.

The commission's resolution was presented tonight to Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Gen. Jadwin, who arrived here on a survey of Mississippi River flood regions.

The Poydras crevasse will not be made, it was announced by a committee of New Orleans and Louisiana representatives who met Secretary Hoover, unless an absolute emergency to prevent the flooding of the city is created.

In his telegram to the commission and Gen. Jadwin, Secretary of War Davis said the War Department would assume no responsibility nor any financial liability for the break.

ACTION SPELLS RUIN FOR MARSHLAND TRAPPERS

A break in the levees at any point along the line from New Orleans 110 miles down the river to the Gulf of Mexico would flood thousands of acres of rich alluvial truck farming and marshlands, since at all points below New Orleans the level of the river is above that of the surrounding country, which is almost sea level.

RESIDENTS AFFECTED

A crevasse such as is proposed at Poydras would cover more than 70,000 acres with water as it spread across sections of St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes toward Lake Borgne, an arm of the Gulf of Mexico. The area in the immediate vicinity of Violet, Poydras and St. Bernard, the towns affected, and along the levees is devoted to truck farming. In the marshlands, which stretch away from the river on either side, however, dwell trappers in whose veins flow a mixture of bloods.

They speak a language in which are found words from more than a dozen tongues, French, Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, English—words brought into the marshlands by hundreds of sailors of all nations who have quit ship in New Orleans and gone down into the lowlands to live.

For several years their trapping seasons have been punctuated by bloody trapper wars in which contending factions have striven for the right to snare the muskrat wherever it may be found.

END TO INDUSTRY

MAROONED ARKANSANS FACE IMMINENT FAMINE

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) April 26. (AP) Two thousand persons are marooned on a levee at Arkansas City and 3000 to 6000 more are in the near-by country Mayor Hemingway of the flood-swept town said today to a staff correspondent of the Associated Press who flew from Arkansas City to Little Rock.

"We are in desperate need," the Mayor said. "The town has no bread. There are 2000 persons on the levee and they have not been fed since yesterday.

"Please tell the world that we need food, boats, shelter, tents and bedding. All of the people on the levee are in dire need. Any aid you can send the stricken town will save lives."

Checks should be made payable to The Times Flood Relief Fund and mailed to The Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

The flood situation grows daily more appalling. The number of refugees is now estimated at 200,000 with a death list and property loss which cannot yet even be approximated. The need is desperate and The Times urges all who are able to contribute any amount to do so as quickly and as generously as possible.

If preferred, contributions may be sent direct to the local Red Cross, Transportation Building, Los Angeles.

APPROPRIATIONS ILLEGAL

Although a resolution was introduced by Councilman Jacobson asking that $10,000 be appropriated for the relief fund, other Councilmen pointed out that such an action was illegal under the new city charter, and the City Council was forced to be content with the appointment of a committee to frame a resolution offering the city's sympathy to flood sufferers and urging private citizens to give aid generously.

A proclamation issued by D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce, urged generous assistance to the Red Cross fund, and called upon every citizen to do his part.

Another benefit for flood sufferers will be given by the Missouri State Society at Moose Hall Tuesday night, May 10. The committee in charge is James A. Lang, president; Davis Small, secretary, and George V. Sefieur, treasurer of the society.

The Porter-Redmond Orchestra will play for the entertainment, donating its services, and the use of the auditorium has been given by the Loyal Order of Moose. Many artists, it is announced, will also give their services for the occasion. Tickets may be obtained at the office of the Federation of State Societies, Rosslyn Hotel, and at Moose Hall, 1094 South Grand avenue.

"Suffering in the flood area is gaining frightful headway," declared Chairman MacWatters of the local Red Cross unit yesterday, "and our latest report from headquarters in Washington estimates that the number of homeless may be expected to reach as high as 250,000.

"If we put our shoulders to the wheel and each gives as generously as possible in response to this humanitarian appeal of the thousands in distress, Los Angeles can make up its quota of $115,000 in a week or ten days at most."

CORRECTION

The Paul G. Hoffman Co. desires to correct a misstatement appearing over its name in various issues of The Times during last week.

The announcement referred to stated that a Big Six Studebaker Commander, a four-passenger, fully equipped, stock closed car, traveled 5000 miles in 4908 minutes, 22 seconds, total elapsed time. The statement appeared that FIVE A.A.A. official records were established.

This latter statement is in error.

OCEAN RACE TO GO ON

Deaths Fail to Stop Flyers

Noel Davis, Lieut. Wooster Killed as American Legion Plane Crashes

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Although the Paris-to-New York nonstop flight, stalked by accident and tragedy since it was first proposed, today lost to death two of its most intrepid entrants in Lieutenant-Commander Noel Davis and his alternate pilot, Lieut. Stanton Hall Wooster, killed at Messick, Va., the flight will go on, perhaps in the next four or five days.

Announcement to this effect came from those "still in the race," who said the loss of Davis had robbed the venture of much of its sporting element.

Despite an accident Sunday to the giant monoplane, the Bellanca, that craft will be ready to take off by Sunday if wind and weather are favorable, it was announced by its backers. Test flights have shown it to be in perfect condion.

FOUR DEATHS

The death of the two in Virginia brought the casualties of the proposed classic to four, two other flyers having been killed last year when, taking off from Roosevelt Field, the giant Fokker plane caught fire and burned. Jacob Islamoff, mechanic, and Charles Clavier, radio operator, Capt. Rene Fonck and Lieut. Lawrence Curtin, pilot, escaping. Coincidentally, Davis was also in the field at that time as a candidate for the $25,000 Orteig prize.

Accidents less serious in the last few days have marked the tests and preparations of two other big planes, the America and the Bellanca. Three flyers, Commander Richard E. Byrd, Floyd Bennett, his pilot, and George O. Neville, radio man, were all in the hospital a few days after the accident at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., the 16th, inst. The America overturned and its injuries are now being repaired.

SKILLFUL PILOTING

The accident to the Bellanca, in which Bert Acosta and Clarence D. Chamberlain recently won the endurance record of the world, might have proved fatal, but for skillful piloting. Last Sunday, the craft, piloted by Chamberlain and containing two girl passengers, suffered a broken strut as it left the ground and more than an hour's maneuvering was necessary to effect a landing without injury.

Charles A. Levine, a sponsor of the proposed flight of the Bellanca monoplane, expressed sorrow today at the tragic fate that eliminated "another gallant attempt to cross the Atlantic."

"While the plans will proceed with the Bellanca plane, the sporting spirit has been removed because of the fact that we have lost Davis," he said. "And Commander Byrd's plane, the America, has been practically eliminated."

Grover Whalen, associated with Rodman Wannamaker, backer of Commander Byrd in his projected flight, declined to comment on Mr. Levine's statement that the plane was practically eliminated," but said, "we are quite capable of making any statement on that matter for ourselves. We have, however, no statement to make until Floyd Bennett, who was injured, is 'out of the woods.'"

WAVE OF SORROW

A wave of sorrow swept through flying circles when the news of the Virginia crash reached here. Expressions of regret were made by Commander Byrd, G. W. Bellanca, designer of the Bellanca plane, Chamberlin and Acosta, Lieut.-Col. Benjamin D. Foulois, commander of Mitchel Field; Charles A. Levine and others.

Meantime, word came from Paris that plans there are continuing for a take-off to New York, and from Washington it was learned that Charles A. Lindbergh, former air mail pilot, is still expecting to have a monoplane finished on the Pacific Coast in time to be ready for trial flights soon.

DAVIS AND WOOSTER MEET DEATH IN CRASH

NEWPORT NEWS (Va.) April 26. (AP) — Lieutenant-Commander Noel Davis and Lieut. Stanton Wooster, naval aviators, were killed today when the giant biplane in which they had hoped to cross the Atlantic flopped over in making a landing in a marsh near here. Both airmen were trapped in the cockpit, which was submerged in mud and water.

Officers from Langley Field who reached the machine a few minutes after it had turned over said they found that Davis had been crushed about the face and that Wooster's neck had been broken.

INQUIRY COURT CONVENES

A naval court of inquiry convened in executive session late today in an attempt to ascertain the cause of the accident.

Davis and Wooster, both of them graduates of the Naval Academy, met death in the plane in which they had planned to compete for the $25,000 Orteig prize for the first nonstop flight between New York and Paris. The plane, recently christened the American Legion by the wife of Commander Davis, was carrying a load of 16,000 pounds.

Attempting their first flight in the plane with such a load, Davis and Wooster succeeded in getting the ship off the ground. When about fifty feet in the air it made one turn, then settled toward the earth. The plane made a good landing in a marsh near Messick, a fishing village on Back River, but after going about 125 feet through the mud its tail lifted high in the air and it flopped over.

Lieut. K. O. Boedecker, field engineer of the Wright Airplane Corporation, informed of a report from New York and attributed to him to the effect that Davis and Wooster had died of gasoline fumes, declared that neither he nor any one else could say at this time what caused the death of the airmen.

GAS TANK BREAKS LOOSE

"One of the gasoline tanks broke loose from its mooring when the plane crashed," Boedecker said. "This let gasoline into the cockpit, but just how much no one knows. It has been reported around the field that the men died of gasoline fumes, but no one knows this to be the case."

Boedecker said that in his opinion the gas tank did not break loose and flood the cockpit until the machine turned over. Once the craft was wrecked, he added, the airmen might have met death from any number of causes—among them drowning, asphyxiation, or broken bones.

It was the opinion of persons who reached the machine before the bodies were removed that either engine trouble or too much load kept the craft from rising to a height necessary for safe maneuvering. They believe that the aviators realized this and elected to make a forced landing, rather than take a chance on getting back to Langley Field, from which they had taken off.

PARIS SENDS SYMPATHY TO GEN. PATRICK

PARIS, April 26. (AP)—An expression of sympathy in the death of Commander Noel Davis has been forwarded to Maj.-Gen. Patrick, chief of the United States Army Air Service by the Paris chapter of the National Aeronautical Association. A royal welcome had been planned for the arrival here of Commander Davis or the first American pilot to successfully make the trans-Atlantic flight, and a reception committee had expected to greet him when his plane landed on French soil.

BYRD CALLS THEM COURAGEOUS PIONEERS

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Commander Noel Davis and Lieut. Stanton P. Wooster, killed in the crash of their plane at Langley Field, Va., today were "brilliant, courageous air pioneers," but their fatal accident should not be considered a drawback to aviation, said Commander Richard E. Byrd, polar flyer, to the Associated Press.

"Davis and Wooster were my old friends," he said, with trembling voice. "I am shocked beyond expression at their death. They have given their lives to the progress of aviation."

AVIATION CHIEF'S VOICE EXPRESSIONS OF REGRET

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—Regret over the deaths of Lieutenant-Commander Davis and Lieut. Wooster was expressed by Secretary Wilbur, who said the entire naval aviation service had been deeply shocked. Others who paid tribute to the airmen included Porter Adams, president of the Aeronautic Association, under whose auspices Davis and his assistant intended to attempt the New York-to-Paris flight.

"They lost their lives in a splendid and unselfish effort to be the first to carry the American flag through the air to France," Mr. Adams said. "Great as is the loss, it will serve only to inspire other pioneers of American aviation to carry on and complete the argoay of their ambition."

FEAR MAY RIOTS

Chinese reports indicate that negotiations between Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek and the northern generals, Sun Chuan-Fang and Chang Tsung-Chang, still are going on with the object of arranging for withdrawal of these two northern armies. This would open the way for Chiang's drive northward on Peking.

Fearing possible trouble by the Communists on May Day, Gen. Yang Hu, chief of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's staff, has been appointed commander of the constabulary at Shanghai.

Notwithstanding reports that M. Borodin, the Russian adviser of the Cantonese government, was on his way to Russia, advices from Hankow say that he has an airplane in readiness to make a flight out of China at the first intimation of personal danger. His objective would be the trans-Siberian Railway.

GANGLAND TORTURES SQUEALER

Members Who Talk Too Much Left to Die After Tongue is Cut Out

CHICAGO, April 26. (Exclusive)—Gangland has employed a new method of torture for members or others who know of its criminality and who talk too much. It is the simple expedient of cutting out the tongue of the offender and permitting him to slowly bleed to death.

Police early this morning came upon an automobile parked in a lonely spot, with Joseph Krowszyk, 21 years of age, with his tongue severed near the roots. With him were John Walniak and George Bonsheck. Krowszyk was crouched down between the other two, almost unconscious from loss of blood. The others were stolidly smoking cigarettes.

The injured man was rushed to a hospital, but it is doubtful if he will recover. At first his companions refused to talk, but under pressure said all three had been drinking and they had collided with a lamp post. The force of the shock, they said, had caused Krowszyk to bite his tongue in half. However, the automobile showed no marks of collision and the police surgeon said the tongue had been severed with a sharp instrument.

"Evidently his tongue was drawn far out and severed near the roots," said Dr. Scanlan. "He could not have bitten it. There are marks of crude surgery."

PERIL OF FLOOD TOLD TO HOOVER

Greenville, Miss., the Commerce Secretary felt that he had gained a good picture of the relief needs of the flood situation and now turned to a study of the protection of the cities and countryside which have yet to meet the river's onrushing flow.

At Vicksburg, Secretary Hoover first was to meet with Gov. Murphree of Mississippi and representatives of that State in connection with the mobilization of the government's and Red Cross's resources to aid the refugees in that State. Then he planned a comprehensive study of the protection of New Orleans and the valuable farming lands of Louisiana at a meeting with representatives of that State including the Mississippi Safe River Commission, headed by James M. Thompson, New Orleans publisher. From Vicksburg he will leave probably by train for New Orleans, immediately after the conferences.

Undoubtedly Mr. Hoover's chief conclusion was the possibility of a serious inundation of New Orleans as the mighty waters in the flood crest were drawing nearer to the river's outlet into the Gulf of Mexico.

CLEAN

The woman of today is amazingly sensible about beauty. She takes no nostrums. She relies on scientific diet for a graceful figure; on simple cleansing with pure soap for a lovely skin. She buys her dentifrice to keep her teeth clean—not to cure some mouth disease she hasn't got.

She understands when her dentist tells her that the one function of a dentifrice is to clean.

Realizing this, Colgate & Co. have designed Ribbon Dental Cream with the express purpose of doing what leading dental authorities agree a dentifrice must do—clean.

Ribbon Dental Cream cleans teeth better by the following method: As you brush, it breaks into a sparkling, bubbling foam; in this foam is calcium carbonate, a finely ground powder which loosens clinging food particles, and polishes all tooth surfaces. Next, this foam, in a detergent, washing wave, sweeps over teeth, tongue, gums, washing all surfaces, removing the very causes of tooth decay.

Colgate's attempts to do no more than clean, because dentists say that a dentifrice should do no more. Rely on your dentist to cure—rely on Colgate's to clean.

CONFESSION ADMITTED

Snyder Murder Defense Hit

Police Commissioner Tells How Woman Described Husband's Death

Gray's Admission's Repeated by Detective Who Was Escort

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive) The second day of witnesses and testimony was disastrous for Mrs. Ruth Snyder and her former admirer, Henry Judd Gray, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Snyder's husband. When the long afternoon, with its murky lights and dripping rain, drew to a dreary close they were on the edge of a Waterloo. Three distinct catastrophes happened one after another. First, there was Commissioner George V. McLaughlin, head of the New York City police. He took the stand—a large, affable person with a voice so loud and clear that the little microphones and loud speakers placed around the courtroom simply sulked in despair. His voice needs no amplifier, nor does his frankness. To the defense he was a genial earthquake.

Commissioner McLaughlin testified that Mrs. Snyder, sitting in the police station, confessed the whole thing to him. Her confession, as he relates it, was in great detail, and was given voluntarily without any sort of compulsion.

TELLS OF CONFESSION

He said that she attempted to lie at first—the well-known story about the murder being the work of a swarthy-mustached man and so on. Then she got tangled up, he said, in his booming manner, about the automobile trip to Canada that she was supposed to have taken last summer, with a vague married couple with whom she was acquainted. The trip was actually made with Gray. She gave the name of the couple but was unable to say where they lived, or give the names of any of the hotels at which they stopped on this motor vacation. In the meantime the commissioner testified, the name H. J. Gray had been found among Mrs. Snyder's memoranda. As soon as Gray's name was mentioned the commissioner said, Mrs. Snyder admitted that Gray was her accomplice and then she added, "I'm tired of all this; I may as well tell you what did happen." Forthwith she dictated her confession to a stenographer and signed it.

That was the first great blow. The second struck Gray. Police Lieutenant McDermott, who brought Gray down from Syracuse, testified that the paramour's confession began at Poughkeepsie and ran on into the Grand Central Station. From Syracuse to Poughkepsie Gray treated the whole episode as a joke. He told the detectives that they must be dreaming and that "we'll all laugh over this some day."

The trip was rather pleasant McDermott declared. Gray called him Mac and he called Gray by the intimate name of Judd. He related the latest bootlegger joke to Gray; and Gray told him stories in the life of an adventurous corset salesman. The journey might have gone on its rosy way to the end but McDermott turned himself into a killjoy by saying at Poughkeepsie, "Listen, Judd, we know all about you. We know you went to New York Saturday night for we found the stub of your Pullman ticket in your waste basket in the hotel at Syracuse." Thereupon Gray burst into tears, in a manner of speaking, and told the story of his life, including the murder, to a kindly stenographer who had accompanied the detectives.

ADMITTED IN EVIDENCE

The third blow to the defense came in the afternoon when the prosecution succeeded in getting Mrs. Snyder's written confession admitted as evidence.

It was not admitted without a struggle, however. I sat spellbound with the subtleties and intellectual twisting and turnings of Messrs. Hazleton and Wallace in trying to keep it out. They objected to everything; to the fact that Mrs. Snyder had not signed two pages of the original though she had signed the corresponding pages of the carbon copy; that there was a tiny "x" mark in pencil on one page; that the confession was involuntary; that it had been re drafted from an earlier and longer confession, but finally it was admitted.

These were the three great blows to the defense on Tuesday. Everything else can be disregarded, the testimony of store clerks and ticket sellers and what not.

The most amazing feature of the testimony is the bungling stupidity that it reveals on the part of the accused. It gives weight to the theory that all criminals are stupid.

CITY WILL CURB DOGS IN PARKS

Commissioners Incensed at Killing of Ducklings at Westlake

Angered by the loss of forty-one ducklings killed Monday night in Westlake Park by a vicious dog, the Board of Park Commissioners yesterday launched a campaign against all dogs permitted to run unleashed in public parks and playgrounds.

All dogs, licensed or unlicensed, running loose in any public park will be caught and taken to the city pound. Owners of dogs also will face damage suits, it was announced, in the event their animals injure public property.

New Attack on 'Old Line' Life Policies Made

MARSHALLTOWN (Iowa.) April 26. (AP)—An attempt to make "old-line" members of the Bankers' Life Company of Des Moines responsible for payment of death losses among assessment members was made in District Court here today when a group of certificate holders sought an amendment to a suit already pending.

An injunction now in force prevents the company from using certain funds for payment of any but death claims of assessment members and for contingent expenses. It makes it impossible for the company to lapse assessment members who offer to pay the 1926 rate.

It is expected that the company will file an application with the Supreme Court for a restraining order to prevent the injunction being enforced. Through its attorney, Charles S. Bradshaw, the company today sought to have the injunction modified, but this was refused by Judge B. F. Commings.

There are approximately 215,000 "old-line" members of the company living in all parts of the United States, holding insurance aggregating approximately $725,000,000.

Strike Murder Case Goes to Jury Today

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Members of the jury who will determine the fate of Gus Madsen and George Pesce for the asserted killing of MacIvan Campbell in a strike riot breathed an audible sigh of relief at adjournment this afternoon when it was announced that the case will be given to them tomorrow afternoon.

Attorney Nate Coghlan, who has argued for three court days in behalf of his clients, concluded his argument this afternoon. Dep. Dist. Atty. Skillin said he will have ample time tomorrow to present his final argument, so the case can be turned over before the end of the afternoon session. The case has now dragged along nearly a week beyond the time Superior Judge Conlan expected it to be concluded.

DAMAGES ASKED BY WIFE AND FATHER

VISALIA, April 26. (AP)—Two damage suits aggregating $42,810, were filed here today against Joe B. Mendes, former dairyman of this district. One suit was filed by Mendes's wife, Lena Anna Mendes and the other by his father-in-law, Antonio Rodgers. Mendes is a San Quentin prisoner.

The wife seeks $30,930 for a beating her husband administered last April after he had shot Rodgers in the face and hand. After the attack Mendes surrendered to the Sheriff, saying that he had paid Rodgers a sum of money for his daughter and that the latter returned to her father's home. He contended they plotted to victimize him of money. Rodgers sued for $21,820.

Mendes was sentenced to an indeterminate term in San Quentin.

NEW ROAD PROPOSED

Great Northern Asks Permit to Revise Oregon Plans

ST. PAUL (Minn.) April 26. (AP)—The Great Northern Railway has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to build a line from Bend to Klamath Falls in Oregon, in lieu of the previously proposed extension of the Oregon Trunk road.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, said here today that the Oregon Trunk, jointly owned by the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific roads, had withdrawn its request for permission to extend its line to Klamath Falls.

This withdrawal, it was learned, was prompted by the decision of the Southern Pacific opposing the Oregon Trunk extension in the belief that it would primarily benefit the Great Northern. The proposed construction would tap an important lumbering district.

BOY DISCOVERS GOLD

Rich Quartz Found Near Berkeley, But Not Much of It

BERKELEY, April 26. (Exclusive)—Robert Branstead, 12-year-old Boy Scout, picked up a piece of quartz in the Berkeley hills last week while qualifying in a mineral test for a Scout merit badge. Investigation disclosed it to bear a heavy gold content and when the word got around exploring parties found several more pieces.

Walter Bradley, deputy State Mineralogist, who tested the original find, said today the quartz is of high-grade and would allow several thousands of dollars to the ton if found in sufficient quantities. The only trouble with the new gold strike is that there isn't enough of it to be worth while.

The League of Catholic Women in Detroit is planning a campaign to raise $500,000 to clear the debt of the Catholic Activities Building, under construction in that city.

Mexico's President Pleased at Conciliatory Tone in United States Views

BY W. E. WOODWARD
Author of "Bunk"

MEXICO CITY, April 26. (Exclusive)—President Calles, asked tonight concerning his general attitude toward President Coolidge's statement on Mexican-American relations, made in New York Monday night, replied that it is "satisfactory."

"The attitude of President Coolidge, reflected by his words, as I have read them in the newspapers, appears to me to be serene and cordial, and I judge his tone to be conciliatory," Calles said. "I believe as President Coolidge does, that if there exists, as there does, a real desire to maintain cordial relations it will not only be possible but easy to reach an amicable agreement, and, making use of President Coolidge's own words, 'our two peoples must conduct themselves in such manner as will never injure our ties of friendship.'"

Concerning Coolidge's statement on the rights of Americans and the intentions of the United States to defend them when threatened, Calles said: "President Coolidge's thesis appears irreproachable."

"In his address he shows himself understanding, and we hope convinced, that Mexico does not propose ever to confiscate those rights," President Calles continued. "As I have taken care to express clearly whenever the opportunity has been granted me, the revolutionary policy as expressed in its laws has not had the spirit nor the purpose of confiscation."

President Coolidge's statement that he is convinced an amicable agreement can be reached with Mexico on existing issues has had an optimistic effect in all quarters here. His declaration that the United States has said its last word on the oil and land laws, coupled with a frank statement on this phase of his foreign policy, is accepted in many Mexican as well as foreign quarters as assurances that an agreement acceptable to both sides is at hand. Press dispatches from Washington lately seemed to pave the way for a favorable reception of the statement.

FRENCH NEWSPAPER COMMENTS ON SPEECH

PARIS, April 26. (AP)—Le Temps, first of the big French newspapers to comment on President Coolidge's foreign policy address in New York last night, admits the President's sincere desire for peace but expresses doubt whether the speech will have the effect of removing the "mistrust" with which his Latin-American policies are viewed in some circles, both in the United States and abroad.

Referring to the President's declaration that the action of the United States in Nicaragua might be compared to that of a policeman protecting a passer-by, the newspaper declares that the President's utterance "does not mark with precision the desirable distinction between the right of protecting lives and property of American citizens and the fact of intervention in force in the interior policy of a foreign power."

Le Temps says that there is an apparent difference in view on the part of President Coolidge between action toward China and that toward Nicaragua. This, the paper concludes, must be dissipated before the distrust with which some circles view the American foreign policy can be removed.

AGED INDIAN WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

SONORA (Cal.) April 26. (AP)—An aged Indian woman known only as Matilda, was burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed the cabin in which she lived alone just east of here. Her exact age is not known, but she was here when the first whites arrived and is known to have been at least 80 years of age.

SPORTS
The Los Angeles Times

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1927.

MRS. PRESSLER MARCHES TOWARD STATE TITLE

RUNNERS ARE GIVEN BREAK

Nobody Barred from Taking 3000-Mile Jaunt

Promoter Hangs Up $25,000 Plum for Winner

Experts to Make Quarter of Million on Venture

BY PAUL LOWRY

Urging all marathon promoters to back C. C. Pyle, the demon exploiter of the game athlete, broke out yesterday with a clone girdling announcement that he will stage a transcontinental foot race from Los Angeles to New York in February, 1928.

As entrants in this durability contest Pyle expects to interest long - distance runners from all over the world. He said he had already commissioned Hugo Quist, former mayor of Paavo Nurmi, the famous Finn, to scour Northern Europe for runners and the same thing will be done in Southern Europe.

From the continent the Tarahumara Indians from the Chihuahua Sierras of Northern Mexico, one of whom ran the 327-mile record from Mexico City to Lawrence only last year, will be among those present. Also the Indians from our own Southwest.

Money is barred. Pyle expects at least a million, and he figures it will take three months for the winner to finish the 3000-mile course. The race must be on hand one month before the race starts.

The prize for the victor will be a pot of gold amounting to $25,000 hung up by Pyle himself. Other contributions additional, a grand total of $25,000 to be furnished by the cities through which the runners pass. The sponsor also offer other prizes, starting with $5000 for second place money.

As outlined, he has been working on the scheme for two months and got the original idea from the story of an Arab who ran something like 3000 miles to carry a message during the Riff-French uprising last year.

NO PHILANTHROPIST

Not to be considered as a philanthropist in the matter Pyle stated that he figures the proposition should net him about a quarter of a million cash in the pocket.

He expects to sign the winner to long-term vaudeville contracts and do running exhibitions and he

ACE CLEARED IN NEW YORK

Wildcat Restored to Good Standing by Board

Morgan and Risko Back in Running in Gotham

Paulino Put on Blacklist in Empire State

NEW YORK, April 26.—At a meeting of the New York State Boxing Commission held here today, Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, was restored to good standing as were Ace Hudkins, Nebraska Wildcat, and Johnny Risko, the baker boy from Cleveland, Morgan had been suspended for scaling in over weight for a match with Phil McGraw. Hudkins got into bad standing with the commission when he got into a mix-up with the Nebraska Boxing Board over a bout with a former sparring partner.

HUDKINS TO LEAVE FOR GOTHAM FRIDAY

The "Wildcat of Nebraska" is going East. In order to pay off for the lifting of a suspension over his head in New York Ace Hudkins has promised to be a good boy and wage two battles within the sacred confines of Gotham.

He leaves Friday accompanied by his brother Art, Hudkins, and will fight, first, Al Mello at the Queensboro stadium May 31 and Sergt. Sammy Baker on an outdoor fight program at the Polo Grounds June 15.

Mello is the chap who recently knocked out Eddie Roberts in a round at Boston and is considered New England's best welterweight.

Clyde Hudkins, brother manager of Ace Hudkins, will not leave with Ace Hudkins, but will depart in time to take in the Joe Dundee-Pete Latzo battle for the welterweight title June 3. He said yesterday he will post a forfeit of $2500 with the New York Boxing Commission for Ace Hudkins to meet the winner.

PAULINO SUSPENDED BY NEW YORK COMMISSION

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, the woodchopping Spaniard, prominently mentioned as an opponent for Jack Dempsey in the former heavyweight champion's contemplated comeback fight, today was suspended by the commission upon the request of Massachusetts boxing officials.

Paulino's failure to fulfill an engagement with the New England heavyweight, Ed Keeley, on April 18, was the complaint resulting in today's action by the board. He will remain on the inactive list of the commission here until he makes a satisfactory settlement with Boston promoters who hold his contract.

At the same time two other figures of prominence in Tex Rickard's heavyweight picture made their peace with the commission by agreeing to fulfill contracts around which legal complications have developed. They were Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney of Boston, scheduled to meet at Yankee Stadium on May 19.

Maloney informed the commission he had agreed to fight Tom Heeney of Australia at the Massachusetts Club of Boston any time after the Sharkey match, while Sharkey announced he had made a similar arrangement with Chicago promoters to oppose Pat McCarthy.

Both Sharkey and Maloney entered into agreements for these matches prior to signing for their May 19 fight under the promotion of Tex Rickard.

PREPS CLASH IN SPECIAL RELAY TODAY

Breeding Down With Flu; Saint Star May Not Run Saturday

Here Are Three Preps Who Are Expected to Star Saturday

Frank Wykoff holds the present Southern California century record of 9.8s. with his team-mate Russ Slocum. Bill McGeagh set the present C.I.F. 880 record last season of 1m. 59s., and Fred Steiner is the Chaffey Union weight star. All three are expected to hang up new records in their favorite events.

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

A HEATED prologue to the Southern California prep championship track meet at the Coliseum Saturday will be staged this afternoon in Zach Farmer's oval when Hollywood, Los Angeles High and Santa Ana clash in a special four-man half-mile relay race to decide which two teams shall compete in the finals. The trio are scheduled to burn up the cinders at 3:15.

HAROLD BREEDING

Each school entered in the Southern California trials is permitted to enter one extra man, but relay teams were originally barred. Just preceding the trials last Saturday, the committee decided to allow relay quartets to be run in the place of an extra athlete. The three schools immediately took advantage of the ruling. There were only two extra lanes, however, so the committee further ruled that the three schools would have to run an extra relay and the slowest team drop out.

Hollywood fumbled the baton in the city meet, while Sellars Smith pulled a muscle in the first lap and the Romans failed to finish. Santa Ana lost out under even tougher circumstances in the Coast meet, Capt. Harvey Bear, star Saint 220 man, was so eager to beat Frank Wykoff of Glendale that he spilled his own man. Wykoff was traveling at a rapid pace himself, but managed successfully to get the baton off to Mainland without accident.

Coach Eddie Rich's Romans will in all probability be the trailing team, since both Hollywood and Santa Ana have made the best times this season. The

Willett Heads Committee on Stanford Question

Leaders Deplore Trouble at Palo Alto Saturday

Convinced That Action Was Not Premeditated

Hugh C. Willett, chairman of the faculty athletic committee of the University of Southern California, prepared the first official statement issued from Trojan headquarters last night regarding action to be taken on the recent editorial which appeared in the Stanford Daily, charging U.S.C. runners with "dirty tactics."

In giving the committee's findings to The Times, Willett was anxious to have it understood that all other reports were unauthentic with the exception of his statement. The action taken by the committee was stated in these words:

"The faculty athletic committee of the University of Southern California has investigated the incidence that occurred at the Stanford-Southern California track meet last Saturday and has addressed Stanford track representatives a letter deploring Mr. Hussey's interference with Mr. McKinnon in the one-mile run. The committee is convinced that Mr. Hussey's offense was not premeditated, and that he was not coached to use unfair methods; that the fact remains that rules were violated, and that Mr. Hussey was quite properly disqualified for his interference.

"It has been deemed best to withdraw Mr. Hussey from competition for the present, and use this occasion to impress upon all concerned that the University of Southern California will not tolerate unfair tactics, nor unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of any of its representatives."

San Francisco Star Beaten by 7 and 5 Score

Mrs. Harry Grossman and Mrs. Lifur Triumph

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26. (AP)—Matching the hazards and turns of the difficult San Francisco Golf Club course with one of the most brilliant golfing exhibitions ever seen here, Mrs. Harry Pressler of Los Angeles easily defeated Mrs. Robert Roos, San Francisco, 7 and 5, in the first round of the women's State championship today. At the same time, the Southern California star lowered the course record, already held by her, to 80.

MRS. HARRY PRESSLER

In the qualifying round yesterday, Mrs. Pressler medalled the eighteen holes in 86, a new mark for women here. She is a golfer of but two years' experience and her remarkable stroking is causing much comment by observers. On the long, par 5 ninth hole today she was on the green with a mashie shot and down in two putts for a birdie 4.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Mrs. Harry Pressler defeated Mrs. Robert Roos, 7 and 5.
Mrs. C. W. Fellows defeated Mrs. H. P. Braddock, 3 and 1.

TROJANS LEAVE TONIGHT

Fifteen hardy Trojan athletes leave tonight at 6 o'clock for Seattle, where they will attempt to garner first honors, a flock of medals and no small amount of prestige in the University of Washington Relay carnival at Seattle Saturday. Those who will go north with Coach Dean Cromwell are Captain Ed Hume, Charlie Borah, Herschel Smith, Mort Kaer, Joe Alekel, Yose Adams, Harold Lovejoy, Ed Gliege, Bryce Schurr, Willis Lewis, Percy Wallace, Charlie Sauers, Bruce Smith, Chesley Unruh and Jim Hussey.

SEALS MAKE DEBUT AT WRIGLEY FIELD AGAINST SHEIKS TODAY

BY BOB RAY

Nick Williams's San Francisco Seals make their local debut of the season at Wrigley Field this afternoon, when they face the returning Hollywood Stars in the first of seven games. The series gets under way a day late because the Stars had to make the jump from Seattle and the game lost yesterday will probably be made up Monday.

So far the Seals, who wound up in the cellar last year, have been playing good ball and are at present reposing in second place. Nick Williams's squad is overloaded with left-handed hitters and this, coupled with the fact that all of the Seals' games so far have been held in Recreation Park, where the right-field wall is convenient for port-side shooters to shoot at, probably has a lot to do with the San Francisco club's success in the opening month of play. How the athletes will per-

CINCINNATI, April 26. (Exclusive)—As an aftermath of his blow-up Monday afternoon, when he let a five-run lead escape him with only two innings to go, Tony Kaufmann of the Cub hurling staff, has been shipped to his Chicago home to await orders. He was handed transportation this morning after the team members had been called into conference for a lashing from Manager McCarthy.

ZORRILLA WINS DECISION

Pete Sarmiento Loses Verdict in Speedy Battle at Olympic; Carter and Shack Box Draw

BY KAY OWE

In a fast, spectacular fight between two little brown fellows—Pete Sarmiento from the Philippines and Santiago Zorilla from San Blas, Panama—Panama's breeze won in a flurry of gloves at the Olympic last night.

In winning from the Filipino Sangor, Bud Taylor and many other good boys of the Middle West and East and a victory over him is tantamount to national recognition.

It was really one of the best fights that has been staged in a local ring for some time. There wasn't a clinch throughout the entire ten rounds, and the only time Referee Harry Lee made an extra move was when Sarmiento glanced a low punch or two off Zorrilla's trunks.

Sarmiento went down fighting gloriously, and in spite of the fact

Lack of Mounts Forces Eric Pedley Out of International Polo

WESTERN STAR WILL NOT PLAY

Was Invited With Boeseke to Tryouts in East

Local Rider Was Substitute on Last Big Team

Eric Pedley, the greatest polo player ever developed on the Pacific Coast, and considered one of the best in the nation, will not try out for the international polo matches at Meadowbrook this summer. This sterling information comes through the Midwick Country Club, where Pedley is a member. An official of that club stated yesterday that young Pedley, who was considered almost a sure bet to make the American big four, will not make the trip to the tryouts because he feels that he is not well mounted enough to compete with the leading eastern candidates for the international matches.

ERIC PEDLEY

Pedley was substitute in the last matches and experts who watched the young westerner perform at the last international affair were certain that he would be a member of the team this year. Pedley and Elmer Boeseke, another Coast star, were both invited to play in the tryouts at the last meeting of the United States Polo Association. Boeseke, who hails from Santa Barbara, is also a member of the Midwick club. Boeseke will, however, go back for the tryouts as a representative of the Santa Barbara Polo Club.

With Pedley out, Los Angeles loses its chance to be represented in the big matches. Those close to young Pedley intimated that he would like to make a try for the honors this year, but he, they say, knows that his chances of making the grade would be slim with the inferior ponies he would have to use. Pedley when approached on the matter several days ago declared that it was very likely that he would not be able to go east to the games.

HARVARD CADET NINE WINS OVER VAN NUYS

Coming out from behind in the seventh inning the Harvard Cadets defeated the Van Nuys High School ball team, 3 to 2, yesterday afternoon on the Van Nuys field. "Scotty," Van Nuys second sacker, started the scoring when he hit the first ball for a single, scoring later in the seventh when the score was 2 to 1 in favor of the Van Nuys team. Griffin, Harvard second baseman, clouted out a triple to start a rally and scored on a single. Bernie Johnson scored the winning run. McCabe, Harvard twirler, deserves the credit for the win. OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

IT HARDLY seems possible that the now famous elbowing affair in the one-mile run at Stanford recently could develop into anything more than a teapot tempest, and yet there seems to be an awful lot of excitement over it. The editorial in the Stanford Daily attacking U.S.C., while it has apparently not led to any official action of any kind, has certainly provided a topic for a vast amount of argument at such places as the University Club. One result of the agitation has been the customary flood of letters that descends upon us whenever a thing of this kind takes place, and the funny part of it is that half a dozen Stanford students and alumni have all written in, greatly deploring the outburst on the part of the editor and trusting that everything will calm down.

One says: "I am a Stanford man, but that doesn't keep me from voicing the opinion and criticism of myself and many more toward the hair-brained college editor who went on a journalistic rampage. Secondly, any reasonable man knows that athletes in the heat of competition are apt to lose their heads. Thirdly, anyone knows that no coach is going to advocate grossly unfair methods, and obviously not when they can be so easily detected. If anyone, U.S.C. or Stanford, is bent on digging up the hatchet that was buried several years ago, let him dig it up and use it on the next bird who wants to foment trouble by barking 'unfair tactics.'"

Our own guess is that the whole business will blow over in a few days without further excitement although there is no telling what will happen between these touchy collegians. It looks to us as though the only action called for might be a good swift kick in the seat of the pants of the young man who caused all the trouble, same to be applied by someone in authority at U.S.C. If the kid did it in a mistaken sense of loyalty to his college he ought to be swatted for his bad judgment, and if he did it because he thought he had received a personal insult, he ought to be kicked for thinking more about his own pride than about winning a point or so for his school. Anyhow, most college boys would be better off for a good kick on general principles.

The sooner the schools quit hurling charges at one another and begin to develop a little time-honored rivalry that is free from manifestations of bad feeling, the better everybody will like it. The sporting public is not interested in brawls between institutions of learning and there is just as bad a spirit shown by rah-rah editors who lose their tempers as by athletes who do the same. In fact, more so, because the athlete's misstep is made in the heat of competition, while the editor who goes off half-cocked has no such excuse.

Hasty Hurls Oaks to Win Over Solons

OAKLAND, April 26. (AP)—Bob Hasty turned in a 4-to-2 victory for the Oaks here this afternoon in the opening game of the series from the league-leading Sacramento Senators. Hasty was given brilliant support by his team-mates, Reese and Larry, a keystone combination, turning in several brilliant plays.

Sacramento's second-base combination of French and Monroe turned in three double plays.

Laurence Vinci was lifted from the box in the third inning when the Oaks were hitting him freely. He retired with a three-run lead against his team. The score:

SACRAMENTO	AB	R	H	O	A	E	OAKLAND	AB	R	H	O	A	E

With a Southern Conference championship as their reward, the University of California at Los Angeles golf team tackles the club-swingers from Whittier College Thursday at the Rio Hondo course.

DRAAK TRADES HOLDS TONIGHT

European Grappler Meets Lutze at Olympic

Miller and Reuben Clash for Two-Hour Battle

Hanson to Tackle Demetral in Heavy Bout

Tommy Draak will clash with Nick Lutze, the husky youngster, in the two-hour main feature at the Olympic Auditorium tonight.

Walter Miller

Lutze has trained harder for his bout than for any in which he has appeared here. He does not underrate the "Flying Dutchman" because of the mediocre showing the latter made here a few weeks ago. Draak is twenty pounds heavier and more experienced than Lutze. He is also as strong and fast as the youngster, and possesses a great assortment of holds, three of which he expects to use to beat Lutze. They are the hip lock, wrist lock and head scissors.

Against these Lutze will pit his famous jack-knife scissors, the hold which gained him a fall over Joe Stecher here last month, and the reverse head lock, another back-plastering grip. He is just as proficient with them as Draak is with any he may show.

Walter Miller, the wrestling instructor of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who is making his first appearance in some time outside of the club, will tackle Ben Reuben of Chicago in the other two-hour battle. Miller will throw a whole barrage of lock holds at the Chicago grappler, and he expects Reuben will have considerable trouble in throwing them off.

Reuben, who is the Hebrew wrestling champion, is just as experienced a matman as Miller. He has twice been the world's middleweight champion, a title which he held for a total of four years. He lost his title to Johnny Meyers, present middleweight king. Daro is angling to get Meyers here, and he may offer a battle with the champion to the winner of tonight's bout. Meyers has already refused to meet Miller for the title here, while Reuben has received nothing but a string of refusals from the champion. He fears Reuben, as the Hebrew champion had been out of the ring for two years when he lost to Meyers.

Miller had one battle with Meyers and lost out on a chance to break even when the bout ended a couple of minutes too soon for him. He had Meyers's shoulders almost touching the mat for the tying fall when the gong rang. Miller was sick that night, otherwise he believes he would have defeated Meyers.

Two of the fastest heavyweights in the game today will clash in the second star bout on the program. They are Charley Hanson, known as the wrestler with a thousand-and-oneholds, and Bill Demetral, the Greek Demon.

PREPS CLASH IN SPECIAL RELAY

Saints have a speedy quartet and may nose out the Foothillers, who finished second to Glendale last Saturday in record time. It will be a real race in the last lap when Allan Kelly of Hollywood, Frank Bombardi of Los Angeles High, and Harvey Beer of Santa Ana romp the final 220 yards. Hollywood should be out in front at that stage, since the Crimson team has the better balance throughout, but Kelly is slower than his two opponents.

In the meantime, Glendale is still riding a wave of popularity which favors the Dynamiters to win the championship. While there is a weak possibility that the Glendale athletes are being over rated, it will take a load of hard luck and breaks to shove any other team to the fore at the present time. There will be plenty of battling for second and third places, however, with Pasadena, Polytechnic and Huntington Park more or less favored to finish in that order.

BREEDING SICK WITH FLU

SANTA ANA, April 26.—Santa Ana High School's forlorn hope of finishing among the first three in the Southern California interscholastic track and field meet finals at the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday afternoon staggered today from the impact of the most severe blow it has taken all season.

Harold Breeding, the school's crack distance negotiator and the outstanding miler in Santa Ana athletic history, was confined to bed with an attack of flu and it was problematical whether he would be in shape to toe the starting line.

In his finest fettle, Breeding would have to run 4:30 or better to take the measure of this fine field and while there are few who disbelieve his ability to turn such a trick, an attack of flu is virtually certain to exact its toll and leave him terribly handicapped for a race which demands every ounce of strength.

OJAI TENNIS TOURNEY WILL START TOMORROW MORNING

SUMMERS GETS BACKING OFFER FOR MATCH RACE WITH YOUNG

Byron Summers, Catalina Channel swimmer, who last Saturday and Sunday chopped three hours and ten minutes from George Young's record, yesterday announced that he had received several very flattering offers of backing to swim Young in match races.

One of these was from Armand Vincent, Canadian sportsman, who has offered to back him to the limit for two races against Young in Canada.

Summers said he appreciated the offer, but that he preferred, because he is an American, to have American backing.

MAROONS PRACTICE TODAY

Take Final Workout for Game With Pittsburgh Puck Team at Winter Garden Tomorrow

Promising that the Maroons will sound taps over the Pittsburg Pirates in the final game of the post-season schedule between major league stars and the California League clubs at the Winter Garden tomorrow night, Kennie McKenzie, leader of the Maroons, will gather his men for their final practice session this afternoon.

Los Angeles hockey fans are jubilant over the victory scored by the Richfields in their game against the Pirates on Monday night. For the two California league outfits to win over the Pirates and Black Hawks in two games and hold the opposing teams to close scores in the other games, came as a pleasant surprise to those loyal followers of the home boys, who are just awakening to the fact that the Richfields and Maroons are very near the top of the hockey-playing profession.

The offer of Charles C. Pyle to retain, in the event of their winning tomorrow, the Maroons intact for their entrance of a Los Angeles team in the new California League next November when the promoter will introduce a second major league to the Coast, will act as a powerful stimulant to aid the McKenzie clan in winning from the players on the smoky village. While several of the Maroons have played big league hockey, there are others who are ambitious to be classed with the stars from the Canadian and eastern United States teams. The singing of the swan song of the hockey season is scheduled for tomorrow night.

A feature of the evening will be the presentation by Red Grange of his trophy for the fastest skating player.

A rumor to the effect that several members of the Maroons and Richfield teams had agreed to join western teams next season was spiked by Pyle, who declared that he holds contracts for the next twelve months with every player now playing in the California League.

TROJAN NET AND PUCK TEAMS GIVEN LETTERS

Varsity minor sport awards for the ice hockey and tennis teams and numerals for the freshman baseball squads were voted at the recent meeting of the U.S.C. general athletic committee.

Morley Drury added another Cardinal and Gold award to his array of trophies when he was awarded a letter for his work on the ice hockey team. Other puck chasers to get letters were Francis Tappan, Armand Crier, Roland Bienvienu, Capt. Howard Elliott, Jash Cohen and Joe Woodard.

Tennis letters went to Bob Bagley, Kenny Faulkner, Francis Hardy, Capt. Everett Miller, Theron Wilson and Manager Tom Woods.

FEATHERWEIGHTS ON ORANGE BELT PROGRAM

Baby Sal Soria and Joe Rickey, two fast featherweights, feature the Orange Belt Athletic Club boxing card at San Bernardino tomorrow night. The two little fellows will collide in an eight-round bout. They will be preceded by a six-round affair between Checkie Herman and Joe Garcia, two 116-pound boys. In a special event Eagle Thomas meets Pee-Wee Nolan. These boys will weigh in at 118 pounds. There are two other bouts on the card, Raymond Regelado tackles Joe Branigan in a four-round go at 160 pounds, and Mickey Smith faces Santiago Garcia over the same limit in the opening bout.

MOVIE STARS WILL APPEAR AT BANNING

Lefty Flynn, Viola Dana, Shirley Mason and a number of other Hollywood movie stars have agreed to appear at the Banning American Legion auto races, May 30, Memorial Day.

Flynn a former all-American football star at Yale, will wave the red flag to start the drivers on their way in the annual championships and will present the winner with the "Lefty" Flynn Trophy, emblematic of the world's championship, immediately after the event.

NORTHWEST CINDER ARTISTS TO PERFORM IN LOCAL MEET

Assurance that the Pacific Northwest would be represented in the Pacific Coast Intercollegiates in the Coliseum June 3 and 4, was received yesterday by Gwynn Wilson, U.S.C. graduate manager. The Trojans are acting as the host institution in the big meet.

Jack Benefiel, general manager of the University of Oregon has informed Wilson that every athlete who finishes first or second in the Pacific Northwest championships at Corvallis, May 27 and 28, will be shipped to Los Angeles to compete in the far-western title affair. In addition, any and all athletes who were considered as likely winners, but failed to do their best because of a temporary illness, fouling, ill luck or the like, will be included in the trip.

Eighteen colleges and universities already have entered the big Coliseum meet, according to "Tex" Carle, publicity dispenser for the local institution of higher learning. The I. C. 4A. has a membership of thirty-nine universities. Twenty-eight of these schools performed last year, nineteen of them placing men for points.

O'DOWD RULES FAVORITE

Midget Mike O'Dowd has been made the favorite in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night, "Bad News" Bobby Eber isn't going to bring any bad news to O'Dowd, who is rated today about the best bantamweight fighter in California.

Georgie Rivers will in all probability fight the winner and as Rivers has had a good long rest, he is about ready to start training for a fight. Rivers has fought Eber twice, but has never met O'Dowd.

There is a heavy sale for this fight. O'Dowd has won a home at Hollywood. He beat Young Nationalista in one of the best fights ever seen at the stadium.

Fight fans like sockers and for a little fellow O'Dowd carries a big sock.

The other fight on the card that looms up like a thriller is the semi-wind-up featuring Billy Harms and John Patrick Dougherty. Harms has had only one fight at the Legion. He beat Mike Hector. Dougherty looks like a comer and is the favorite to beat Harms.

HUERTA EVANS LOSES IN EAST

Los Angeles Athletic Club Boxer Drops Verdict

Local Amateurs Vanquished in A.A.U. Tournament

BOSTON (Mass.) April 26.—Los Angeles' big hope in the amateur boxing championships faded in the semifinals here tonight when Huerta Evans, the sole survivor from the preliminaries was defeated by Thomas Paul of Buffalo. Shortly after winning his decision over Evans it was Paul who won the national title in the 118-pound class.

Huerta made a gallant fight in the closing round but had been too far outpointed in the first two frames. Paul scored heavily especially in the first round, with hard left and right jabs. Evans was showing signs of trouble when the round ended. The rest did him good and he landed several punches in the second, mostly to the body, but Paul also was landing his blows.

In the final round Evans pushed Paul to the ropes and punished him with short jabs to the body. Before the final gong, however, Paul scored a number of rights and lefts to the West Coaster's head—enough to win the decision and put Los Angeles out of the running for any of the titles.

In the 125-pound class Mike Watters had been disposed of due to a foul in the second session of his contest with George Smith of New York.

Martin Malone, in the 160 pound class, also fell by the wayside in the second round of the bout. He was knocked out in the second by Joseph Hanlon of New York.

112-pound, Harry Liebenson, New York.

118-pound, John Haggerty, Pittsburgh.

126-pound, Chris Batalino, Hartford.

147-pound, Tommy Lown, New York.

178-pound, George Hoffman, New York.

Heavyweight, Milo Mallorn, San Francisco.

ZORRILLA WINS OLYMPIC SCRAP

that he was worn out by Santiago's fast pace and his incessant pasting he battled furiously to grab the tenth round.

But the margin was against Sarmiento. With the tenth tucked away he won only three rounds. The remainder went to Zorrilla.

EARLY START

Sarmiento went in front with the opening of the first round, but Zorrilla took the second, third and fourth.

In an effort to gain back some of his lost ground Sarmiento put everything he had from his shoe laces up into the fifth round. He won the session, but wore himself out doing it, and never won another round until the tenth.

Both boys fought much on the same style, but Zorilla hit oftener and was handed-hit because of his weaving and bobbing. He drew a big hand from the crowd when he pulled Sarmiento from under the ropes and marched him to the center of the ring in the second round.

ATTRACTIVE CARD

Zorilla should prove a big card against Joey Sangor when they battle at the Olympic two weeks hence, because of his showing last night. He is not a walloping hitter, but he can keep the air filled with gloves, and the half-time house of last night should be responsible for a lot more cash customers the next time he starts. It is seldom that a preliminary boy gets over as well in his first big main event as Zorilla did. He weighed 124 for the scrap, and Sarmiento 124.

In the semi-wind-up Sammy Shack and Benny "Kid" Carter battled six rounds to a draw; Benny Miller and Martin Donlan received the same kind of a verdict in their fracas: Manuel Vasques won over Reggie Kerr by a technical knockout in the first round, and Ramon Lugo defeated Frankie Thome in four rounds.

BILLY DOEG UNDER KNIFE AT BAY CITY

Billy Doeg, 14-year-old high-school net star, a member of the famous Doeg family of tennis fame, was reported to be doing nicely last night at Martins Hospital in Santa Monica where he was operated on at noon yesterday for acute appendicitis. Billy's brother, Johnny, is junior national tennis champion and his mother, Violet Sutton Doeg, was one of the greatest women net stars of her day. Billy was to have played in a set of matches between Santa Monica and Venice high schools yesterday. He is a freshman at Santa Monica High School.

LARGE CROWDS AT RAINBOW FISH CLUB

Leigh Garnsey, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, announces that the club was again invaded by a large crowd of fishermen last Saturday and Sunday. All overnight accommodations on Saturday night were taken.

Frank A. Camarillo and a party of eight anglers stayed for two days and caught many limits. Others who spent two days at the club were Elmer Lats and wife, N. L. Brinker and wife, H. F. Lucas and wife, Dr. E. H. Mathis and wife, P. J. Conant and wife.

COLLEGIANS TO PLAY HERE

REDLANDS, April 26.—The ball game between Redlands and La Verne College which was scheduled for Saturday is to be played on Friday afternoon at Los Angeles so that the college men will have an opportunity to attend the big track meet which is to be held in Los Angeles.

SEALS TACKLE HOLLYWOODERS

form where the right-field wall is not overly close is one of the things that will be at least partially proved this week.

Frank O'Doul, the ex-Star who has once again become one of the league's leading hitters since being washed up on the Seal rocks, will appear against his former mates this series and will no doubt, try to show up Bill Lane, who sold him to San Francisco. All ball players like to show up their former owners after they are traded or sold, but Lefty has another motive. Last year Lefty and Bill didn't get along concerning the outfielder's mode of training and, as a result, Lane suspended O'Doul once, slapped on a couple of fines and even went so far as to ask waivers on the Stars' only consistent .300 hitter. Naturally O'Doul would like to get a little revenge and make Lane look bad for selling him by doing as much damage with his bat as possible. However, the fans can't blame Lane for selling O'Doul, no matter how good a shouter Lefty is, because the outfielder was dissatisfied and certainly not doing his best work.

Aside from O'Doul, other new faces on the Seal roster this year are "Buckshot" May, a right-hand hurler from the Western League, who has been winning consistently; Carl Dittmar, shortstop secured from the Augusta club in the South Atlantic League on Ty Cobb's say-so, and Al Stokes, former Red Sox catcher. Dolph Camilli, the youngster who was given a chance at first base late last season, is now regularly holding down the initial sack, and more than making good, while Andy Vargas, who was farmed out last season, is back again helping Stokes and old Sam Agnew do the catching. Otherwise the squad is much the same.

Either Guy "Lefty" Williams or "Buckshot" May are expected to hurl for the Seals today, while Frank Shellenback or Phil Mulcahy will appear in line to chuck the opener for Hollywood.

At least Harry Williams's Coast League isn't the only loop having trouble with the umpires. You no doubt read about the American Association umpire who went down to a hotel and socked a tough ball player cold for not apologizing for some remarks made on the ball field. Harry ought to sign that guy to help along his campaign of protecting umpires. That baby can more than protect himself.

There is a campaign on to get the local club owners to start the games at Wrigley Field earlier than 2:45. That time was put over by Bill Lane last year when he figured that it would give the Hollywood fans more time to get to the ball park. However, the Hollywood fans don't appear to be very numerous or enthusiastic out at the ball yard, so there's no use delaying the start of the games any longer for roosters who don't show up. Lane certainly ought not to object to the earlier starting plan, which is desired by most of Los Angeles ball fans.

SWEDISH JAVELINS FOR TROJAN TEAM

Sixteen distinct and individual Swedish javelins will be turned over to Trojan spear-tossing artists at once, according to plans of the general athletic committee of U.S.C., which has voted a matter of $263 for the purchase of the sixteen spears and sixty-seven extra shafts. Jannes Anderson, Trojan coach and trainer, has imported the javelins from Sweden. It is planned to give every spear-tossing prospect an individual javelin for his own personal care and consumption.

JONES WALLOPED

CINCINNATI, April 26. (AP)—The Reds clouted their way through Jones in the sixth today to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 5, to make it two straight in the series.

Through the first half of the game the teams jockeyed for position and scored two runs each. The Cubs broke the tie in the sixth when Gonsales finished the day for Pitcher Luque with a long single with the bases full. It scored two runs. RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWER

QUITE obviously the Roland Locke who runs against "Hank" Russell and Jackson Scholz in the Penn relays next Friday and Saturday will be a different Roland Locke than the one who lost to Phil Barber at Berkeley two weeks ago. At that time Locke was beaten by the former California sprint star in the 100 in even time and in the 220 in 21 4-5s.

Now we read that in preparing for the Penn relays Locke stepped the furiong in 21 3-10s. on the Nebraska track Monday. That is about five yards faster than the time by which Barber led him to the tape, and Barber was winner by a yard. If you ask why Locke failed to show better form at Berkeley when he is holder of the world's record for the furiong at 20 5-10s., I can give you only one reason. It's the same reason that explains the failure of Pacific Coast runners, taking them as a whole, to run up to snuff in the East. Name your own poison.

Two of a kind: The ex-U.S.C. football captain who made a speech about strychnine-fed Stanford football teams and the Stanford editor who wrote about U.S.C.'s "dirty sportsmanship."

If it's tit for tat I hope that both of the children are satisfied. Somebody ought to give each an all-day sucker and tell 'em to get off in a corner and keep their traps shut. After the trouble experienced by influential men of this State in patching up the 1924 squabble between California, Stanford and U.S.C. it's a shame that incogitant kids are forever trying to rekindle the fire.

The scheduling of a two-game baseball series between Waseda and the Trojans this week-end recalls the last visit to Southern California made by representatives of this same Japanese university. It was twenty-two years ago, in the spring of 1905, that Waseda sent a team to play a series of games on the Coast.

One of these games was with Occidental and it was staged at old Fiesta Park, now occupied by automobile concerns, on a block bounded by Grand, Twelfth, Hope and Pico streets. Occidental won a fast contest, 6 to 5, from the little brown boys, with all of Japtown on hand to cheer on the Mikado's cohorts. I dare say that some of the Jap players of that team—Hashido, Kono, Hosakana, Oshikawa, Yamawaki, Obara, Izamatin, Shishchuci and Smyama—are very influential citizens in the land of the cherry bloom nowadays, as are also the Oxy heroes in their home towns—Thatcher, Bruce Merrill, Bill Bacon, Jimmy McKnight, Owen Bird, "Dutch" Roth, Beal, Howard Clever, Hagerman, Spaulding and "Cherry" Irwin.

BOSTON, April 26. (AP)—Ty Comm in a Philadelphia uniform was the whole show here today as Connie Mack's rehabilitated Athletics overcame a six-run Boston lead to down the Red Sox 9 to 8.

The Georgia Peach stole home, drove in two runs, scored twice himself and ended the game with a circus catch and double play, unassisted, racing in from the outer garden to catch Todt's low fly and double up Jacobson at first. The Athletics used twenty players.

LYONS IN FORM

CHICAGO, April 26. (AP)—Ted Lyons held Detroit to six hits today and the White Sox hammered a quartet of Tiger pitchers, easily defeating the visitors, 9 to 3. Hunnefield led the attack for Chicago with four hits, while Metzler, the Sox's new outfielder, collected three, including a double. Ward's fielding was a feature of the Sox defense.

Three detective squars—twenty-one picked men, all armed to the teeth—tore into the ball park at breakneck speed late today in response to a riot call just as the game ended. There wasn't any riot, just a gleeful celebration by Sox rooters.

An eighth-inning rally put the game on ice for the Angels, seven runs coming from three hits and five bases on balls off a trio of pitchers. Until that inning the Missions were leading, 4 to 3. The score:

The service that India Tires render is entirely out of proportion to their cost.

Operators of commercial fleets and busses who keep an accurate record of their tire mileage find that Indias continue to run long after they have delivered very satisfactory mileage.

If Indias can endure the acid test that bus and truck operators exact from their tires, passenger car owners can well rely on them.

And added to the service that Indias render is the painstaking care of your tires by Nelson & Price, Inc.

HUGHES SECOND IN CLUB AFFAIR

Great Field Starts Match Competition Today

Add Consolation Round to Invitation Program

BY BILL WISE

George Cornes, stroking his home layout in 71 yesterday, won the qualifying medal in the annual invitational tournament of the Lakeside Golf Club that drew a fine entry of more than 350 contestants, Monday and yesterday.

GEORGE CORNES.

Howard Hughes, slender Rancho youth, three under through the first three holes and out in 34, one under par, was unable to continue pacing Lakeside's immaculate golfing druggist—and the good-looking exponent of bitter pills—and sweet golf, slipped home with a par 3 on the tricky eighteenth to finish one stroke under Hughes, who required four strokes on the last hole.

George Bavin, deserting Wilshire for the afternoon, rounded the championship Lakeside layout in 75 while two fast-stepping juniors from his home club, Allen Moser and Norman Macneth, Jr., were chalking up 78s. E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong of Midwick, rated as one of the most dangerous players in the invitational affair, finished under wraps with a 78—one stroke more than the fine total collected by Capt. A. Bullock-Webster, northern amateur champ.

Bullock-Webster is playing very good golf, and Lakeside yesterday was made to order for the English star. Incidentally—Webster won the northern championship last year—and our up-State tee and greens cousins, tiring of watching all State laurels travel to this vicinity—adopted a ruling limiting contestants in the annual sectional affair to players residing in the northern part of the State.

Little Neal Burns, who has not yet learned the secret of carrying his own pencil in the qualifying play, chalked up his customary eight yesterday and the doubler so excited the popular celluloid celebrity, that he finished with an 83. A mass meeting in Eagle Rock last night threatened to dethrone Harry Westbrook, who scored an 84 yesterday. Westbrook will be given one more chance before being asked to build a tabernacle in some other suburb.

Nonqualifiers and players defeated in first-round matches today, will be eligible to play in Eddie Browne's special eighteen-hole consolation round, Friday afternoon. Entries are being received for the two-ball mixed-foursome affair that will conclude invitational week, Sunday.

Pyle Proposes Marathon Run

anticipates the raking in of huge dividends from the sale of footease, animal crackers, hair slick, roller skates and other by-products without the use of which the winner would have been unable to navigate from here to Barstow.

At first thought the proposed race sounds like a brainstorm. So did Will Wrigley's $25,000 Catalina Channel swim, which eventually developed into one of the greatest sporting events ever held in America.

If any man in the country can stage a 3000-mile race and get away with it successfully, Pyle should be able to do it. He's been charting the seas ever since he hooked up with "Red" Grange.

It is an event of far-reaching proportions. Nothing like it has ever been attempted before. And the plans for it, therefore, will have to be carefully worked out.

In this connection Pyle is leaving for San Francisco this weekend to clear up the ends of his California Hockey League situation. From there he goes straight East, following a one-day fishing excursion at his brother's ranch near Santa Rosa.

Then Pyle returns to the Coast to cover the course of the 3000-mile race by automobile, starting in July.

There will be no set schedule for the runners to follow. They can run when they want to and they rest when they feel like it. But each runners will have a judge or judges with him. These are to be supplied by the cities through which the entrants pass. One set of judges will conduct the runners so far, and then a new set will take up the duties.

INDIANS TO WIN

At this stage of the game Pyle is pinning his faith on the Tarahumara Indians as logical winners. He says they defy all established athletic creeds by fasting before races, and for nourishment while running eat corn dust which they mix with water. It was Jose Torres, a Tarahumara, who won the Lawrence-Kansas City race last week by running fifty-one miles in six hours forty-six minutes and forty-one seconds, over an hour faster than the distance had ever been covered before.

Pyle confidently states his 3000-mile race will transcend in world-wide interest any of his other professional ventures, including "Red" Grange, Suzanne Lenglen, ice hockey, pro football, etc. The incomparable William Hickman Pickens has been named as the director extraordinary of exploitation.

Rickard Will See Dempsey's Trainer Soon

PREP BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

L. A. High and Hollywood to Meet in Feature

Manual Arts Tangles With Jefferson Nine

Lincoln, Polytechnic Clash on Tiger Field

With the track season advancing into the final stages, City League baseball is scheduled to get under way Friday afternoon with three games carded. Los Angeles High, for two years running city loop champions, play Coach Vic Kelley's Hollywood club in the feature tilt of the day. Manual Arts has a game lined up on the Jefferson diamond and Polytechnic travels over to Lincoln. Franklin draws a bye.

Despite the loss of Louis Almada, who hurled the Romans to a pair of titles, L. A. High is reported to have a strong outfit. Almada is now eating at the expense of the New York Giants, but Max Cherry, who pitched second-string baseball last season, has come along at a great pace to take his place. The Romans have a strong club and if Cherry comes through they have an excellent chance of winning a third consecutive title.

Coach Dave Fryer is nursing along a prospective championship squad at Jefferson. Not much is known of the Toiler team, but they are reported to have a well-balanced club.

Poly figures to finish well up in the standings this season. Coach "Cop" Mahoney has several veterans back from last year's title contending team, but could also use a couple of good chuckers. Coach "Rabbit" Mallette has another fair team coming up at Lincoln, and promises to make a good showing in the title race.

Franklin does not get in the going this week. Coach Vincent Lopez expects to make a first-class showing this season, as he has an entire veteran team back, with one or two exceptions. The Printers, however, have been hit by several accidents to star players, which may cut down their efficiency.

FUENTES ON CARD AT MAIN STREET

When Tony Fuentes fights Young Ford in the eight-round main event of the Main-street Athletic Club show Saturday night, he will try to show through pure ability and punching power that he is the outstandin heavyweight on the Pacific Coast. Chepney Miller, formerly of Chicago, and now one of the idols of Central avenue, and Charley Greenberg will travel six rounds or less in the semi-wind-up. Johnny Gonsales takes on Tommy Cleary in the six-round special event. The four-rounders are Kid Faye Macias vs. Avelino Arcinega, and Tony Gomez vs. Hugh Cowert.

JANESVILLE (Wis.) April 26. (AP)—Pete Bross, Great Falls, Mont., scored a technical knockout over Dave Ostrov of Duluth, Minn., in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night.

ICE TITLE UP TONIGHT

With the title hinging on this one game, Palais de Glace and Maple Leaf teams will meet in the final game of the amateur hockey league season tonight at the Palais de Glace. It will be the second of two play-off games, the first, staged last Saturday night, having ended at a 2-to-2 tie. The Palais won the first half and the Leafs the second half of the split season.

The game will also give the winner a majority of contests played during the season. Out of seven played to date, including last Saturday's, each team won two and three others were tied. In three of the four in which a decision was reached, the margin was but a single goal.

JACK DOYLE DENIES FEDERAL TAX SUIT

New officials of the Olympic Auditorium deny that they are being sued by the Collector of Internal Revenue for back admittance taxes. Jack Doyle recently secured a lease on the arena where weekly boxing contests are held and suit was brought against former lessees of the building, prior to Doyle's occupancy.

RADIO STATIONS FACING PENALTY

Commission Says 104 Fail to Obtain Permits

Many Delinquents to Quit; None of Them Large

Each Board Member to Rule on His Own District

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—Out of the 732 radio stations registered in the United States, 104 have failed to obtain temporary permits for continuing service, the Radio Commission found today, after a check on the status of the broadcasting situation.

Telegrams were sent to the operators of the 104 stations notifying them that if they continued service without obtaining some approval from the commission, they would be liable to criminal prosecution and a $5000 fine which the law provides.

Commissioner Bellows explained it was probable that very few of the 104 stations were likely to suffer penalties. A number of them are understood to have decided to abandon business. Others are believed to have applications in the mail. None of the omitted stations are rated as major stations and the commission indicated that every high-powered and long-established radio enterprise in the country had been given a wave length and the right to continue service.

Commissioner Bellows said each of the five commission members, in his own district, had undertaken the responsibility of changing the announced wave frequency and power assignment of stations where such changes seemed to be of advantage.

The commission decided to issue 120-day licenses to portable broadcasting stations, to operate during the spring and summer of 1927. These stations will be limited to 100 watts power and confined to two radio channels, the 1470 and 1490-kilocycle bands.

"STAGGER" SALES FOR WOMEN

Clothiers Would Break Habit of Peak Buying at Easter and in Fall

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive)—The New York coat and suit industry will attempt the formidable task of inducing her highness the American woman to "stagger" her clothing purchases. The present habit of peak buying just before Easter and in the fall means lean pickings for the industry in following weeks. It wants to avoid the economic strain imposed by the present uneven program of production and distribution. Under the leadership of Dr. Lindsay Rogers of Columbia University, recently appointed executive director of the industry, the first step was discussed last night.

WET STAND, NOT RELIGION, ISSUE

Publishers Point to Crux of Democratic Problem

Political Effect of Smith's Creed Minimized

Coolidge Reported Strong in Middle West

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive)—Political opinion gathered from newspaper publishers from widely scattered points in the country, in New York to attend the Associated Press and Newspaper Publishers' Association convention, tended to minimize the political effect of the Smith-Marshall letters on Catholicism and citizenship and to stress the view that Gov Smith's chief obstacle in any path to the Presidency is the prohibition sentiment of the West.

Publishers who were strong in their declaration of dry strength in the territories from which they came coupled their statements with the observation that political dry sentiment and practical, social dry sentiment are two very different things. Socially, most of them remarked, the driest political stretches were very moist, though in some sections "good liquor" was hard to obtain.

PROSPERITY GENERAL

The newspaper men reported prosperity generally, though it was spotty in some sections, and for the most part looked upon President Coolidge as maintaining his political strength. Some indicated a belief that he will be unable to win the Presidency again in 1928, no matter who runs against him.

The publishers' opinion on politics and business follow in part:

J. L. Miller, Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette: "President Coolidge is not strong in Iowa, except among the business men. Business is better. But the farmers have not been having good times, largely because they have been using their automobiles too much and not working enough. Those who have worked and diversified their crops have made money. There is a great deal of Lowden strength in Iowa. There is not much sentiment for Smith as Iowa politically is dry. I do not think the religious question cuts much figure in the situation."

LOWDEN POPULAR

E. A. Odell of the Monroe Times, Monroe, Wis.: "I doubt if Gov. Smith could carry Wisconsin though Wisconsin has some wet spots. Wisconsin is prosperous. Coolidge is popular. There is a strong sentiment in the State for Gov. Lowden if Coolidge does not run. The La Follette machine is split badly and there are many cross-currents which might affect the voters."

Benjamin H. Anthony, the New Bedford Standard and Mercury, New Bedford, Mass.: "I believe Massachusetts would stand by her own man for the Presidency. In spite of what you hear, the textile industry is getting better."

Charles O. Heron, Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald-Journal: "Gov. Smith's statement in answer to Mr. Marshall is admirable. It is all that could be desired. The religious issue should not be injected into politics. The principal drawback to Smith in the South is the atmosphere surrounding northern Democratic candidates. We don't even speak the same language."

ANY DEMOCRAT

D. H. Conkling, the Palm Beach Post: "Any Democrat will carry Florida. There is, to be sure, a small Ku Klux element in some sections, but I think the Ku Klux is on the wane politically and amounts to little."

R. F. Forgey, the Ashland (Ky.) Independent: "Mr. Coolidge is very strong in Kentucky, particularly since his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. Business is good and getting better. Gov. Smith is admired but there is no question that among the women religion is a strong factor."

W. E. Gonzales, the Columbia (S. C.) State: "Whenever Gov. Smith speaks the country is disposed to believe him sincere in what he says. His answer to Mr. Marshall is unanswerable. I can't say I find much sentiment for him in South Carolina."

Lewis R. Costello, general manager the Lewiston Daily Sun and Evening Journal, Lewiston, Me.: "I doubt if the exchange of letters between Gov. Smith and Mr. Marshall had much political effect. The Ku Klux in Maine has about died out. Maine is prosperous."

KANSAS FOR COOLIDGE

Ex-Gov. Wm. Y. Morgan of Kansas, the Hutchinson News and Herald: "There is not much Smith sentiment in Kansas. There is a great deal of Coolidge strength. We like Coolidge's thrift and economy measures, and he grew in strength by his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. Aside from the President, either Mr. Hoover or Mr. Longworth would be good Republican candidates in Kansas. I cannot say either Gov. Lowden or Gen. Dawes are strong there. I doubt if Gov. Smith could get support of the Democrats in Missouri and Oklahoma. The religious issue might be a factor, but that cuts both ways. The dry issue is far more important."

Tom C. Gooch, Dallas (Tex.) Times-Herald: "People in Texas don't vote against Catholics. Lots of Catholics are elected there to public office. But Gov. Smith will have to cope with a tremendous dry sentiment, politically. But if Gov. Smith gets the nomination I have no doubt he will get the support of Texas."

Ex-Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas, the Wichita Daily Beacon: "The people of the United States are more interested now in whether Gov. Smith will get the Democratic Presidential nomination than in any other question."

BOLIVIAN DECLINES DUELLING BY PROXY

LA PAZ (Bolivia) April 26. (Exclusive)—After President Hernando Siles had suggested that his brother, Genaro, should represent him in the duel with Dr. Carlos Calvo, Bolivian lawyer, widely known in the United States, the lawyer refused to agree to the substitution of another for the encounter and the seconds called it off. They declared the incident was an accident, agreeing that Dr. Calvo's action in remaining with his back turned toward the President when he entered the reception for a prominent banker did not constitute disrespect and was not intentional.

MOVE IN AFRICA ALARMS BRITISH

Hundreds of Germans Return to Tanganyika

English Fear Propaganda Agents Active

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, April 26. (Exclusive)—The return of more than 400 Germans to Tangsnyika and the former German African colonies is being viewed with alarm and anxiety by the English settlers, who charge that the Germans are establishing a large propaganda service, according to reports reaching London.

The situation is regarded as so serious by the settlers and English traders that representations have been made to the Colonial Office asking that immediate steps be taken to counteract the propaganda.

When England acquired possession of the German colonies after the war, the influx of Germans stopped temporarily, but recently they have been allowed to enter their former colonies for trade and the suspicion is growing that those entering are all German agents against Great Britain.

One form of anti-British activity is reported to be the payment by Germany of reparation money to the native soldier levees who fought for Germany in the war. This is said to be stirring up trouble against the British.

German trading companies under British names also are reported to be sending out false political and commercial information. British traders in Tanganyika declare that the so-called "American News" of Hamburg consistently misrepresents the British policy in the former German colonies.

In addition to the 400 Germans now in Tanganyika it is reported that many more are coming.

BRITISH CRY FOR MORE JAZZ

American Films Also Attract Pence and Shillings While "Highbrow" Spectacles Fail to Pay

LONDON, April 26. (AP)—Showmen seem to be without honor in certain English circles. But in spite of the hue and cry against jazz and foreign films, young England is supporting them with the shillings. British "highbrows" are clamoring for more art in the theater, the cinema, the concert hall and Covent Garden opera, and denouncing the men who have made amusement enterprises a financial success.

Lord Newton declared in a parliamentary speech that Charles B. Cochran, who accepted the management of Albert Hall when the directors found it a white elephant, is a sort of "British Barnum."

The public refused to attend formal concerts in the hall. Cochran is planning to have Suzanne Lenglen play there this summer. "The Miracle" is to be produced and there are plans for spectacular productions of opera in the great hall.

GIVEN SUPPORT

But all these plans have interfered with arranging dates for the Royal Choral Society, and this musical organization has rallied Lord Newton, the Duke of Atholl and others to its support.

Queen's Hall is also the storm center for a similar row. Sir Henry Wood's Orchestra has been unable to continue its promenade concerts there because of lack of financial support, and it is rumored that this historic concert hall is to become a cinema.

Covent Garden is planning its usual opera season this year, but meantime the historic house is used as a popular dance hall nightly and the directors say it will be impossible to keep up the opera season unless some millionaire comes to its support.

ROW OVER RADIO

The British Broadcasting Corporation has run ahsam Charles Gulliver and other music hall managers who refuse to permit the artists who work for them to go on the air. The public wants professional variety performers on the wireless and refuses to be satisfied with the "talented amateurs" who volunteer for the government-controlled programs.

Variety managers say the government programs are conducted in such a manner that they interfere with their business, but have offered to broadcast programs of their own if the government monopoly of broadcasting is abandoned.

SEAT HOLDERS BALK ON SEEING "MIRACLE"

LONDON, April 26. (Exclusive)—Thirteen hundred straight-laced perpetual free seat holders in the distinguished Albert Hall may cramp the style of the irrepressible Morris Gest's plans for staging "The Miracle," according to an announcement by the impresario.

"Without the revenue from those 3200 seats we face a staggering deficit," ruefully declared Gest, "since the remaining 3100 seats are not enough to insure a reasonable box-office return."

Many of these seatholders feel that the production of "The Miracle," however successful in America, would violate the traditions of the famous hall.

Gest, however, is partial to Albert Hall, claiming it is most suitable for the elaborate spectacle, but he admits he will dig up a second choice if the seatholders are obdurate and will produce "The Miracle" in London next year in a tent, if necessary.

PRESIDENT QUIZZED ON NEW TERM

Editor of Forum Declares Coolidge Unfair in Long Silence on Subject

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—A letter asking President Coolidge whether he would be a candidate for re-election reached the doorstep of the Chief Executive today.

It was sent by Henry Goddard Leach of New York, editor of the Forum, and was presented to Edward T. Clark, personal secretary to the President, by Edward C. Aswell, private secretary of Leach.

What disposition would be made of the correspondence was not disclosed by Clark.

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—John Bakeless, managing editor of "The Forum" today made public the contents of the letter sent to President Coolidge regarding the subject of his re-election.

Bakeless said the letter emphasized that American tradition was against a third term; pointed out that the President's silence had already "led to suspicion that he is willing to accept another nomination" and declared that "it is not fair to delay a positive statement too long."

Cholera Sweeps Bengal in India; 15,000 Victims

CALCUTTA, April 26. (Exclusive)—The cholera epidemic in the Bengal districts in three months has caused 15,000 deaths. Last week fifty deaths were recorded at Calcutta, where the epidemic is not even severe at present.

Unless there are heavy rains in the cholera affected districts of Bengal, the Public Health Department estimates the probability that the 10,000 deaths from cholera expected this month will be greatly exceeded. There have been instances of a dozen deaths in a single family and others where whole hamlets have been wiped out.

BID MADE FOR SHOWS

American Firm Probably Will Get Film Theaters in India

CALCUTTA (India) April 26. (Exclusive)—The Madan Company, the largest cinema owners in India, has been offered $2,500,000 by an American syndicate for its chain of ninety theaters in India, Burma and Ceylon, which is $250,000 above the rival offer of a British syndicate. Despite the fact that many see an American attempt to control the Indian and Far Eastern markets, it is believed the offer will be accepted. The European community here has requested a special governmental censorship of the films for the theaters patronized by Europeans, alleging the native moral standards are so different that they permit films injurious to the whites' morals.

OPPOSITION TO CHICAGO FAIR GROWS

Many Factors Exclusive of Financial Animate Foes of Exposition

CHICAGO, April 26. (Exclusive)—Opposition of formidable and growing proportions is appearing against the plan to hold a Chicago centennial exposition in 1930. Business interests which would be called upon to bear the heavy expense are leading in the hostility with the result that the entire project may be abandoned. Among the reasons advanced, aside from the heavy expense may be noted:

Chicago put on the one and only great world's fair. Let it go at that.

There has been a long string of failures as a result of other cities trying to emulate the Columbian Exposition of 1893.

The last of this series, the Sesquicentennial recently closed in Philadelphia, was the worst failure of all its successors.

Times and conditions have changed since 1893. People travel more. They are better informed. An exposition has lost its drawing power.

Expositions of this character invariably leave behind a mass of human flotsam and jetsam as a lasting burden upon the city.

Former Mayor Dever was enthusiastic over the plan to put on the Centennial Exposition and appointed a committee to develop the project. However, his successor, Mayor Thompson, is said to be cold toward the plan for the reasons given above and he and his associates are reluctant to back the proposition. In view of the general attitude it is believed the committee will find the pledging of funds a difficult matter and the project may die quietly.

Actress Freed from Charge of Defaming Vilma

BUDAPEST (Hungary) April 26. (AP) Sari Fedak, Hungarian actress, has been acquitted by the Budapest court of the charge of defaming Vilma Banky, Hollywood film actress. It was asserted that Mme. Fedak, in an interview appearing in a Budapest newspaper, described Mlle. Banky in very unflattering terms.

Mme. Fedak denied having uttered the words attributed to her, saying that she had never even seen the film star. The author of the "interview" admitted having gotten the defamatory passage from a third party and not from Mme. Fedak. Thereupon the judge discharged the defendant.

Mme. Fedak delighted the court by her replies to the judge's questions. When asked if she was living with her husband she exclaimed heartily: "Thank heaven, no." And she raised a smile by declaring that instead of being the possessor of an immense fortune she owned only what she stood up in.

Pasadena Will Be Benefited by Weller Bill

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—Senator Weller of Glendale today succeeded in getting a Senate bill through the Upper House for benefit of Pasadena within the final seven days of the session. By a three-fourths vote of the Senate, Senate Bill No. 740 to amend the Mattoon Act was given Senate passage and sent to the Assembly. This will permit improvement by widening of a part of the street instead of the whole street improvement proposed.

Senator Weller explained that Pasadena plans widening of Colorado street, one of its main business streets, and seeks to do so by sections. This amendment to the Mattoon Act would authorize this.

Death Claims Grubstaker of $36,000,000

SPOKANE (Wash.) April 26. (AP)—Jacob (Dutch Jake) Goetz, who helped to grubstake a man whose burro kicked over a rock and unearthed a $36,000,000 silver and lead mine, is dead, and Harry Baer, his partner, now is the only living member of an odd quartet which figured in one of the greatest mining ventures in the history of Idaho.

The partnership began forty-six years ago, when Goetz and Baer joined forces in their hunt for riches. Four years later they staked Nate Kellogg, partner of Phil O'Rourke. One day Kellogg, who happened to be using O'Rourke's burro in his prospecting, saw the animal kick and overturn a rock. A rich vein of silver and lead was revealed.

Since it was Partner O'Rourke's burro, O'Rourke was entitled to a share of the mine. Goetz and Baer, as grubstakers, also were entitled to shares. So the mine was split four ways.

WATER ACT APPROVED

Senate Passes Amendment

Measure to Curb Waste in Riparian Use Now Goes to People at Polls

Administration Leader Has Third Overwhelming Defeat on Floor

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—The Legislature today completed its voice of approval to a proposed constitutional amendment to declare a new water conservation policy of the State by limiting the old common law of riparian rights to apply only to reasonable and beneficial use of water. The Senate passed Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 27 without a dissenting vote. The measure now will go to a vote of the people.

Senator Herbert C. Jones, administration floor leader from San Jose, went down today to his third overwhelming defeat in the Senate when he attempted to amend the proposed constitutional amendment. It was, in fact, a two-fold defeat for his twice attempted amendment of the measure, the first amendment winning only seven votes besides his own, while twenty-seven Senators voted it down, and his second amendment getting only seven votes besides his own, while twenty-nine voted against him.

The measure as passed, an Assembly constitutional amendment proposed by Assemblymen Crittenden, Bernard, Adams and Mixter, is a radical change from the old water laws of the State. This is a subject which has been the most controversial in the State's history, and was declared by Gov. Young to embrace the most vital problem now confronting the State.

PREVENTS WASTE

The amendment seeks to prevent the waste of waters of the State by declaring "that because of the conditions prevailing in this State the general welfare requires that the water resources of the State be put to beneficial use to the fullest extent of which they are capable, and that the waste, unreasonable use or unreasonable method of use of water be prevented, and that the conservation of such waters is to be exercised with a view to the reasonable and beneficial use thereof in the interest of the people and for the public welfare."

It further provides:

"The right to water or to the use or flow of water in or from any natural stream or watercourse in this State shall be limited to such water as shall be reasonably required for the beneficial use to be served, and such right does not and shall not extend to the waste or unreasonable use or unreasonable method of use or unreasonable method of diversion of water.

RIGHTS PROTECTED

"Riparian rights in a stream or watercourse attach to, but to no more than, so much of the flow thereof as may be required or used consistently with this section for the purposes for which such lands are or may be made adaptable, in view of such reasonable and beneficial uses, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as depriving any riparian owner of the reasonable use of water of the stream to which his land is riparian under reasonable methods of diversion and use, or of depriving any appropriator of water to which he is lawfully entitled."

Speaker Levey Would Revise Assembly Rules

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—A revision of the Assembly rules of procedure to facilitate business and to save time and money for the State will be recommended at the close of this session by Speaker Levey.

While directing the business of the lower house during this session Speaker Levey has established a reputation for efficiency and precision.

"I have concluded," Levey said, "that many of our procedural rules are archaic and utterly superfluous. They have come down to us from the early days of the California Legislature without modification.

"For example, if it were not necessary to call the roll on every uncontested bill, it would save days of time. I intend to submit to the Rules Committee several amendments that will obviate the procedure and save considerable time."

Hydraulic Mine Bill Defeated by Committee

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—The Cloudman bill, proposing resumption of hydraulic mining in California was defeated in the Senate Committee on Finance this morning when it was laid on the table.

Considerable opposition was voiced to it by Sacramento Valley agricultural interests which set forth that resumption of hydraulic mining would ruin the agricultural industry of that section of the State.

Life Term for Taking 85 Cents and Sandwich

OAKLAND, April 26. (AP)—Walter J. Hunter, negro, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for stealing 85 cents and a roast pork sandwich.

The severe sentence was the result of three previous prison terms served by Hunter. Superior Judge Gray, pronouncing sentence, declared that the law gave no alternative.

POLICE DISTRICT BILL SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—The police district bill fathered by Assemblyman Reindollar of San Rafael was approved today by Gov. Young. The measure, Assembly Bill No. 544, authorizes any unincorporated city or town to equip and maintain a police department after a petition signed by fifty or more property owners and residents has been filed with the board of supervisors. The supervisors when approving the petition will appoint a commission of three to serve until their successors can be elected. The city or town also is authorized to raise taxes to support the department.

Reapportionment Measure to Smoke Out Farm Bloc

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (Exclusive)—The Colorado River Commission, created by the Young administration to promote the Swing-Johnson bill and to negotiate with the other lower basin States, will be strictly a business organization and not a political publicity agency, according to the amended bill introduced by Assemblyman Witter, which passed the Senate today.

The bill provides for the creation of a commission of three members who will receive pay and carries an appropriation of $25,000. The original bill permitted the commission to peddle "information, bulletins and reports." This clause aroused the ire of Assemblyman Sewell of Whittier, who warned the Assembly that the money of the taxpayers should not be used to further the political ambitions of Senator Hiram Johnson. The remarks of Mr. Sewell, Assemblyman Little of Santa Monica and Assemblyman Walters of San Diego evidently made a deep impression on Mr. Witter, for he had the publicity clause stricken out himself.

FARM BLOC'S DILEMMA

The farm bloc, which has had so much sport with Los Angeles recently, will be faced squarely with the question of standing by its announced policy in regard to reapportionment within the next few days when Assemblyman Little will offer as an amendment to the Congressional redistricting bill of Senator Boggs a clause providing an additional Representative for Los Angeles county. Los Angeles has but two of the State's eleven Representatives.

Due to the fact that the Assembly districts are changed, Senator Boggs's bill redistricts the Congressional lines accordingly. Assemblyman Baum of Los Angeles introduced early in the session a bill which would consolidate Congressional Districts One and Two in the sparsely settled northern counties to afford a third for Los Angeles. This bill never moved out of committee, despite the professed acquiescence of the farm bloc. These gentlemen protest that they believe in the Federal theory of representation; that is, the upper house on a basis of acreage and the lower house on a strictly population standard. Therefore they were forced to admit that Los Angeles should have another Representative, but they lost no flesh in pushing the bill.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE

They believed the Baum bill was dead until today, when Mr. Little, with the support of Mr. Baum, suddenly threw the entire Baum bill in as an amendment to the Boggs bill. There was quite a flurry and the matter was put over until the farm bloc could get together and think it over. When it is brought up and the bill placed on the floor they will be required to answer a roll call and announce their attitude toward consistency.

Purely as a courtesy to Senator Dan Murphy, labor union representative from San Francisco, the Senate today on resolution withdrew from committee the Assembly bill of McDonough, which would void a contract between employer and employee, where the latter agrees not to join a labor union.

Defeated in practically all their efforts to foist union-labor legislation on the people at this session, the union-labor lobby, headed by Paul Scharrenberg, Young appointee to the San Francisco Harbor Commission, has concentrated upon this bill in a last desperate attempt to take home to their organization something to show for the time and money they have expended in Sacramento. It has been a hard, lean session for the unions, and their lobbyists are apt to hear some mean words from their people, who expect some results for their money dues.

LOS ANGELES JUDGES

At a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee tonight, it is said, the Los Angeles judges bill of Senators McKinley and Pedrotti will be amended to provide for the creation of nine additional departments of Superior Court, making thirty-seven in all. The bill at present calls for five. Figures submitted by Kemper Campbell, president of the Los Angeles Bar Association, which will be used by Senator McKinley, show the desperate need of Los Angeles for more judges.

"In spite of the fact that Los Angeles judges are the most efficient in the State, and that they turn out more work than those of any other county, we are fifteen months behind in our calendar in Los Angeles," said Senator McKinley. "There are 139 superior judges in California, and twenty-eight in Los Angeles. The Judicial Council report shows that 41 per cent of the State Supreme Court filings originate in Los Angeles. This in spite of the great bulk of work taken over by the Municipal Courts.

INEQUITY SHOWN

"Los Angeles county's population, according to the State Controller's estimate, is 42 per cent of the State's, having increased 137 per cent since 1920. The county's percentage of the State's assessed valuation of property, excluding operative public utility property, is 44 per cent, an increase of 152 per cent since 1920. These figures are the State Controller's own.

"Yet, Los Angeles now has but 22 per cent of the State's Superior Judges. On the basis of the output of the Alameda county court, we should have forty-nine judges, San Diego output, fifty-one judges and San Bernardino output, sixty judges. However, due to the efficiency of the present Los Angeles court, we ask for only thirty-seven."

Assemblyman Murphy of Siskiyou county, who was quoted in The Times as saying that Los Angeles was as crooked as a loose woman's history and inimical to the welfare and development of the State during the debate last Thursday on a gas tax measure, stated today that he had been misquoted as to crookedness. He said he was referring to the roads in his county, not to the morality of Los Angeles. Los Angeles is still a detriment to California, he repeated today.

Habitual Crime Bill's Passage Gets Approval

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—A person who had been convicted of four felonies would have to spend the balance of his life in prison under a bill which was recommended for passage by the Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure today.

The measure is part of the program recommended by the Crime Commission after two years' study of revising the criminal procedure code to efficaciously cope with the recent crime wave.

Under the bill a person who has been convicted of three violent felonies would receive a minimum sentence of twelve years. On the fourth conviction of any felony he would be sentenced to prison for life, without parole.

VICTORY IN SENATE FOR BEACH BILL

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—Senator Mueller of San Diego won a move today in an effort to preserve the beaches for the public. He obtained sufficient votes on the floor of the Senate to pull the bill by Assemblyman Eddy of San Diego out of the Judiciary Committee, which had refused it passage.

The measure provides that in filing of maps for new subdivisions when such subdivisions front on the ocean that a highway or street must be provided along the highwater line to permit public access to the beaches forever. The measure was locked up in the Assembly committee and Assemblyman Eddy last week succeeded in getting consent of the lower house to pull it out of committee and then won passage through the lower house.

The same Southern California group of private property owners lobbied in the Senate committee and culled enough votes to hold the measure in the Judiciary Committee. Their efforts were defeated, however, by the House today withdrawing it from committee despite the negative votes from Southern California to hold it in committee.

Senator Lyon of Venice was the chief opponent to the measure, seeking to prevent it from being brought to the floor for a final vote.

WAR CONTINUES AT SAN DIEGO

Petitions Now Circulated to Oust Auditor

To be Submitted When New Council is Seated

Move Up to Combine Tax and Assessing Departments

SAN DIEGO, April 26.—Removal of Harris L. Moody as City Auditor and Assessor will be asked of the new Common Council when it convenes next Monday, it was announced today by James Hervey Johnson, who is circulating petitions praying the Council to take such action.

Johnson said the petition would be filed with the new Mayor, Harry C. Clark, and that he had been informed that Moody's removal could be effected by a vote of the Mayor and four Councilmen. Johnson said he had reason to believe that on the strength of the petition to be filed, that such a vote would be forthcoming.

Auditor Moody, when informed of such contemplated action, said he was no quitter and that he would stand "pat," that he has no intention of resigning and that if he can be removed before his term expires, it was news to him.

Johnson is a realty broker with extensive holdings at Pacific Beach, it is said. He also filed this morning with the City Clerk, initiative petitions to consolidate the city and county assessing and tax departments. The petitions, Johnson said, contain the names of 6000 qualified electors. Under the charter provision an initiative measure must contain the names of 15 per cent of the qualified electors voting at the last municipal election.

As this would require only 4280 names to the petition, Johnson's petitions are supposed to be sufficient to cause the Council to act. Under the charter the Council can either adopt the consolidation ordinance or submit its adoption to a vote of the people.

The incumbent Council holds its final meeting Friday, when it is expected the initiative petition will come before it. The present Council is expected to lay it over for action by the incoming Council next Monday.

Student Hurt While Swimming Loses Battle

BAKERSFIELD, April 26.—Death triumphed here today after a forty-hour battle, taking the life of Kenneth Dynes, 19-year-old Bakersfield high-school student, who Sunday evening was injured, when he struck his head on a pipe as he dove into an irrigation ditch near the intersection of Eighth and Q streets.

The lad, whose skull and neck vertebrae were fractured by the terrific impact as he plunged headlong against the iron pipe, was operated upon early this morning at the Emergency Hospital by a Fresno specialist. Shortly after, he regained complete consciousness for the first time, and remained in a conscious condition until just before death.

Dynes was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dynes of Sacramento and had been attending school here and living with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Young, 2018 Nineteenth street.

VALLEY GROWERS LOOK FOR BIG WALNUT CROP

GIRARD, April 26.—Recently compiled figures show that there are about 10,000 acres planted to walnuts in San Fernando Valley. Of this amount about 7500 acres are of sufficient age to yield some part of a crop. Last year in the western end of the valley about 1000 acres of the new walnut orchards contributed to the total valley harvest of 475,000 pounds. It is now estimated that another new 1000 acres will assist in swelling the total this season. Most of the best-quality walnuts are produced in sections north of here and in the vicinity of Owensmouth. Orchardists report trees blossoming in a manner indicative of a fine crop and plans already have started to battle the rampages of the codlin moth, which attacks walnuts as well as apples and pear trees. By early spraying growers state they expect this year to keep the moth entirely out of valley groves.

TRAPS PROPOSED FOR SPEEDERS ON WATER

NEWPORT BEACH, April 26.—Speed traps may be established on Newport Bay by Tom Jay, harbor master, who was last night instructed by City Trustees to arrest speeders on the bay and also to apprehend all persons driving boats on the bay which were not equipped with mufflers. The action of the City Trustees were taken after objections had been raised to the noise and dangerous speed made by racing outboard motor boats which, according to reports, daily speed up and down the bay.

A city ordinance prohibits boats traveling over a certain speed and also prohibits the operation of boats without mufflers in certain portions of the bay. The harbor master was ordered to enforce the city ordinance.

TRIBUTE TO BE PAID RECORD LEAVING DENIZENS

Bronze Tablet to Mark Rock Bearing Inscriptions by Early Inhabitants

Photographs of Ancient Markings

CORONA, April 26.—Plans are being completed here for the unveiling on May 4 under supervision of the history and landmarks committee of the Woman's Improvement Club of an Indian painted rock near the right of way of the Santa Fe branch line being constructed through Temescal Valley. The committee has raised funds to place a bronze tablet in tribute to the first inhabitants of this region who left a record.

The tablet will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on Founders' Day—the forty-first anniversary of the city's birthday—and R. B. Taylor of Los Angeles, one of the original founders, plans to attend the celebration.

Mrs. Chester Gould, chairman of the committee, discovered the existence of the rock some months ago, and learned that the road had planned to destroy it, but after a correspondence with high officials orders were given to set the rock in a cement base as near as possible to the place where it originally stood.

Archaeologists who have examined the stone declare they are of opinion that inscriptions on its face represent astronomical signs used by the secret priesthoods of all the Indian tribes which formerly inhabited this region. At the foot of the rock was found a large metate containing five holes which had evidently been used for community grinding.

The committee also discovered a carved rock cut with a black porphyry or obsidian found near by, and known as a petroglyph, whereas the painted rock is done with red ochre and is known as a pictograph. A San Luiseno Indian from Temecula asserts the inscription on the carved rock means that a chief died here. The rock is on the side of a canyon which forms a natural amphitheater.

On September, 1924, residents of the valley marked the site of the first home in Riverside county by a boulder placed where Leandro Serrano first lived. As soon as the Indian period is marked—the Spanish era having already been done—it is planned to mark the old station of the Butterfield stage route here.

Two Farmers Held in Killing of Watchman

FRESNO, April 26.—City Justice Church today held Alfred Di Dinato and George Martin, brothers-in-law and west side farmers, to answer in the Superior Court on charges of murder growing out of the fatal wounding on March 15, last, of Robert Foote, pumphouse watchman for the James Irrigation District.

Foote was shot when he accosted men who were believed to be about to steal pumping plant equipment, part of which had been taken the previous night, and which was recovered by Sheriff's deputies at the Di Dinato ranch.

VALLEY LITIGATION ENDED

Grand Jury Charges Against Imperial Irrigation Directors Dismissed by Superior Court

EL CENTRO, April 26.—Grand jury accusations against Directors Mark Rose, Ira Aten, Earl Pound and C. W. Brockman of the Imperial Irrigation District by two succeeding grand juries in 1924 and 1925, were dismissed by Superior Judge J. S. Larew on motion of Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald yesterday.

The dismissal of these cases, following a series of decisions of far-reaching importance that have been handed down by the State Supreme Court, clears away much of the litigation that has involved the district directors for the last three years.

On March 25, last, State Supreme Court Judge William S. Langdon confirmed the decision rendered by Superior Judge Burnell of Los Angeles over a year ago in which Burnell nullified the notorious Gerrymander resolution passed by the district directors in 1924.

Attorney Charles L. Childers, representing the district, applied for a rehearing. This application was at first denied, but was later reconsidered and granted. On the rehearing held early this week the Supreme Court reconsidered its previous ruling and reversed the Burnell decision.

The effect of this ruling was to validate the election of the five district directors now in office. Judge Larew in dismissing the grand-jury accusations yesterday pointed out that inasmuch as the directors involved had been re-elected to office since the alleged misconduct was committed, they are not subject to prosecution on charges committed in a previous term.

The case against the directors was further weakened by a decision rendered several months ago in which the right of the district directors to spend public funds for lobbying purposes was upheld. The expenditure of over $200,000 in efforts to secure favorable legislation on the Boulder Dam and all-American canal bill was the basis of the original charges brought by the grand jurors.

STREAMS SWELLED BY HEAT

Lower San Joaquin Run-Off Increased 300 Per Cent by Recent Warm Weather in Mountains

FRESNO, April 26.—Although excessively warm April weather during the past ten days has resulted in an increase of approximately 300 per cent in the run-off of streams of the lower San Joaquin Valley, no deficiency is expected in irrigation water supplies during the coming summer irrigation period, according to expressions here today by authorities on the water situation.

With temperature of a maximum of 95 deg. recently, the flow of the Kings and San Joaquin rivers has increased 7230 second feet and 8180 second feet at 7 a.m. today as compared with approximately 2200 second feet for each stream on the 14th inst.

Checks which have been made of the snow pack in the higher elevations of the Sierra and reported to the Weather Bureau here, show that there is between eleven and twelve feet of snow on the ground from an elevation of 8500 feet to 9300 feet, the latter at Kaiser Pass, while at 7500 feet, there is approximately eight feet on the ground.

The snow pack this year is approximately the same as that of 1921 and 1923 both as to density and depth, and much better than that of 1925, indicating a satisfactory run-off.

It is expected that the present increasing run-off of the rivers will be checked when the upper layer of snow is melted off and the pack reduced to the upper of two or more strata formed of the pack.

HENRY SLOCUM RUN DOWN

Veteran Pasadena Postman Struck by Automobile While on Duty Not Expected to Recover

PASADENA, April 26.—Henry C. Slocum, one of the oldest postmen in the city in point of service, is at the Pasadena Hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries which are expected to cause his death, as the result of an accident this morning in which he was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Jerre Wilson, 558 North Pasadena avenue, as he attempted to cross North Orange Grove avenue.

Pasadena Hospital attaches reported tonight that Slocum has only a bare chance for recovery and that it is very doubtful whether he will live through the night.

The veteran mail carrier was delivering his route when the accident occurred, and he was dragged about forty feet by the car. When he saw Miss Wilson's car approaching, instead of continuing across the street, he jumped back toward the curb and the car struck him squarely.

First reports indicated that Slocum had been struck by a hit-and-run driver. It developed later, however, that Miss Wilson went immediately into a house to telephone the Emergency Hospital, and then proceeded to the home of a friend near by, where she collapsed. As soon as she was revived, she reported the accident to the police. She was questioned and released.

Slocum was in the habit of walking with his eyes cast down and was somewhat deaf. He had narrowly escaped injury under similar circumstances before. He lived at 734 Elmira street, and had been employed by the Pasadena postoffice for twenty years.

Fullerton Host to Gathering of Catholic Women

FULLERTON, April 26. — Reconsecration to their ideals and renewed enthusiasm for their work "for home, for church and for State" was urged on the 800 women who assembled in Fullerton today for the quarterly meeting of the Council of Catholic Women, Diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, by Mgr. Cawley of Los Angeles, representing Rt. Rev. Bishop J. J. Cantwell, who was unable to be present. "I bring to you the bishop's greetings and a sincere expression of his commendation and affection," declared the monsignor. "Your coming here today indicates the interest you have taken in the affairs of this society. You women are doing a wonderful work, for home, for church and for State."

The visitors were welcomed to Fullerton by Mayor Crooks and by Ray B. Leach, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, as well as by Reverend Father Mortimer Murphy, pastor of St. Mary's Church here.

Man Bitten by Rattlesnake Kills Reptile

LA VERNE, April 26.—Leonard Wolf of La Verne is today recovering from a rattlesnake bite he received Saturday while he was plowing on a ranch in Live Oak Canyon. A large diamond rattler struck him between the knee and the ankle. Wolf slashed the leg in the region of the wound, made his way to a near-by cabin and was taken to a physician's office in this city.

Wolf killed the rattler before leaving the ranch for medical aid and is now proudly exhibiting six rattles and a button which were taken from the snake.

BEACH CITY RAISES LAUNDRY LICENSE FEE

NEWPORT BEACH, April 26.—The city license fee for laundries was last night raised from $15 per year to $200 per year by City Trustees. The raise of the license was ordered deferred one week until other businesses can be investigated. Recently a local laundry asked for an increase from $15 per year to $50 per month for the city license. Trustees held up the matter to investigate all other businesses and received a protest signed by 240 business men. It was reported last night that the increase in the laundry license was a protective measure for the laundrymen who remain here the year around. It also was suggested that a higher license be placed on vegetable hucksters, ice firms and cleaning establishments. A report is to be made to the Trustees of the matter next Monday night when the City Attorney will be instructed to draw an amendment to the city lience ordinance.

Work on the improvement project, one of the greatest ever undertaken in Kern mountain areas, will begin within fifteen days after the contract is signed. Bids on the improvement project were received from four contractors and opened at a meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Specifications call for 1640 cubic yards of refill and embankment work on G street between Curry and Green streets. The street will be raised ten inches higher than its present level, and the contractor will be required to move twenty-three electroliers to conform with street lines.

Concrete sidewalks totaling 70,620 square feet, 16,746 lineal feet of curbing and 6940 square feet of driveways are included in the project.

Blumberg, 23 years of age, of the Southern Hotel here, was bound over to the Superior Court when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Halsey I. Pence today. Blumberg's automobile ran down and perhaps fatally injured Joe Monita, 13, Atwood boy, who has been unconscious for forty-eight hours at the County Hospital. Blumberg was returned to the City Jail.

Cheap Gas is Increasing Auto Accident Rate

VAN NUYS, April 26.—Mike J. Lauer, who conducts one of the best-appointed gasoline stations here, today stated that the present cheapness of gasoline has increased his sales more than double. Other dealers make similar statements. "The commonsense thing to do is to keep gas cheap," Lauer said. "The cheaper the gas the more it is used; the more the autos run around wearing themselves out and wearing out the tires. The cheaper the gas is, the more it helps the entire auto business in general."

Local police say cheap gas also has increased traffic accidents in San Fernando Valley.

"Autos are naturally running around more," one officer said, "and the more they run the more likely they are to skid off the road or to collide with one another."

It is understood that some valley ranchers who have large tanks handy are making an effort to store gasoline against the time when it is sure again to rise suddenly to the old price around 19 or 20 cents.

MOTHER OF NINE SPARED JAIL TERM

VENTURA, April 26.—The fact that she has nine children, one of them only 5 months old, saved Mrs. Marie Ramirez of Santa Barbara a term in the County Jail, it was announced today by Judge Melvern Dimmick following Mrs. Ramirez's hearing on a charge of possessing five gallons of liquor. Mrs. Ramirez was arrested here Sunday by Sheriff's officers in a car with Frank Franco, also of Santa Barbara, when the officers found five gallons of liquor. They charged Mrs. Ramirez with possession and Franco with transportation of the liquor. When the two appeared for a hearing this morning, the judge fined Mrs. Ramirez $500 but suspended it on condition that she leave liquor alone in the future.

He fined Franco $200 and suspended half of it on the same condition.

BLACKMAIL IN LOVE KILLING

Battle Looms Over Alleged Threatening Letters in Bakersfield Triangle Death Trial

BAKERSFIELD, April 26.—Details of a blackmail plan will be advanced as the motive underlying the shooting of J. H. Cox at Taft Sunday night, according to intimations by Emmons & Aldrich, attorneys, who have already been retained to represent W. C. Allen, held for the slaying, along with his wife, who is retained as a material witness.

Battle over the possession of mysterious letters alleged to have been written to Allen and his wife in a series of blackmail attempts on the part of the deceased may come to a climax tomorrow.

The letters are said to be in a safety deposit box at Taft, and today Allen signed an order for their re- of the ordinance.

Already of unusual interest, the case has soared far above the limits of the ordinary triangle love affair. The thrice married Mrs. Allen, first married to Allen, then to Cox and then to Allen, who is now her husband, told a story today at the jail of threatened kidnaping, blackmail, beatings and constant innuendos to her friends by Cox, a story which Allen, when interviewed in a different portion of the jail, corroborated in every detail.

"Did Cox ever threaten me?" iterated Allen in reply to a question propounded by the interviewer.

"He did nothing else," he continued. "Wait till you see those letters. I got a batch of them in my safety deposit vault.

"It was more than threatening. He promised to get me, but I am willing to let the letters speak for themselves, profanity and all, directed against me and my wife.

"Why, not very long ago in Bakersfield, Cox waylaid my wife and me as we were driving down the street in our car and threatened us then. He would have made a scene in the street if I hadn't slipped him some money to beat it."

"One of the last times he bothered my wife was to wire her for money, telling her that he was in jail in Los Angeles and wanted it badly. She sent him some money. Then he showed up in Taft."

APRICOT PRICES PLEASE GROWERS

LEMOORE, April 26.—Owners of the large apricot acreage in this county are feeling good over the opening price announced yesterday for fresh cots for canning and shipping. The price was $70 per ton, or 3½ cents per pound, which is a remarkably good one for opening. The cot crop in this county bids fair to be the heaviest in the State this year, it is reported, that in the Sacramento Valley and south of Tehachapi having been shortened by frosts and orchard diseases. All damage to cots or peaches by frost is now thought to be over here, with prospects of good crops of both. In a limited area there was some loss of Thompson seedless grapes and of cots and peaches by a single night of heavy frost on the night before Easter, otherwise all crops have come along fine and the prospects of production are generally good in all lines of vineyard and orchard fruits.

BOY HURT IN AUTO CRASH GETS DAMAGES

SANTA ANA, April 26.—Howard Johnson, Olinda youth, whose leg was broken in an accident that occurred while he was riding on an automobile driven by W. L. Campbell, was awarded $1000 damages by Superior Judge Marks late yesterday. The judgment for damages was allowed, not against Campbell, but against A. R. Sutton, who was driving a coupe that collided with Campbell's machine. Young Johnson was perched on the fender of Campbell's car when it brushed wheels with Sutton's machine, which had swung wide on a curve. The court stated that Sutton was responsible for the accident. Johnson and another lad had asked Campbell for a ride home from school. They sat on the fenders, one on each side, the interior of the car being filled with tools. The accident took place in front of Johnson's home as the boy was about to get off the car.

YOUTH ACCUSED OF ROBBING HOTEL HELD

ONTARIO, April 26.—Glen M. Griffith, 20 years of age, who was arrested by Pomona police on March 29, last, and turned over to the local police department, who held a warrant for him on a burglary charge, was today ordered held to answer to the Superior Court, following his preliminary hearing before Judge George R. Holbrook.

Griffith is asserted to have broken into the money drawer at the Casa Blanco Hotel on the night of December 13, last, and also to have stolen a valuable banjo belonging to one of the proprietors of the hostelry. The banjo is said to have been in his possession at the time of his apprehension by Pomona police, as the young man was preparing to leave that city for the north.

Griffith is said to have confessed to Chief of Police Arthur Axley of Ontario.

CITRUS PACKERS ACTIVE

Orange County Exchange Expects to Ship Cars First Week of 1927 Season

ORANGE, April 26.—Citrus packing-houses affiliated with the County Fruit Exchange will pack approximately eighty cars of fruit the first week of operation in the 1927 season, according to estimates today by exchange officials. Many of the houses will not pack more than a few cars toward the end of the week, devoting the time to picking fruit.

As the season advances a greater weekly shipment will be made until at the peak of the season's operation the shipments may climb to 1500 cars a week.

Independent houses have been in operation for several days. The exchange plans will hardly approximate 75 per cent of the crop, while independents and plants affiliated with other associations will care for the remaining 25 per cent.

Estimates of the crop for 1927 made by citrus officials indicate that the bumper crop of 1926 will be equaled, if not surpassed. With little frost damage and heavy rains the outlook for heavy shipments in 1926 exceeded anticipations.

The ten plants affiliated with the exchange were responsible for 6,000,000 of that total.

The exchange now under way includes the Orange Growers' Association of Orange city; Red Fox Orchards, McPherson Orchards, Orange Heights Orchard Association, Metropolitan Citrus Association, Villa Park Orchards, and Orange Associated Growers, and Golden West Citrus Association; Tustin Fruit Growers, Tustin; Tustin Heights Association, Irvine, and Santiago Orange Association.

GLENDALE CITY COUNCIL SPLI

War Declared Over Publ Works Chairmanship

C. J. Hatz Elected to Pla by One Vote

Charged Contractors Back Kinch Ouster

GLENDALE, April 26.—The Council today was definitely sha in two hostile camps as a result the ousting of Councilman S. Kinch, from the chairmanship the Committee on Public Works a the election of Councilman C. Hatz, in his place.

A motion to elect Kinch to chairmanship of the Public Wo Committee, held by Hatz during last administration was defeat when Kinch flatly refused to vo the post and all the Council voted against his appointment.

Councilman W. F. Tower, wa the holdover Councilmen from last Council, sided with Kinch the question of the new deal in city committees, and hurled cha that Kinch's removal from Public Works Committee was at the insistence of contractors, charge that was hotly denied by Mayor Harry G. MacBain and Coun man C. E. Kimlin.

The storm broke when Kin moved that Hatz be named chair of the Public Works Committee, with the latter debarred from sen ing Kimlin's motion and with Ki and Tower sitting silent Mayor M Bain turned the gavel over to To and seconded the motion, w passed by 3 votes to 2. It was at point that Tower, after resuming place, made the charge that Ki was being ousted to please the c tractors who feel that their wor being hampered by excessive ins tion.

Mayor MacBain took the stand the Councilmen should be ne around at intervals to permit to become familiar with the va branches of the city governm which, he claimed, was the only son for the present movement to point new committee heads. acided fuel to the fire by moving Kimlin be made head of the Pu Service Committee, a post now by Tower, but a deathlike sil reigned when the motion was m and it failed at this time for lac a second. Another round in the battle is pected as the next regular me on Thursday as adjournment t left the matter still unsettled, cept for the fact that Hatz h trenched in the Public Works D manship and Kinch, although a m ber of several committees, has t that he can call his own.

LONDON, April 26. (AP)—Rubber knee pads for Charlestoni dancers are among the latest ballroom accessories for London beginners.

In connection with the reported negotiations over rubber, the Evening Standard declares that under the present situation, the quota of 70 per cent will be reduced to 60 per cent on May 1, owing to the fact that the price did not average one shilling six pence per pound in the last quarter. The Standard says the majority of rubber men will soon favor ending the restriction entirely, since it is giving the Dutch control of the market and making the United States use reclaimed rubber.

HISTORIANS IN PLEA FOR FUND

Endowment Asked to Carry on Research Work

Members Preserve Official Data of Events

Prominent Men Identified With Movement

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, April 26. (Exclusive)—In order better to carry on its work the American Historical Association is making a general appeal to the public for an endowment of $1,000,000. The income from such a fund will, it is stated, enable the association to continue and enlarge its national services and not be faced in this era of the depleted dollar with serious curtailment of its activities.

This organization, the only distinctly national one of its kind in the country, is quasiofficial in that it was chartered by Congress, and its annual reports, presented through the Smithsonian Institute, are published by the government as public documents. Two Presidents of the United States—Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson—have served as presidents of the association.

The general headquarters are in Washington and the annual meetings have been held frequently in this city, but in various years have been held at such widely scattered points as Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Charleston, Rochester, N. Y., New Orleans and St. Louis. One notable summering gathering was held in California.

LARGE MEMBERSHIP

There are about 3000 members of the association, most of whom are engaged in the writing or teaching of history. There are, however, many well-known leaders in business and in public life on the rolls, so that it is not an exclusively academic institution.

The association was organized in 1884 by a group of distinguished men, including Andrew D. White, Francis A. Walker, Justin Winsor and Herbert B. Adams. Among its officers and members have been famous historians and other notables such as George Bancroft, Henry Adams, Henry C. Lea, George F. Hoar, Alfred T. Mahan, Charles Francis Adams, James B. Angell, George Burton Adams, William A. Dunning and H. Morse Stephens.

Dana C. Munro is now president of the association, and Vice-President Dawes heads the list of members of the national advisory committee. Albert J. Beveridge, former United States Senator from Indiana, is chairman of the committee on endowment.

Those who drop $10,000 on the plate that is now being passed will be listed as benefactors in the records of the society. Contributions of $5000 are to be designated at donors, and those who give $1000 will be known as patrons. Those who subscribe $100 will be enrolled as life members of the association.

The income from the proposed endowment will make possible, it is said, a wider dissemination of historical information and better teaching of history in the schools of the country; the conservation of historical manuscripts, including the public records of the nation and of the individual States; the preservation through publication of important historical manuscripts; grants to scholars for the expenses of research essential to the great contributions of history to human knowledge; expert service to the government, and co-operative research in the historical backgrounds of such problems as those of international relations, of American business, and of agriculture and rural life.

Among those who have indorsed the endowment project are such American notables as former Secretary of War Baker, Edward W. Bok, Senator Borah, Nicholas Murray Butler, John W. Davis, Senator Deneen, John H. Finley, Glenn Frank, Senator Glass, Herbert S. Hadley, David Jayne Hill, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Charles Evans Hughes, Frank O. Lowden, A. Lawrence Lowell, Dwight Morrow, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Elihu Root, Albert Shaw, Ida M. Tarbell, William Allen White and John Sharp Williams.

ACCURACY NEEDED

Mr. White, the Kansas editor, says of the proposal that "a million dollars invested in saving human experience from oblivion would save billions in future war debts." Former Secretary of State Hughes, who is chairman of the New York committee that is undertaking to raise one-half of the endowment, says, "If we are to profit by the lessons of the past we should be sure that the lessons are accurately, dispassionately and thoroughly taught."

In general, it is explained, the American Historical Association undertakes to place at the disposal of the government the resources of historical scholarship. The Library of Congress, in building up its great manuscript collections, has frequently relied upon the expert services of officers and members of the association. Again, in 1908, one of its committees prepared, at the request of President Roosevelt, a careful report outlining a national policy for the publication of historical material in the national archives.

Another contribution to a better understanding of American history has been made through the Historical Manuscripts Commission, which is constantly locating valuable manuscripts, especially those now in private hands. So far as possible such papers have been secured against loss and made available for students through publication. Among the papers printed by the association are the letters of Stephen Higginson, John C. Calhoun, Alexander H. Stephens, and Moses and Stephen Austin; the diary of Salmon P. Chase, and the autobiography of Martin Van Buren.

Several publications deal with international topics—the correspondence of the early French ministers to the United States, the Texan diplomatic correspondence and the papers of James A. Bayard, illustrating the peace negotiations at Ghent in 1814. Since the World War the association has been active in promoting scientific co-operation with scholars abroad, a field in which Americans now have new opportunities for service and leadership. It may be noted in this connection that the prizes administered by the association are given for studies in European, as well as American, history.

New services contemplated by the association include the organization of historical research, studies of the history of American international relations, a study of immigration and sectionalism, a development of the historical approach to legal, economic, and social problems, and bringing about the adoption of the proposed publication policy for the national archives.

"Times" Daily Short Story

By O. HENRY

AFTER about four months in Washington, Miss Lydia discovered one morning that she and her father were almost without money. His "Anecdotes and Reminiscences" was completed, but publishers had not jumped at the collected gems of Alabama sense and wit. The rental of a small house which they still owned in Mobile was two months in arrears. Their board money for the month would be due in three days. Miss Lydia called her father to a consultation.

"No money?" said he with a surprised look. "It is quite annoying to be called on so frequently for these petty sums. Really, I—"

The major searched his pockets. He found only a two-dollar bill, which he returned to his vest pocket.

"I must attend to this at once, Lydia," he said. "Kindly get me my umbrella and I will go down town immediately. The Congressman from our district, Gen. Fulghum, assured me some days ago that he would use his influence to get my book published at an early date. I will go to his hotel at once and see what arrangement has been made."

With a sad little smile Miss Lydia watched him button his "Father Hubbard" and depart, pausing at the door, as he always did, to bow profoundly.

That evening, at dark, he returned. It seemed that Congressman Fulghum had seen the publisher who had the major's manuscript for reading. That person had said that if the anecdotes, etc., were carefully pruned down about one-half, in order to eliminate the sectional and class prejudice with which the book was dyed from end to end, he might consider its publication.

The major was in a white heat of anger, but regained his equanimity, according to his code of manners, as soon as he was in Miss Lydia's presence.

"We must have money," said Miss Lydia, with a little wrinkle above her nose. "Give me the two dollars, and I will telegraph to Uncle Ralph for some tonight."

The major drew a small envelope from his upper vest pocket and tossed it on the table.

"Perhaps it was injudicious," he said mildly, "but the sum was so merely nominal that I bought tickets to the theater tonight. It's a new war drama, Lydia. I thought you would be pleased to witness its first production in Washington. I am told that the South has very fair treatment in the play. I confess I should like to see the performance myself."

Still, as the tickets were bought, they might as well be used. So that evening, as they sat in the theater listening to the lively overture, even Miss Lydia was minded to relegate their troubles, for the hour, to second place. The major, in spotless linen, with his extraordinary coat showing only where it was closely buttoned, and his white hair smoothly roached, looked really fine and distinguished. The curtain went up on the first act of "A Magnolia Flower," revealing a typical Southern plantation scene. Maj. Talbot betrayed some interest.

"Oh, see!" exclaimed Miss Lydia, nudging his arm, and pointing to her program.

The major put on his glasses and read the line in the cast of characters that her finger indicated.

Col. Webster Calhoun . . . H. Hopkins Hargraves.

"It's our Mr. Hargraves," said Miss Lydia. "It must be his first appearance in what he calls 'the legitimate.' I'm so glad for him."

Not until the second act did Col. Webster Calhoun appear upon the stage. When he made his entry Maj. Talbot gave an audible sniff, glared at him, and seemed to freeze solid. Miss Lydia uttered a little, ambiguous squeak and crumpled her program in her hand. For Col. Calhoun was made up as nearly resembling Maj. Talbot as one pea does another. The long, thin white hair, curly at the ends, the aristocratic beak of a nose, the crumpled, wide, ravelling shirt front, the string tie, with the bow nearly under one ear, were almost exactly duplicated. And then, to clinch the imitation, he wore the twin to the major's supposed to be unparalleled coat. High-collared, baggy, empire-waisted, ample-skirted, hanging foot lower in front than behind, the garment could have been designed from no other pattern. From then the major and Miss Lydia sat bewitched, and saw the counterfeit presentment of a haughty Talbot "dragged," as the major afterward expressed it, "through the slanderous mire of a corrupt stage."

Mr. Hargraves had used his opportunities well. He had caught the major's little idiosyncrasies of speech, accent, and intonation and his pompous courtliness to perfection—exaggerating all to the purpose of the stage. When he performed that marvelous bow that the major fondly imagined to be the pink of all salutations, the audience sent forth a sudden round of hearty applause.

"We will go, Lydia," the major said, chokingly. "This is an abominable desecration."

Before he could rise, she pulled him back into his seat.

"We will stay it out," she declared. "Do you want to advertise the copy by exhibiting the original coat?" So they remained to the end.

Hargraves's success must have kept him up late that night, for neither at the breakfast nor at the dinner table did he appear.

About three in the afternoon he tapped at the door of Maj. Talbot's study. The major opened it, and Hargraves walked in with his hands full of the morning papers—too full of his triumph to notice anything unusual in the major's demeanor.

"I put it all over 'em last night, major," he began exultantly. "I had my inning, and, I think, scored. Here's what the Post says:

His conception and portrayal of the old-time Southern colonel, with his absurd grandiloquence, his eccentric garb, his quaint idioms and phrases, his moth-eaten pride of family, and his really kind heart, fastidious sense of honor, and lovable simplicity, is the best delineation of a character role on the boards today. The coat worn by Col. Calhoun is itself nothing less than an evolution of genius. Mr. Hargraves has captured his public.

"How does that sound, major, for a first nighter?"

"I had the honor"—the major's voice sounded ominously frigid—"of witnessing your very remarkable performance, sir, last night."

Hargraves looked disconcerted.

"You were there? I didn't know you ever—I didn't know you cared for the theater. Oh, I say, Maj. Talbot," he exclaimed frankly, "don't you be offended. I admit I did get a lot of pointers from you that helped me out wonderfully in the part. But it's a type, you know—not individual. The way the audience caught on shows that. Half the patrons of that theater are Southerners. They recognized it."

"Mr. Hargraves," said the major, who had remained standing, "you have put upon me an unpardonable insult. You have burlesqued my person, grossly betrayed my confidence, and misused my hospitality. If I thought you possessed the faintest conception of what is the sign manual of a gentleman, or what is due one, I would call you out, sir, old as I am. I will ask you to leave the room, sir."

Hargraves took his departure without another word. He also left the house the same day, moving, as Mrs. Vardeman explained at the supper table, nearer the vicinity of the downtown theater, where "A Magnolia Flower" was booked for a week's run.

Critical was the situation with Maj. Talbot and Miss Lydia. There was no one in Washington to whom the major's scruples allowed him to apply for a loan. Miss Lydia wrote a letter to Uncle Ralph, but it was doubtful whether that relative's constricted affairs would permit him to furnish help. The major was forced to make an apologetic address to Mrs. Vardeman regarding the delayed payment for board, referring to "delinquent rentals" and "delayed remittances" in a rather confused strain.

Deliverance came from an entirely unexpected source.

Late one afternoon the door maid came up and announced an old colored man who wanted to see Maj. Talbot. The major asked that he be sent up to his study. Soon an old darkey appeared in the doorway, with his hat in hand, bowing, and scraping with one clumsy foot. He was quite decently dressed in a baggy suit of black. His big, coarse shoes shone with a metallic luster suggestive of stove polish. His bushy wool was gray—almost white. After middle life, it is difficult to estimate the age of a negro. This one might have seen as many years as had Maj. Talbot.

"I be bound you don't know me, Mars' Pendleton," were his first words.

"Wait a moment," said the major, rubbing his forehead with the tips of his fingers. He loved to recall everything connected with those beloved days. "Cindy's Moses," he reflected. "You worked among the horses—breaking the colts. Yes, I remember now. After the surrender, you took the name of—don't prompt me—Mitchell, and went to the West—to Nebraska."

"Yassir, yassir,"—the old man's face stretched with a delighted grin—"dat's him, dat's it. Newbraska. Dat's me—Moses Mitchell. Old Uncle Mose Mitchell, dey calls me now. Old mars', your pa, gimme a pair of dem mule colts when I lef' fur to staht me goin' with.

The major inquired what the old man was doing so far from his home.

"Uncle Mose am a delicate," he explained, "to de gran' Baptis' convention in dis city. I never preached none, but bein' a resid'n' elder in de church, and abis fur to pay my own expenses, dey sent me along."

"And how did you know we were in Washington?" inquired Miss Lydia.

"Dey's a culliud man works in de hotel whar I stops, what comes from Mobile. He told me he seen Mars' Pendleton comin' outen dish here house one mawnin'.

"What I come fur," continued Uncle Mose, reaching into his pocket—"besides de sight of home folks—was to pay Mars' Pendleton what I owes him."

"Owe me?" said the major, in surprise.

"Yassir—three hundred dollars." He handed the major a roll of bills. "When I lef' old mars' says: 'Take dem mule colts, Mose,' and, if it be so you gits able, pay fur 'em.' Yassir—dem was his words. De war had done lef' old mars' po' hisself. Old mars' bein' 'long ago dead, de debt descends to Mars' Pendleton. Three hundred dollars. Uncle Mose is plenty able to pay now. When de railroad buy any lan' I laid off to pay fur dem mules. Count de money, Mars' Pendleton. Dat's what I sold dem mules fur. Yassir."

Tears were in Maj. Talbot's eyes. He took Uncle Mose's hand and laid his other upon his shoulder.

"Dear, faithful, old servitor," he said in an unsteady voice, "I don't mind saying to you that Mars' Pendleton spent his last dollar in the world a week ago. We will accept this money, Uncle Mose, since, in a way, it is a sort of payment, as well as a token of the loyalty and devotion of the old regime. Lydia, my dear, take the money. You are better fitted than I to manage its expenditure."

"Take it, honey," said Uncle Mose. "Hit belongs to you. Hit's Talbot money."

After Uncle Mose had gone, Miss Lydia had a good cry—for joy; and the major turned his face to a corner, and smoked his clay pipe volcanically.

One day, about a week after their piece of good luck, a maid brought a letter for Miss Lydia to her room. The postmark showed that it was from New York. Not knowing any one there, Miss Lydia, in a mild flutter of wonder, sat down by her table and opened the letter with her scissors. This was what she read:

Dear Miss Talbot:

I thought you might be glad to learn of my good fortune. I have received and accepted an offer of two hundred dollars per week by a New York stock company to play Col. Calhoun in "A Magnolia Flower."

There is something else I wanted you to know. I guess you'd better not tell Maj. Talbot. I was anxious to make him some amends for the great help he was to me in studying the part, and for the bad humor he was in about it. He refused to let me so I did it anyhow. I could easily spare the three hundred.

Sincerely yours,
H. HOPKINS HARGRAVES.

P. S. How did I play Uncle Mose?

Maj. Talbot, passing through the hall, saw Miss Lydia's door open and stopped.

"Any mail for us this morning, Lydia, dear?" he asked.

Miss Lydia slid the letter beneath a fold of her dress.

"The Mobile Chronicle came," she said promptly. "It's on the table in your study."

SENATE TABLES VALLEY RUMPUS

Quiz Held After Assembly Condemns City

Vain Attempts to Collect Commissions Told

SACRAMENTO, April 26. (AP)—A resolution adopted by the Assembly condemning the Bureau of Power and Light of the city of Los Angeles because of activities in the Owens Valley growing out of the twenty-year feud between Owens Valley people and the southern metropolis tonight was tabled in the Senate Committee on Conservation.

The committee tabled the resolution after hearing from W. B. Mathews, attorney for the Board of Public Service Commissioners of Los Angeles, and H. A. Van Norman, assistant chief engineer of the Department of Water and Power.

Testimony developed before the committee that the city of Los Angeles in its negotiations had sought to prevent any commissions being paid in connection with the purchase of lands in Owens Valley and that the attorney for the Owens Valley interests and others fostering this resolution before the committee were acting from a selfish purpose and sought to profit by the collection of commissions from the sale of lands to the valley.

"Only three people are involved in practically all of this present issue and these are speculators who reside in Los Angeles county who have bought the Owens Valley land from the original owners," Van Norman told the committee.

Mathews again outlined the policy of the city of Los Angeles and its plans for reclamation of the valley, pointing out that present conditions in the valley were due to a ten years' drought, which would have caused the same effect even if the city had never built an aqueduct into the valley to supply Los Angeles with domestic water.

Mathews went into length as to the development work of the city of Los Angeles in Owens Valley. He pointed out that the city had paid in taxes to Inyo county for the current year $144,000, or 43 per cent of the county's total taxation, and insisted upon this payment, although under the constitution of the State municipally owned property is free from taxation.

"The valley is just emerging from a period of drought extending back over eight to ten years," Mathews said. "This had the effect of depleting the water supply of the valley until it reached a point when the supply was hardly more than a 25 per cent supply for all the irrigated lands. During this drought the waters which the city had purchased were largely diverted and used on lands remaining in private ownership, thus giving these lands several times the supply they would have had if the city had made no purchases and all the water had been prorated among the farmers."

De Pinedo Plans Resumption of Trip Next Week

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Commander Francesco De Pinedo, noted Italian aviator, whose flight over four continents was interrupted three weeks ago when a carelessly tossed match caused destruction of his plane at Roosevelt Lake, Ariz., plans to resume his flight next week.

A sister plane to the wrecked Santa Maria is expected from Italy Saturday on the steamship Duilo. The plane will be assembled within three days, he said, after which flights will be made to Washington, Chicago and Boston before proceeding north to Newfoundland for his return across the Atlantic. Stops will be made at the Azores and Lisbon on the route back to Rome.

Boys From Seattle Try to Act Like Natives in Chicago by Shooting Up Restaurant Cashier, But Western Accent Betrays Them

CHICAGO, April 26. (Exclusive)—A tall, thin robber and a short, stout one went into a restaurant and held up two waitresses and a cashier. The cashier was a little obdurate and one of the pair fired at him. He then gave up $65.

When the matter was reported to the police, all the victims agreed that the robbers had far-western accents. Sergts. Alex De Mar and Alex Gasperik sat down and thought it over.

"Two cowboys or sheep herders or something just off the wide-open spaces," decided Sergt. De Mar. "If they're from the West, and single, they might be down at the Y.M.C.A. Hotel."

And they were. The waitresses identified them by the accents and their features. The two are Benjamin Engblom, 21 years of age, and his brother Ray, 24, both of Seattle.

ARCHBISHOP HECKLED BY LONDONERS

Police Quell Protest on Prayer Book Which Crowd Calls "Popish"

LONDON, April 26. (AP)—The police had to quell a disturbance at Queen's Hall tonight when hecklers interrupted the archbishop of Canterbury with protests against the recent revision of the book of common prayer of the English church on the grounds that it was "Popish."

"My lord, I submit a resolution to this meeting calling upon His Majesty's government to reject the Popish prayer book," shouted a man from the gallery when the venerable archbishop started his address to the annual meeting of the Religious Tract Society.

Another man shouted a second to the motion. Then several women cried hysterically, "this Popish prayer book."

Police and attendants removed the agitators, one of whom struggled violently and finally was removed, shouting, "take your money and go to Rome."

The revised prayer book, which has been proposed as an alternative to the one now in use, will come before the national assembly of the church in July for final approval and then will be sent to Parliament. The revision has met considerable objection. On March 30, last, 100 robed clergymen marched through the West Eend with banners inscribed, "We will not have a compromise book."

Friends Pump Life Into Youth for 130 Hours

ROANOKE (Va.) April 26. (AP)—Walter Boothe still clung tenaciously to life tonight after nearly 130 hours, his inert lungs had been forced to take in life-giving oxygen by a group of friends, administering artificial respiration.

But, doctors shook their heads and uttered ominous warnings. Already the 18-year-old farm boy had lived far beyond the time they allotted for him. Late yesterday, they said he could not last through the night.

Since noon last Thursday, Boothe has lain with arms, legs and lungs paralyzed. The attack came as he was about to undergo an operation for a dislocated vertebrae, the result of an automobile accident last May.

Whipping Post for Criminals Illinois Urge

CHICAGO, April 26. (Exclusive)—Horsewhipping as a preventative of crime, especially wife-beating, picking of pockets and petty thievery, is being urged by Chief of Police Hughes and Judge Marcus Kavanagh, both of whom are terrors to the criminal element. A proposed law designating this punishment for the crimes mentioned has passed both houses of the Michigan Legislature, and Maryland, with its whipping post, has reduced crime in that State to the minimum.

"Thieves who ply their trade with seeming immunity from punishment due to a 'pipe-line' to the bench or the prosecutor's office would not think their stuff so good if they were given a whipping occasionally," said both the judge and the chief.

"The whipping post would do a lot more good than short jail sentences. Criminals have no fear of jail, with its comforts, but they dread a whipping, and it has been shown in Maryland that they rarely come back for more."

Wind and Rain Prevent Landing of Los Angeles

LAKEHURST (N. J.) April 26. (AP) Wind and rain tonight prevented the landing of the dirigible Los Angeles, which returned at 10:25 a.m. today from a flight to Pensacola, Fla.

Officers expected the wind, which has been blowing from twenty-five to forty-six miles an hour during the day, would shift and steady down before morning. The Los Angeles left Pensacola with a reserve fuel supply of 110 per cent, enough for an additional cruise of more than twenty-four hours.

Miss Nazimova stated she is single and was born in Yalta, Crimea, Russia, June 4, 1879.

BANK BANDITS GET $8000 IN OKLAHOMA

CUSHING (Okla.) April 26. (AP)—Holding a dozen bank officials and twenty customers at bay, four unmasked bandits late today robbed the First National Bank here of between $8000 and $10,000, a fifth waiting outside in an automobile in which all escaped.

NEW BOOST FOR SMITH'S CANDIDACY

CHICAGO, April 26. (AP)—Miss Jane Addams of Hull House has added her voice to that of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming, that the question of religion in politics should be brought into the open.

Miss Addams, speaking before 600 special workers last night, referred to the candidacy of Gov. Smith of New York for the Presidency as "a great boon for the country." So far, she said, the so-called tolerance of the electorate has been only an avoidance of the issue.

Mrs. Ross, speaking yesterday at Washington, advocated the election of a Catholic, "just to prove that this is in reality a republic in which we live and not one in name only."

USURY LAW UPHELD BY HIGH COURT

Supreme Bench Declares Measure Constitutional; 12 Per Cent Maximum

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26. (AP)—The State Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the California Usury Law by denying a rehearing for an appeal from the Los Angeles courts in the cast of Francis S. Hines and others against the Commercial Mortgage Company and the Title Trust Company of Los Angeles. The defendants appealed.

The Supreme Court made it plain in its decision that 12 per cent is the absolute maximum that any loan made in California can carry and that additional fees, commission and the like are prohibited.

Compounding of interest on 12 per cent loans is illegal, the court held, and when a deduction is made for interest at the time of making loans the unpaid balance will be considered the amount of the loan on which future interest will be charged.

CHILD DIES IN SWOLLEN IDAHO CREEK

KELLOGG (Idaho) April 26. (AP)—Floods which threatened to be the worst in the history of this district claimed their first life today, when Jack Merlino, 2 years of age, was drowned in Big Creek. The child was standing beside the creek when the bank, weakened by high water, caved in.

Many low bridges have been threatened and crews are working to save the tracks of the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company.

Exceptionally heavy snowfall and a long cold spring have held large quantities of water in the mountains and warm weather the last few days is melting the snow at a rapid rate.

JAPANESE TO STUDY SCHOOLS

TOKIO, April 26. (AP)—The Empress, who desires to improve the education of girls, is sending her own teacher, Miss Shizuko Takeda, to study modern methods in the United States and other countries.

POLITICS SCHOOL MENACE

Superintendent Dorsey Tells Dangers in Election at Meeting Under Masonic Auspices

A warning to parents and taxpayers of Los Angeles that the public schools must be kept free from the control and influence of politicians who are more deeply concerned with their own political and financial success than with public welfare was sounded by Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, Superintendent of Los Angeles City Schools, in an address last night at Sunset Masonic Auditorium.

The meeting was one of the features of the eighth annual observance of Public Schools Week by the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of California. More than 300 persons were unable to find even standing room in the auditorium.

Mrs. Dorsey, as the guest of honor, was introduced as the principal speaker by Dr. Samuel H. Burke, past Grand Master of California Masonry. Eight lodges joined in the event and an entertaining program by pupils of the Washington-street school followed the address. The entertainment consisted of a minstrel show in which nearly fifty children took part.

CALLS ON MASONS

In introducing the head of the city schools Dr. Burke said the Masons of California are intensely interested in and stand solidly in support of the public school system of the State. He expressed hope that the meeting, which he characterized as a tangible manifestation of that attitude, would bring responsibilities as good citizens in upholding the cause of education. He also traced the growth of the city schools in the seven years which Mrs. Dorsey has been at their head. From a total enrollment of 99,944 in 1920, he pointed out, the number has increased to 240,480 and 90,000,000 has been spent in their development.

Another meeting will be held this evening at the Los Angeles High School auditorium, 4600 Country Club Drive, under the auspices of Westlake and Craftsmen lodges. The program will include an address by Bruce Allyn Findlay, assistant superintendent of city schools, with a number of features to follow. Rev. E. Burdette Backus will deliver the invocation and music will be provided by the Westlake Masonic band. Other talks will be given by E. W. Oliver, principal of Los Angeles High School, and Lisle L. Smith and Arthur H. Inman, masters of the lodges in charge of the meeting.

ANOTHER MEETING FRIDAY

Another meeting will be held at the Los Angeles High School auditorium Friday at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of four Masonic lodges, Henry S. Orme Lodge, Loyalty Lodge, West Gate Lodge and Ionic Lodge.

W. P. Jeffries, president of the Jonathan Club, will be chairman and will make the introductory speech. The principal address, "Our Public Schools," will be by Dean Charles H. Rieber of the college of letters and sciences, University of California at Los Angeles. E. W. Oliver, principal of Los Angeles High School, will welcome the audience. The Los Angeles High School orchestra, the girls' and boys' senior glee clubs, Ethel Evans, Bigana Sornberger, Alice Held, Phyllis Edwards and Don Brookins will contribute the musical numbers.

NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATIC LEADER DIES

J. R. Nugent, Who Helped Make Wilson Governor, Succumbs in Long Illness

TRENTON (N. J.) April 26. (AP)—James R. Nugent of Newark, former Democratic political leader who helped make Woodrow Wilson Governor and broke with him later, died tonight. Mr. Nugent had been at the hospital here since November 29, last. A week ago he underwent an operation for intestinal toxemia.

As chairman of the Democratic State Committee Mr. Nugent attempted what was considered almost impossible in 1910, when he became a leader in the move to nominate Mr. Wilson for Governor. In less than a year he was deprived of his office as State chairman at the demand of the man whom he had helped make Governor.

His intense loyalty to Senator Smith who had been won over to the Wilson cause by George Harvey, forced him to put aside personal feelings. Mr. Nugent had the difficult task of directing the Wilson campaign for Governor. It was he who induced Joseph P. Tumulty, who served ten years as Mr. Wilson's secretary, to join the campaigners.

Last Rites for Former Hotel Man Tomorrow

Funeral services for John Michel Edward Wagener, 36 years of age, former manager of the Hotel Hayward, who died Monday following a long illness, will be conducted from the Rosedale Cemetery chapel at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Services will be under the auspices of Redlands Lodge, No. 278, F. & A.M., of which he was a member.

Mr. Wagener was a resident of Southern California for the last twenty-six years, coming here from St. Mary's, O. With his brothers, Harry C. and Russell H. Wagener, he became affiliated with his uncle, Harry C. Pryman, owner and proprietor of the Hayward.

In 1918, Mr. Wagener was stricken with an attack of influenza, from which he never fully recovered. He spent much of his time from then until his death seeking to restore his health. He leaves his brothers and his uncle, Mr. Pryman.

First National Sues M.-G.-M. Over 'Miracle'

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—First National Pictures, Inc., started court action today against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures to restrain that company from producing Max Reinhardt's stage spectacle, "The Miracle."

A motion has been made in Superior Court in New York for a preliminary injunction and hearing was set for May 5.

The complaint asserts that Albert H. Woods and Rose B. Woods are the sole owners of exclusive and perpetual world-wide motion-picture rights to "The Miracle" and that these rights have been transferred to First National.

BALLOT HURTS PARTY

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune]

VIENNA, April 26. (Exclusive)—The returns still are dribbling in from the general election held Sunday, but enough are in to show that the majority for the government in the national assembly has been reduced from twenty-four to fourteen. The Marxist Socialists, who are the rulers of Vienna, gained three seats, making their total seventy-one against eighty-five held by the Christian Socialists, Chancellor Seipel's party, and the Pan-Germans. The peasants' party, which formerly held five seats, increased their strength to nine.

The election was a real setback for Chancellor Seipel, who has consistently insisted that the country must turn, to the right instead to the left for salvation.

The new assembly is expected to meet May 17.

ANEMIA REMEDY EXTOLLED

Chicago Scientist Obtains Apparent Cure in Thirty Cases With Vitamin Diet

CHICAGO, April 26. (AP)—Satisfactory results from a new treatment of pernicious anemia were announced here by Dr. Karl Koessler of the University of Chicago, following two years of experiments. The experiments, which are being continued at the Sprague Institute at the university, tended to show that the fat-soluble vitamins in the diet provided at least one factor in the regeneration of the blood.

Experts disagree on the important vitamins in regenerating the blood from the ravages of pernicious anemia, American Medical spokesmen say. However, under Dr Koessler's treatment none of the thirty patients placed on his diet have had a relapse.

"During the last two years a new dietary regimen has been used by Dr. Koessler in treatment of thirty sufferers," said a statement authorized by the scientist and read to the Chicago Society of Internal Medicine. "In from two to four months after treatment begins the blood of these patients can scarcely be distinguished from that of a normal individual. The blood count has become normal and the hemoglobin is present in normal amount. No relapse has been observed in any of these patients, which is an important point, since periods of improvement commonly alternate with relapses in this disease. The patients feel stronger than they did for many years, and they gain materially in weight.

"It seems, then, that the fat-soluble vitamins are necessary for the new formation of blood, and that in some way they inhibit the abnormal blood destruction.

"The foods of greatest value in this new treatment are butter, milk, cream, egg yolks, tomatoes, spinach, lettuce, oranges, grapefruit and pineapples. Of meats, the edible viscera, which are commonly eaten only rarely, are the greatest valde; liver, lungs, sweetbreads, kidneys, beef heart and brain."

Dr. Koessler feels it still is too early to say that his patients are cured permanently.

Six hens and a rooster, which had boarded a train in a freight yard near Chester, Eng., were found in a box car when the train arrived at Manchester, recently.

King's Boulder Letter Awaits Work's Return

WASHINGTON, April 26. (Exclusive)—Senator King's letter of protest, addressed to Secretary Work and criticising the personnel of his recently appointed Boulder Dam advisers, will not be forwarded to the Secretary at San Francisco but will be held for him on his return to Washington.

The Senator had hoped to get the protest before the Secretary prior to his conference with the advisers in California late this month, but he has been notified by the department that the letter will not be forwarded.

By the time the Secretary receives it the advisers will have their field investigation well under way.

BURGLARS RANSACK POMONA RESIDENCE

POMONA, April 26. — Taking advantage of the absence of the owners, burglars last night ransacked the home of J. E. Auman, 1142 Sheridan avenue. It was the first burglary reported to police in several weeks. Investigation by police disclosed that the burglars used a light truck in their operations and took among other smaller articles a radio set, ironing machine, washing machine and a set of silverware. The Aumans are living in Los Angeles, spending their weekends in their home there. The robbery was reported by the caretaker.

BUILDING-LOAN ASSETS HIGHER

Quarter Gain Largest in History of Los Angeles

Year Over Year Ago Shows as 35.6 Per Cent

Reports of the thirty-one building and loan associations operating within the city limits of Los Angeles show a greater increase during the quarter of the current year than in any preceding three months' period in the history of the city. Of the associations, with the exception of one, reported greater assets on March 31, than at the close of the preceding quarter.

Combined assets of the associations in Los Angeles on March 31, last, were $62,059,311.46, as compared with $59,739,139.37 as of March 31 at the close of last year. This is an increase of $2,320,172, or 3.77 per cent, for the three months' period and $16,300,-000, or 35.6 per cent, during the year.

Reserves of the associations in Los Angeles on March 31, last, were greater than those of any other California city and represented nearly 40 per cent of the combined assets of the associations in the state.

FIDELITY LEADS

The older associations, the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association of Southern California and Los Angeles Loan Association, show the greatest increase in assets during the three months, although a number of younger associations reported large percentage gains.

Fidelity reported total assets on March 31, last, of $21,185,481.94, an increase of $1,101,235.03, or 5.5 per cent, from the total as of December 31, last. Assets of the State Mutual increased $638,544.89, or 3.35 per cent, to $12,739,094.89 on March 31, while the Southern California increased $308,963.45, or 3.31 per cent, to a total of $9,904,078.93.

PACIFIC COAST GAINS

Annual statements for the period were issued by the Pacific Coast and Railroad, two of the younger associations. The Pacific Coast moved into fourth place in volume of investments and reported a percentage increase greater than any other association with the exception of the Home Mutual, which is less than one-fifth the size. Assets of the Pacific Coast increased $548,008.56, or 5.8 per cent, during the three months to a total of $1,769,101.05. Railway Mutual assets were increased $268.15, or 187.80 per cent to a total of $160,419.08.

Following is a detailed statement of the associations building and loan activities, showing total assets on March 31, last, increase during the three months, etc.

HAY MARKET STEADY

Slack Demand Acts as Offset to Generally Light Receipts

Hay markets were generally firm with light receipts offsetting slack demand during the week ending the 23rd inst., according to the weekly hay market review of the United States Department of Agriculture. Unfavorable weather conditions in some of the Central Western areas interfered with baling and loading, while bad roads delayed hauling in consuming areas. Floods in some sections were interrupting movement and numerous cars were reported held up in transit. Pastures were making good progress in the East, except in a few sections where rains were needed. Pasture conditions in the Great Plains were excellent with greening reported in the northern areas.

Some improvement was noted in the Pacific Coast markets. Dairy hay was rather scarce at Los Angeles and demand was active. Some alfalfa has been cut in California and the second cutting from more southern areas is expected to arrive within a couple of weeks.

Quoted: No. 1 alfalfa, Kansas City, $19.50; Omaha, $19.50; Memphis, $27; Atlanta, $31.50; Los Angeles, $21.

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Prime western zinc touched a new low today at 6 1-4 cents a pound, East St. Louis.

QUARTERLY REPORTS INDEX

Statements Explain Two-Sided Trend of Stock Market; Profit Margin Narrower

BY EARLE E. CROWE

First-quarter statements now coming out explain the two-sided movement of the stock market as traced by the range of prices. The averages of twenty industrials and twenty rails have repeatedly scored new highs in the last several weeks, while the rank and file of stocks has largely enjoyed a bear market all its own. The explanation, of course, is that some companies are making money and others are not; and it happens that most of the companies included in the averages are the ones making the money.

General Motors, spectacular leader of the bull move, reported an increase of approximately $7,500,000 in the first quarter of this year over the corresponding period of last year, while Studebaker's earnings dropped 25 per cent, amounting to $1.74 on the common against $2.08.

EFFICIENCY TELLS

This comparison between two of the leaders in the motor industry is typical of conditions throughout the diversified list of companies on the New York Stock Exchange. Corporations equipped to seize every advantage possible from operating economies during this time of narrow margin of profits are turning out the best-looking statement. In most instances they are the broadly diversified enterprises controlling most of the materials that enter into the manufacture of their products.

Technically, the students of the stock market term this a selective market, in which earnings should play the greatest influence in selecting stocks for purchase or sale. To discount earnings very far ahead is hazardous considering the number of variable factors involved, but the quarterly reports are at least sufficient to indicate the immediate trend. For the first quarter the statements show a curious mixture of prosperity and unsatisfactory results in industries, and of large profits and large losses by the companies in the same industries.

The rubber industry is not particularly healthy, yet some of the companies are making money. Merchandising companies are running close to the line, although the chain stores, with their large volumes, are doing well. In office equipment, National Cash Register, for example, reported an increase of 12½ per cent in net for the first quarter because of the success of a new model. The larger steel companies, like United States Steel and Bethlehem, are making money, while the smaller units are running behind. Wickwire Spencer Steel among the smaller units earned $239,776 before interest and other charges, against $532,886 in the first three months of 1926.

STATEMENTS VARY

Oil companies well fortified in all branches of the industry are holding their own even though the industry is plainly in bad shape. The Marland statement showing 9 cents a share is offset by the Union Oil report of 63 cents against 71 cents in the first quarter of 1926. California Petroleum's report is expected in the first week of May and should at least cover the dividend.

Incidentally, the next Standard Oil dividend meeting is scheduled for next week, and will be closely watched by the stock market. This company does not publish quarterly statements, but the action of the directors on the regular dividend and the extra paid in the previous quarter will carry some reflection of the course of earnings.

UNIVERSITY INVESTMENT BONDS OUT

Public Service Company of Oklahoma Securities Also on Market Today

New financing announced for offering in this market today includes an issue of $625,000 University Investment Company first mortgage 5 1-2 per cent bonds, dated May 1, 1927 and maturing May 1, 1947, and an issue of $6,500,000 Public Service Company of Oklahoma first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, due May 1, 1957.

The bond department of the Bank of Italy, National Trust and Savings Association, is offering the University Investment securities at 100 to yield 5 1-2 per cent. The bonds are secured by a first closed mortgage on property located on the southwest corner of Washington and Fourteenth street in Oakland. The property is improved with two modern three-story buildings, the land and buildings combined carrying an appraisal of $1,100,000.

The issue is redeemable on any interest date at 100, plus a premium of 1-3 of 1 per cent for each year of unexpired term, but not to exceed 102. Application has been made to have the bonds certified as legal investment for savings banks in California.

The Public Service Company of Oklahoma bonds are priced at 97 1-2 and interest to yield more than 5.15 per cent, and are being offered by Halsey, Stuart & Co., A. B. Leach & Co., Inc., and Hill Joiner & Co., Inc. Part of the proceeds of the issue will be applied toward the acquisition of the properties of the Oklahoma Power Company recently announced.

COSTA RICA REPORTS SURPLUS OF REVENUE

Official advices received by J. & W. Seligman & Co. state that the republic of Costa Rica reports for the year 1926 surplus revenues of 4,805,-899 colones, total revenues being 27,-417,348 colones, as compared with total expenditures of 22,611,449 colones. Life Insurance Sales on Pacific Coast Point Up

HARTFORD (Ct.) April 26.—Sales of ordinary life insurance in the Pacific States showed a substantial gain in March over the corresponding month of last year it was revealed today by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, a co-operative organization maintained by 113 life insurance companies in the United States and Canada. March sales in the Pacific States totaled $65,493,000 which was an increase of 7 per cent over the sales of March 1926.

California, in which State $47,803,-000 of life insurance was sold in March, showed the largest increase in the section for the month, its gain amounting to 13 per cent. In the first quarter of 1927 California showed an increase of 9 per cent over the corresponding period of 1926, leading the Pacific States in this respect also. The average gain for the section for the first three months was 7 per cent.

For the twelve-month period ending with March, Washington leads the Pacific section with an increase of 6 per cent. California showed a 3 per cent gain, and Oregon a 1 per cent decrease.

Extra Dividend Is Declared by Roach Studios

Payment of a participating dividend of 1-2 of 1 per cent in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the outstanding preferred stock was authorized yesterday by the directors of the Hal Roach Studios, Inc. The dividends are for the quarter ending May 31, and will be paid June 1 to stock of record May 15.

Current operations of the company have been uniformly profitable, according to the announcement made by the directors. It is expected that earnings for the quarter ending May 31 will indicate one of the most prosperous years in the history of the company.

Beginning in September, it was announced, distribution of the company's products will be handled under a favorable contract with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation. The contract is expected to materially improve earnings.

MOODY OPTIMISTIC

Says Bear Movement on Stock Market Unlikely for Some Time

Moody's weekly review of financial conditions in its current issue says, in part:

"While a technical reaction, due to an overbought condition in the stock market itself, is possible any time, no real bear movement is in sight and none promises to come into sight for some months.

"Past experience indicates that such a movement before it occurs is nearly always foreshadowed, first by a conspicuous decrease in the public demand for new securities, and, second, by a shortage of loanable funds in the hands of the banks. Neither condition now prevails, and it is difficult to see how either condition could arise before autumn.

"Both food companies and shoe companies are now in a rather favorable position because of the declining prices of their raw materials. The two groups are rather alike in that their earnings are greatly influenced by raw material costs; and for these concerns lower commodity prices ought to mean larger profits."

AMERICAN ROLLING MILL PAYS EXTRAS

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—American Rolling Mill declared a dividend of 5 per cent in common stock on the common stock and the regular quarterly cash dividend payment of 50 cents, also the regular quarterly of $1.75 on the preferred. The stock dividend on the common is payable July 30 and the cash dividend July 15.

Business Philosophy

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

Doing things promptly seems to be a habit with men who get a lot of things done. Whenever I write to certain men I get an answer in the return mail, and the surprising part about it is that these are the very men who could offer the most legitimate excuses for delay. Their interests are extensive; they are really busy.

No statement was ever made that contains so much nonsense as "Leave things alone and they'll settle themselves." True enough, they will get settled, but they won't get settled right, that is, to your advantage. What you might have settled with a prompt word at the right time may later become an affair so tangled and complex that you'll have to hire a lawyer to help you with it.

STEEL NET IN QUARTER SHOWS GAIN

Directors Approve Stock Dividend of 40 Per Cent; Set Dividend at $7

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Directors of the United States Steel Corporation today formally approved the 40 per cent stock dividend and placed the new stock on an annual dividend basis of $7.

Total earnings for the first quarter of 1927 after deducting operating expenses and reserve for taxes were $45,584,725, compared with $53,-502,525 in the preceding quarter and $45,061,285 in the first quarter of 1926.

The stock dividend is payable June 1, 1927, to stockholders of record May 2. The cash dividend on the common stock is payable June 29 to stockholders of record June 7.

First-quarter net earnings were equal to $3.93 a share on the common stock against $4.88 a share in the preceding quarter and $3.88 in the first quarter of 1926.

Edison Rights Go Forward to Stockholders

Stockholders' rights valued in excess of $1,167,000 have been mailed to the more than 28,500 holders of common stock of the Southern California Edison Company in the last two days, according to a statement issued yesterday by D. M. Trott, comptroller. Under the terms of the offer, the holder of twelve shares of common stock is entitled to subscribe to one additional share of common at $25 a share.

"If, as we anticipate, every right is taken up," Mr. Trott said, "there will be 170,732 shares of common stock subscribed for between now and June 1, when the offer expires. This represents a par value of $4,268,-000.

"When the value of these rights, approximately 55 cents, is added to the regular annual dividend of $2 which is being paid on the common stock, this stock will show a return of about 7 1-2 per cent on the present market value."

LONDON, April 26. (By Wireless)—Buoyancy continued the outstanding feature of the markets today.

Inquiry for Chinese issues developed that they are now as difficult to buy as they were to sell a few days ago. Japanese obligations were also steadier, while British funds boomed and rails and industrials were better as a result of hopes of a revival in trade.

Oils were exceptionally dull, but minerals were good.

Japanese advices were more reassuring, although it is expected here that several weak elements have still to be eliminated.

Keen attention is being paid in London to the upward movement in the price of raw cotton in the United States. The money market took a slight upward turn toward the close and is likely to go further, partly due to the fact that the supply of surplus credits is diminishing and partly to the fact that of the £835,-000 bar gold available today only £403,000 went to the Bank of England. India home trade and the continent took a considerable amount, while £250,000 went to unknown destinations, thus demonstrating that foreign demands have not entirely ceased.

JAPANESE PAYING PENALTY

Financial Pinch Now in Progress Declared Due to Tokio Failure to Adjust Affairs to Peace Footing

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive)—The 5.9 per cent fall in Japanese yen on news of the financial disturbance across the Pacific, has not greatly excited the stock market here, but its influence may be seen in the market for commodities.

Ever so small a decline in the yen always is welcomed by importers as an opportunity to buy cheaper, but exporters see it only as something bound to reduce the value of what they sell. The drop from a 1927 peak of 49.25c for yen to last week's low of 46.37 may not seem large, but it was enough to start a lively demand for silk in this country and somewhat to discourage the sale of cotton for Japanese destination.

Tadao Wikawa, acting financial commissioner to the United States said to the writer today that a very small number of the banks would take advantage of the moratorium cloak. All banks in Japan were closed on Friday, when the twenty-one-day moratorium began, and on Saturday, but they opened their doors for business again yesterday. Dispatches to the financial commissioner here indicate that most of the banks are making their payments as usual. The moratorium is an optional affair and those in position to pay expect to do so notwithstanding the grace period available to any that need time for adjustment. Apparently calm has been restored after the early excitement. Tokio banks report increased deposits and the Osaka institutions have been able to make repayments to the Bank of Japan.

There is no mystery back of the squeeze in Japanese finances that came a few days ago. The roots of the trouble may be traced to the failure of the Nipponese to slow down after the war expansion. No adequate adjustment was made to the new conditions ushered in by peace. No real contraction in general activity from the war rate was enforced. In consequence the medicine inflicted upon the patient by the 1923 earthquake was all the more bitter and left many institutions sick under the weight of credits that could not be liquidated. Much has been done to set things right again, but, through a political movement not anticipated, the old sore was suddenly torn open by an effort to make an adjustment.

How far the disturbances in Japan will depress prices on the stock markets here depends upon the duration of the difficulties there and the interpretation put on the matter here. That the announcement of the suspensions had not up to the first of this week caused any great uneasiness on this side, although about thirty suspensions had occurred since the middle of March, may be in part explained by the recent tendency to ignore foreign news so long as it is not what the financial district most relishes. On the other hand the market is becoming increasingly sensitive to change and any unfavorable turn in developments might very easily be seized upon by the bear traders to work out their own market aspirations.

Mortgage Liens of Jugo-Slavia Placed on Sale

The largest foreign mortgage bank loan floated so far this year consisting of $12,000,000 thirty-year, 7 per cent bonds for the State Bank of Jugo-Slavia was placed on the market yesterday by J. & W. Seligman & Co. and Dillon, Read & Co. The bonds, which are guaranteed by the government, are priced at 92 to yield 7.65 per cent.

Proceeds will be used for the further development of the kingdom's agricultural resources and for certain municipal improvements. The chief business of the bank is to make loans on farm properties and other real estate as well as to the government and political subdivisions.

Founded in 1862 as a State institution for the management of public funds, the State Mortgage Bank became a central bank under government supervision in 1920. The new bonds will be a direct obligation of the bank secured by the pledge of obligations which are in turn secured by mortgages on real estate received by the bank against loans made by it.

ST. PAUL MARCH INCOME LOWER

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul reports a decrease in net operating income for March to $1,311,386 from $1,474,823 in March last year but an increase in gross revenues to $13,209,104 from $12,905,634. First-quarter net operating income was $3,784,385 against $3,327,020 a year ago.

STOCK PRICES RECOVER LOSS

Rally Staged After Opening Interval of Heaviness

Hope of Mexican Settlement Bullish Stimulant

Several Industrials Decline to Lower Levels

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Impressive recoveries took place in today's stock market after an opening interval of heaviness, presumably resulting from the liquidation of impaired marginal accounts. While not all of the ground lost in yesterday's drastic reaction was recovered, net gains of 1 to 5½ points were quite numerous at the close.

President Coolidge's expressed hope of a peaceful settlement of difficulties with Mexico was seized upon by operators for the rise as a bullish factor. Despite the growing seriousness of the Mississippi River flood damage, speculative Wall street was inclined to take a hopeful view of the situation, some commentators emphasizing its supposedly bullish market features. The credit situation continued satisfactory, call money holding steady at 4 per cent despite the calling of about $10,000,000 in loans. A temporary tightening of rates, incidental to the heavy month-end demand for funds, would not be surprising.

The quarterly report of the United States Steel Corporation, issued after the close of the market, failed to come up to expectations, showing only $3.93 a share, as compared with $3.88 in the preceding quarter and $3.88 in the first quarter of 1926. The 40 per cent stock dividend was formally approved and the new stock placed on an annual $7 basis, as Chairman Gary indicated in his talk to stockholders earlier in the month. Some buying came into the steels during the day on talk of higher steel prices in the next quarter. United States Steel common moved within a range of 2 points, closing 3-4 higher at 170 1-8.

Pierce-Arrow preferred broke 19 points to 64 on the publication of a report showing only 49 cents a share earned on that stock in the first quarter, against $3.36 in the corresponding quarter last year, but later rallied to 88. The common touched a new low at 13 and then rallied a point. General Motors received better support, closing 2½ points higher at 191. Mack Trucks recorded a similar gain at 109½.

Lima Locomotive was run up over 4 points to a new top at 76 3-8, but

COPPER FIRMER ON OUTPUT CUT

Publication of March Data Strengthens Market

Shipment Figures Are Also Stimulating Factor

Situation Viewed Favorable to Further Advance

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor the "Mining Journal"

Copper has definitely reacted to the publication of the March statistics on production and buyers have been brought into the market, purchasing both for immediate and future delivery. The price has risen to 13 1-8 and standing strong with a prospect of another increase.

The consumers of copper did not seem to take stock in the reports that copper production was being curtailed, and it was not until the March figures were made public that the consumers could know just what the extent of the curtailment was and how it might affect their future buying.

The production of copper during March for North and South America totaled 123,241 tons, as against 128,736 tons in January, the last month with an equal number of days. This production, however, is in excess of any of the months of last year, yet it seems evident that it is sufficient to put some backbone into the market.

WORLD OUTPUT DROPS

The copper production of the world dropped from 143,337 tons in January to 137,036 tons in March. This drop in production came almost entirely from the mines of the United States, as Mexico, Chile, Peru, Japan and Belgium had almost the same production in March as they did in January.

The significant thing is that the daily rate of production during March was 4423 tons, as against 4743 tons daily in February. This figure was in excess of the daily rate of world production during 1926, which was 4385 tons.

In spite of a month of small buying reported, the curtailment in the production of copper during March was sufficient to reduce the surplus of refined copper by 2584 tons, and the stocks of blister copper by 11,994 tons.

STARTLING DATA

The March copper statistics were startling. This is not from the point of view of production curtailment, as every one knew that this was being done, and it was only the extent in which the consumers were interested, but the figures on shipments were far and beyond what any one had expected in view of the published reports of the past six months on the dullness of the copper market.

One would think from the reports that have been current during the past six weeks that no copper was being bought at all, yet the March figures appear far better than these reports indicated. The copper that was exported during March totaled 49,767 tons, as against 48,130 tons in January, another thirty-one-day month, and 43,690 tons in February, when reports showed the buyers fell all over themselves to get the metal.

The same thing is shown in domestic shipments, for 78,948 tons were shipped during March as against 76,498 tons in January and 65,564 tons in February. These figures would rather look as though some propaganda was in evidence during the past six weeks relative to the consumers being away on a vacation rather than buying copper.

LOGICAL RESULT

The figures on production, exports, domestic shipments and refined surplus could not help but strengthen the copper market, for they are very favorable, and, with a continuation of the curtailment, there is every reason to see copper take several price advances. The consumers now know that the reports of curtailment were real.

It is worthy to note that the March shipments of domestic copper were in excess of any month since August and were only exceeded by August and March of last year. Exports shipments were exceeded in October and December of 1926, but the March shipments were larger than any other months of 1926 or 1927.

The shipment figures for March seem so far out of line with expectations based upon the reports of "slow sales," "dull market," etc., that it would seem that it must be a mental condition existing that causes the impression of slow selling. The intensive activity of February with a number of large volume sales followed by a period of few, or no, large volume orders, might make the market seem dull if a person forgets about the hundreds of users of copper who are using it every day and buying it in a less spectacular way than the seeking of a bid on millions of pounds in a single order.

The March figures on shipments indicate a great degree of stabilization of purchases, for, without a buying movement and even with what appeared to be an antibuying movement, an immense amount of copper was moved.

EUROPE BUYING

The reports are that copper movements to Europe are starting out well for the first half of April. There is an active competition existing among the brass and tube mills of Great Britain and Germany, and it has so stimulated business in these lines that they report unusually large bookings. Another European demand which has shown up large, is the call for rough copper to be used for the manufacturer of copper sulphate for use in the grape country of Southern Europe.

While copper has reacted to a strengthened position upon the publication of March statistics, lead and zinc have had the reverse. Refined lead production increased from 77,214 tons in January to 81,313 tons in March. The crude lead output increased from 79,999 tons in January to 84,602 tons in March, and the refined lead stocks now amount to 41,047 tons, as against 32,630 tons the beginning of the year.

The result has been a weakening of the lead price to a figure that is lower than the buyers have had for a long while. Although the American Smelting and Refining Company have maintained their contract price at 7.25, there has been plenty of lead to be moved at a far lower figure. The last quoted price is 7.00.

It is evident that lead is being produced in excess of the needs and that the lead mines will have to follow the example of the copper mines and cut off production for a while.

Zinc also is very weak in price, dropping to 6.30. The March figures showed about the same rate of production as during February and shipments about the same with a consequent increase again of zinc stocks.

During March the zinc smelters started to curtail production somewhat, but the effect of this will not be evident for another month and there is every reason to expect some improvement in the zinc situation. While business in zinc is reported as good, it is not good enough to take all of the zinc being produced.

F. W. Woolworth Company Makes Consistent Gain in Sales Since 1907

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive) F. W. Woolworth Company's $253,643,124 sales for 1926 of 5 and 10-cent articles might well be regarded as one of the seven wonders of the world. It certainly far surpasses the accomplishments of any other corporation in the matter of selling merchandise, Henry Ford's not excluded. Net profits of the company after taxes in 1926 were $28,204,927, or slightly more than 11 per cent on sales.

During the last twenty years the company has increased its sales by nearly 1000 per cent and its profits by more than that amount. Each year during those two decades the company sold a larger amount of merchandise than it did during the twelve months previous, and 1926 was a banner year from the standpoint of both sales and net profits.

The Woolworth business was started about forty-eight years ago in Lancaster, Pa., with one store. The company now has 1480 stores in the United States, Canada and Cuba. A subsidiary, F. W. Woolworth & Co., Ltd., operates 342 stores in Great Britain and another subsidiary was recently formed to develop a chain of stores in Germany.

Between 1879 and 1912 its program of expansion was financed entirely through the reinvestment of earnings. In 1912, the present company was formed, taking over the business of F. W. Woolworth & Co., S. H. Knox & Co., E. P. Charlton & Co. and F. M. Kirby & Co.

The new company was incorporated with an authorized capitalization of $65,000,000, consisting of $15,000,000 of 7 per cent preferred and $50,000,000 of common stock, both of $100 par value shares. The preferred represented tangible property, but the common had no equity back of it other than "good will." By May, 1920, the preferred had been retired through the operation of the sinking fund and by 1925 the "good-will" item had been written down to $1 and a real net asset value of $68,632,692 built up.

Cash dividends on the company's common stock were started in 1912 at the rate of $2 annually. Cash dividends from then on fluctuated between 4 and 20 per cent annually, the latter being inaugurated last month, when $1.25 a share was declared for the quarter on the present $25 par value stock. Stock dividends of 30 and 50 per cent were paid in 1920 and 1927, respectively, while in 1924 the stock was split up 4 for 1 and the par value changed from $100 to $25 a share.

Although not officially stated, it is understood that the 1926 sales reported by the parent company do not include those of subsidiaries and that profits are only included to the extent of which dividends were received on the stocks owned. In that event the company is developing a large equity in subsidiary company assets and earnings. It is interesting to note that the parent company's investments in its British subsidiary were revalued at $13,566,178 higher in 1926.

WHY UTILITIES MUST BORROW

More than $1,500,000,000 of new capital was put in 1925, into the public utilities of this country, the telephone and telegraph companies, electric railways, gas and electric light and power enterprises. Something more than 50 per cent of this sum was provided through the sale of bonds, about 30 per cent through the sale of preferred stocks largely to customers and employees, and the balance through the sale of common stocks. The total of this financing exceeds the combined amount of new money raised during the same period by the iron, steel and automobile industries, the coal and copper mines, the oil and rubber enterprises and all the railroads.

For a number of years the additional capital needs of the public utilities have exceeded $1,000,000,000 annually. Since no other industry in this country calls on the public for funds in such large amounts yearly, investors sometimes ask the reason of the constant capital hunger of the utilities and why these public-service companies do not finance their expansion programs through the use of surplus earnings, as do many other successful businesses.

There are several reasons for this situation. In the first place, the utility business requires a larger investment per dollar of revenue than most other businesses. In industrials and in various kinds of merchandising capital turnover occurs from one to ten times a year. A successful manufacturer, for example, will turn over at least once a year. But the successful public utility has a turnover only once in three to five years. Therefore, when extensions are needed the utilities are forced to raise new capital.

Again, in the very nature of this business no great surpluses can be amassed. The earnings of utilities are limited by State regulations, which allow them only a reasonable return upon their investment. In other words, they are not permitted to earn enough money to pay out of current revenue for the extensions necessary to supply the constantly increasing demands for their services. This condition works to the advantage of the investor, however, for although it restricts the amassing of large surpluses it assures stable demand and a steady income, thus making the capital investment of the well-managed utilities doubly secure.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 26. (Exclusive) The market reacted today from the pressure of profit taking, first at Liverpool and then here, shortly after our opening. The weather map was clear, and settled conditions prevailed for the first time for several weeks over the central part of the belt. This included the flood area, but the situation there is still very serious in the opinion of both experienced cotton trade interests and government officials.

There was a decline of 12 to 15 English points in futures from profit taking by Liverpool and London operators, followed by a good deal of reselling for Bombay account. The market there, however, closed steadier at a net decline of 10 to 13 points on the day against about three due to have met our closing reaction of late yesterday from the best prices of the day.

Traders here followed the Liverpool decline and sold freely from the opening. It brought about a setback of 17 to 20 points from our final prices of yesterday, May receding to 14.82c, July 15.10c, October 15.40c and December 15.60c before enough new trade buying developed to check the reaction, which was looked upon as a perfectly natural movement after a rise of about 100 points maximum in the last few days. Heavier export clearances and news of another serious break in the levee, this time near Shreveport in Louisiana, inundating a large area of rich cotton lands gave the market its better tone during the afternoon.

The crest of the flood is now nearing Vicksburg, Miss., and deep concern is being manifested by government officials whether the levees below that point will hold with such an immense amount of high water above the flood stage now pushing down. It will be four or five days before the crest of the wave will reach New Orleans for its outlet to the gulf to sufficiently relieve the great pressure.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The bear crowd flushed with its success of the previous day fought vainly to retain the advantage gained in the leaders. Strong effort was made to create an appearance of weakness in General Motors, obviously for the purpose of offsetting the favorable influence of record-breaking first quarter earnings, which were not made public until after the close Monday. The stock was driven down to a new low for the reaction following its initial upturn, but subsequently it became evident that the bears had been selling themselves into "the bag." A sharp recovery ensued when covering was attempted.

Steel Buying Good

With the quarterly meeting of Steel directors taking place after the closing there was a ready demand for the industrial bell wether. First-quarter earnings, it was reckoned, might possibly prove a pleasant surprise contrasted with those of the independents which have come out so far. Again, it was realized that in all probability the stock dividend would be formally made to carry the regular dividend. Buying of both the present and dividend stock was reputedly of the best character.

Opinions

Experienced market observers were generally of the opinion that an extension of the reaction was to be expected. The ease with which prices gave way on Monday, particularly in stocks which had been the leaders recently, led to belief that a good deal of "well-timed" liquidation had been completed previously. The improved tone today was ascribed generally to the disposition of some big traders to cover in view of remarkable manner in which early necessitous selling was absorbed through the list. The record of past performances indicates that a resection, such as experienced yesterday, has almost without exception been followed by a secondary downturn.

"Mop" Issues Weak

A feature of the day was the heavy selling of the Missouri Pacific issues inspired by the growing fears of large damages incident to the Mississippi flood. Both the preferred and the common were forced back sharply, and there was an abrupt decline in Texas and Pacific which had been spectacularly strong of late. The downpour of selling came in face of strikingly good showings by both properties for March.

Loss Estimates Too High

Those familiar with the railroad situation in the territory now inundated were of the opinion that the general run of estimated losses are plainly absurd. Few roads, it was pointed out, are in the exact line of the floods. Many have great St. Louis terminals and their traffic will likely be seriously impeded; but the properties there are of such permanent character that the losses cannot be severe for their lines go off mostly east and west and are certain to escape serious damage.

Pierce-Arrow Breaks

Heavy liquidation broke out in Pierce-Arrow preferred and common, carrying both stocks into new low ground for the year. The selling was precipitated by the keenly disappointing showing of the company's first-quarter results. In that period net was equivalent to but 43 cents on the preferred stock, contrasted with a balance of $3.26 a share reported for the corresponding quarter last year.

Lima Locomotive Strong

One of the few stocks which negotiated new high levels for the year in the course of the day was Lima Locomotive. Resumption of large-scale buying here was ascribed as reflecting further accumulation by a new speculative group which was attracted by the strong financial position of the company and the high book value of the stock.

Western Pacific

The further decline in Western Pacific issues to new low levels was ascribed to growing apprehension over the outlook for the preferred dividend. It was recalled that at the last meeting a special committee had been appointed to report on the company's financial position, and earnings outlook. Action on the dividend in the future depends on the nature of the committee's report.

Plans Complete for Meeting of A.B.A. Council

Representing the American Bankers' Association comprising some 22,000 banking institutions located in all parts of the United States, the annual spring meeting of the executive council will be held at the New Arlington, Hot Springs, Ark., May 1 to 5, inclusive. Plans and arrangements have been completed and were announced in New York yesterday by F. N. Shepherd, executive manager of the organization.

The council is the administrative authority of the association in the interval between the annual sessions of its general conventions and consists at present of 140 members. During the main sessions reports will be presented by the national bank, savings bank, State bank and trust company divisions. Reports will likewise be received from the American Institute of Banking, the clearing-house and from the agricultural, commerce and marine, economic policy, public education and public relations commissions.

Several bankers from Los Angeles will join the Pacific Coast delegation for the journey to the meeting.

FEDERAL-TRUCK DECLARES EXTRA

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Federal Truck declared a stock dividend of 2 1-2 per cent and the regular quarterly cash dividend of 20 cents. The stock dividend is payable July 5 and the cash July 1.

MISSOURI PACIFIC EARNINGS INCREASE

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—The Missouri Pacific earned $1.16 a share on the common in the first quarter, against $1.07 a share in the first quarter of 1926, surplus rising to $1,064,549 from $1,792,089.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Prices moved irregularly lower in today's dull session, with further contraction of general operations and a tendency on small traders to mark time. There were a few issues which moved against the general trend, but their movements appeared more or less aperiodic.

Public-utility shares on the whole showed a firm undertone, Black-stone Valley Gas and Electric selling more than 3 points to a new high for the year, and Electric Investors gaining 1 points. Cities Service, on the other hand, dropped 3¼ points. Oil stocks continued to work in opposite directions, with Vacuum climbing 4 points and Prairie Pipe Line 2, while Ohio Oil and Standard Indiana were freely sold. Disappointing quarterly earnings reports by several companies probably induced some of the selling.

Allen Coal recovered partially from heavy selling in the early dealings, when the price was pushed more than a point. Material losses were sustained by United States Gypsum, Curtis Publishing, Central Leather A (when issued,) Deere & Co., and Freshman Radio. Goodyear Tire, American Arch and Western Maryland first preferred advanced 1 to 2 points.

Most of the motor shares were fractionally lower in reflection of poor earnings reports and pessimistic predictions concerning the outlook for the automobile trade.

Tomorrow's new offerings include $8,500,000 Public Service Company of Oklahoma first mortgage 5s, priced to yield about 5.15 per cent, and $2,750,000 city of Trondhjem, Norway, external loan gold bonds, offered on a 5.65 basis. An issue of North Carolina 4 per cent highway bonds also will be placed on the market tomorrow.

The closing price is omitted when same as the previous, and both low and close when same as the high.

lost more than half its gain on realizing. Net gains of 3 points or more were recorded by Air Reduction, American Radiator, American Woolen preferred, Brooklyn Union Gas, Commercial Solvents B, Dupont, Hudson and Manhattan, National Lead, Pathe Exchange and South Porto Rican Sugar.

In the rail group, Texas and Pacific, Missouri Pacific and St. Louis-Southwestern were freely sold on reports of extensive damage to their properties by the flood. Bangor and Arcostook, on the other hand, jumped 8 points to 79 on unusually high first-quarter earnings, and Delaware and Hudson touched the highest price in twenty years at 215 3-4 and then eased nearly 3 points.

Time money and commercial-paper rates were unchanged.

Practically all of the important commodity markets lost ground. May wheat declined fractionally, but the more distant futures showed moderate improvement. Cotton futures fell back 16 to 22 points on the belief that reports of crop damage were exaggerated. Coffee prices sagged 15 to 20 points, and sugar quotations were practically unchanged.

A sharp drop of nearly 20 points in Italian lire, which again sold below 3½ cents, was the only change of consequence in the foreign-exchange market. Demand sterling ruled firm around $4.85 5-16 and French francs were firm around 3.91 cents.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Prices were generally steady in the bond market today, with activity on a restricted scale. Traders were inclined to await developments before adding to their commitments, despite the presence of relatively easy money conditions.

Secondary railway issues gave the best account of themselves, while public utility issues were inclined to sag. Delaware and Hudson common moved up more than a point, the former touching a new record high for the year at 180½.

Some mortgages displayed a degree of irregularities. Brooklyn Edison 5½s debenture 5½s jumped 3 points to a new record price at 107, coupled with a rise in the stock. Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit, which has been advancing for several sessions, were freely offered and declined fractionally.

Industrials attracted little attention other than liquidation of Pierce-Arrow, which dropped 3 points on the company's poor first quarter earnings report.

General Electric 6s, gaining more than a point, was the outstanding issue in the full foreign department. United States government issues moved slightly.

Subscription of the $20,000,000 Illinois Central and Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans joint 5s and the $12,000,000 State Mortgage Bank of Jugo-Slavia 7s, both offered this morning.

Wheat Futures Decline; Corn Closes Higher

CHICAGO, April 26. (Exclusive)—Wheat prices held within a range of ½@¾c, with changing between the various deliveries furnishing a good part of the business. The May was under pressure from scattered longs and went to 2¾c over the July, the smallest premium on the crop, compared with 5¾c over at the finish on Monday. Closing trades were ¼c lower to ¼c higher, with May 1.33¾@1.32½, July 1.30¼@1.30¾ and September 1.29⅝@1.29¾.

Scattered liquidation was on in corn early, but the market rallied ½@¾c or more as the pressure let up, and the finish was ¼@⅛c higher, with May 71¾. July 77¼@77⅛ and September 81½. Oats were up ⅛@⅜c, with May 44⅝, July 43¼ and September 41⅝@41¾. Rye closed unchanged to ⅛c lower, with May 1.02⅝@1.02¾ and July 1.01@1.01¼.

Outside interest in wheat was small and the aggregate business the lightest in some time. There was selling of May and buying of September by one set of brokers, while others bought May and sold July. Liverpool was easy and 9d lower at the last on a let-up in the demand, but Broomhall's international review called attention to the liberal demand from the United Kingdom and the continent, with heavy consumption, and the seaboard late in the day estimated sales in all positions at 600,000 to 500,000 bushels, with Portugal inquiring for 1,650,000 bushels.

Weather conditions over the Northwest were more favorable and seeding of spring wheat has been resumed at many points, and rapid progress is expected from now if there is no more rain of consequence. The market paid little attention to a reduction of 22,458,000 bushels in the world's available supply.

Cash interest continues to buy May and sell July corn, and the spread narrowed to around 5¾c at the last, after being 6c at the opening when scattered liquidation in the near-by future found support lacking. Trade in the aggregate was light and local shorts covered toward the last. There was talk of export business at the seaboard, but quantities were not given. Eastern demand remains slow.

Export sales of around 1,000,000 bushels of oats have been made in the past two days for shipment abroad, via Montreal and New York. The reported business had some effect on futures and brought in fair buying and a higher close. Houses with northwestern connections bought May and sold July at ¾c difference. Weather conditions were more favorable and seeding was reported as under way in Illinois and Iowa, with prospects that it would be nearly completed by the end of the week.

Scattered longs sold May rye and it went to 1¼c over July at one time. The seaboard reported 200,000 to 300,000 bushels sold for export and eastern handlers have bought around 500,000 bushels from Minneapolis and Duluth in the past two days, as well as some Canadian.

An active trade and an advance and close at gains of 15@17½c was on in the lard.

Houses with foreign connections were large buyers of September lard, which was mainly absorbed by shorts and by investment buyers.

A better trade was on in meats for relief work in the flooded districts and dry-salted bellies were ¼c higher. Futures of bellies were offered sparingly and sold up 25@50c, the latter on July. Short ribs were sparingly traded in and closed 5c higher on May and 32c upon July.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fresh receipts were very light, around 100 head being estimated; however, a fair supply was on hand, there being around 600 head held over from yesterday. Steers left over were mostly plain light Imperials, generally showing that feeders were sorting deep into their herds in attempting to move as many as possible before grass stuff is ready. A fair clean-up was made at uneven prices, mostly steady with Monday's close, or around 25 cents lower for the two days. No strictly good steers were offered. The bulk of steers, Imperials, cashed from 6.25@6.75, mostly 6.50@6.75 and averaged from 794 to 1035 pounds. CITY LOSES IN PATENTED PAVING SUIT

Supreme Court Reverses Ruling in Test Case to Interpret Charter Clause

Los Angeles lost a legal bout with patent pavement companies yesterday through a ruling handed down by the State Supreme Court, dispatches from San Francisco revealed last night. The ruling was made on a test case arranged to obtain interpretation of a clause in the new Los Angeles city charter.

Under the old Charter patent pavement companies, under a license agreement with the city, agreed to provide their product to all contractors within a specified radius at the same price. The city contends that under the new charter it has a right to demand that the patent pavement companies accept a stated royalty for their patent process, but that the contractors should mix the product themselves. This, the city contends, would open competition not only on the grading and laying, but the actual mixture of the product itself. Incidentally, if the city had won, the pavement companies would have been forced to reveal just what their patent royalties were.

The case was won in the Appellate Court, but in an eighteen-page decision handed down yesterday by Justice Shenk and concurred in by six other Supreme Court justices, the former decision was reversed. The test case was based on the application of a contractor to pave a certain street under the same license agreement as existed under the old charter. City Attorney Stephens said last night that the Supreme Court's ruling means that paving contracts in the future will be on the same basis as under the old charter. No petition for a rehearing is contemplated.

EXACT CONTROL OF CAR URGED

With the schools crowded and children dashing across the streets at all angles in spite of all the instructions they get to the contrary, one of the first demands on the thoughtful motorists is complete car control, declares Sergt. E. L. Johnson of the police traffic department.

Near the schoolhouses, of course, there are warning signs and traffic officers on duty, therefore drivers are careful in those localities, but they have no such protection on the side streets and main thoroughfares, where there are no schoolhouses.

While the average driver is usually on the lookout for unexpected emergencies, he needs more than good eyesight and proper brakes.

Absolute control of his car is essential.

Pacific-European Conference Circles Stirred

Harrison & Donaldson Lines to Keep Old Tariff

A bombshell was dropped into the plans of the Pacific-European conference, to raise the tariff on all dried fruit and canned goods exported to the United Kingdom and North Europe after May 1, yesterday by Balfour, Guthrie & Co.'s announcement that that company's vessels will continue to carry Pacific Coast fruits and canned goods across the Atlantic at the old rates of 75 and 70 cents, respectively.

The action means that the British vessels of the Harrison Direct Lines and Donaldson's Pacific Line, for which Balfour, Guthrie & Co. are Coast agents, will continue to maintain the present low tariffs to Europe against the ten lines of the conference group, which on May 1 will adopt the new high tariff, on which the dried fruit rate will be 85 cent. and the canned goods rate 80 cents.

The announcement, made yesterday by Walter Wilkinson, steamship freight manager in Southern California for Balfour, Guthrie & Co., follows:

"Balfour, Guthrie & Co., in line with their policy to keep faith with Pacific shippers, announce that they have decided not to follow the increase in rates recently put into effect by the Pacific-European conference, from the Pacific Coast to the United Kingdom and North Europe, and intend to maintain present tariffs during the coming season, as follows: Seventy cents per 100 on canned goods and 75 cents on dried fruit."

Mr. Wilkinson said that the new monthly refrigerator service of Donaldson's Pacific Line will be inaugurated here when the steamer Kasalia leaves Los Angeles Harbor in late August. The monthly service of the Harrison Direct Line will be expanded so that Balfour, Guthrie & Co. will have three sailings for Europe monthly from Pacific Coast ports.

Officials of conference lines said yesterday at while indications of the Balfour-Guthrie action had been in their hands for several days, it is as yet unknown what action will be taken to meet the stand of the non-conference lines. Shipping interests at the harbor yesterday were generally of the opinion that a rate war in the Pacific-European trade may result.

Lines operating out of Los Angeles Harbor to Europe and United Kingdom ports and belonging to the conference include the Royal Mail Steam Packet Line, the Holland-America Line, Furness Pacific, Ltd., Norway Pacific Line, United-American and Hamburg-American lines, Danish East Asiatic Line, the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, the Johnson Line and Ellerman & Buckknell's Line. The Italian fleet of the Navigazione Libera Triestina, operating between Mediterranean and Pacific Coast ports, while not a member of the conference, will probably follow the lead of the conference lines, it was announced yesterday by the General Steamship Corporation, coast agents of the N.-L.-T.

STATUE OF HAWAIIAN KING TO ADORN LINER

King Kamehameha, the venerable Hawaiian of some centuries ago, who first united the islands of the Sandwich group, is to live again at a sculptor's hands and travel in and out of his beloved lands.

A statue of the king is now being completed here by Carlo Romanelli and will greet passengers at the head of the stairs as they pass into the music room on the new liner City of Honolulu, nearing completion for the Los Angeles-Hawaiian service of the Los Angeles Steamship Company.

There is only one statue in the world of the island chief, one of heroic size in Honolulu, after which Romanelli's smaller replica is modeled.

Eight oil paintings also are to grace the rotunda of the light well of the saloon, depicting Hawaiian scenes.

Water was pumped from the burned hold of the Isthmian freighter Sagadahoc yesterday morning, the damaged cargo was removed, and the steamer will depart today for San Francisco, where repairs later will be made. Surveyors yesterday were unable yet to estimate the amount of the damage to the cargo and ship, but comparable fires have run well above $100,000. Merritt, Chapman & Scott had two pumps going twelve hours to unwater the hold, which was two-thirds full of water. Apparently the blaze originated in fish meal at the bottom of the hold the 18th inst., burning till a current from the ventilator carried the flame around the edge and into the upper part, leaving cargo unscorched in the middle of the hold. Water and steam administered before the ship reached here did three-fourths of the damage, according to J. C. Baly, assistant fire chief.

J. Foragen, master of the Norway Pacific motor liner Borga, in port from Europe, is declared by friends to be the youngest captain in that country's merchant marine. He is 25 years of age. Not only that, but he has been commanding the motorship Brazil on a South American run two years. Because of the permanency with which Norwegians follow the sea, youthful Norwegian skippers are declared much more of a rarity than in America. Incidentally Capt. Foragen has picked up seven languages. He has been following the sea since he wore short pants.

Private grain dealers of Norway are soon to resume operations, following the decision of their nation to discontinue government regulation of imports of all grain and flour. The government took charge of all food stuff traffic during the World War and has continued the practice since. M. Killen, one of the biggest importers and exporters of Norway, arrived here yesterday on the motorship Borga on his way to the Northwest to study the grain markets. He will motor up coast. The Norway Pacific ships have carried 85 per cent of the northwest grain bought by his country.

Port Warden C. B. Terry plans to post boulevard-stop signs and two-hour parking signs on Harbor Department highways contiguous to the Outer Harbor. Stop signs will be on Fries avenue, A street, Avalon Boulevard and at the California Yacht Club. Signs limiting trucks to fifteen miles and passenger vehicles to twenty miles an hour also will greet motorists on streets adjoining docks.

One hundred members of the southern section of the California Association of Commercial Secretaries will visit San Pedro the 30th inst. They will hold a business meeting, eat at the Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. and tour the harbor in automobiles and boats. Roy H. Beaton, secretary of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, is president of the section.

Wrigley's third largest passenger liner, the Cabrillo, arrived from her winter's anchorage at Catalina Island yesterday and went to Craig's shipyards at Long Beach for her annual overhaul. She will be operated as usual this summer on daily trips around the island, except during rush periods when she may aid the liners Catalina and Avalon in transporting travelers from the mainland to Avalon.

Wilmington Boat Works is nearing completion of another pretentious craft for Jack Stone, a sixty-five foot cruiser to be known as the Phantom. It will be ready for the water in two weeks. Stone also owns the sixty-five foot schooner Wetona II and there is some talk of a match race between her, the Diablo and the Walgar around Catalina Island, if the three owners can agree on terms for the contest.

EDITOR SPEAKS OUT

"I have been criticised quite a little by some of the town smart alecks for using poorgrammar. Now, I have three good reasons for this. In the first place, I don't know any better. Second, half of you wouldn't understand it if I did use it. Third, if I did speak and write correctly I might be managing some big New York paper at a large salary and you farmers would lose the best editor in Graham county."—[Moreland (Kansas) Monitor.

DR. CUNO CITES PATH TO PEACE

Social and Business Dealings Among Nations Urged

Hamburg-American Entry to Port Here Analyzed

"International, social and business relations can provide a basis for world international relations," Dr. Wilhelm Cuno, first Chancellor of the German Republic, told a gathering of about seventy-five representative residence at the California Club yesterday.

"We have just seen," he declared in a cautious reference to the World War, "the consequences of misunderstanding among nations—for example, a complete breakdown in commerce. To avert a recurrence of the evil, he recommended comingling of people and in this feature of his visit to Los Angeles he sees, he said, the greatest achievement.

"But as I hope," he said after telling of shipping facilities that he has planned his organization soon will establish on the Pacific Coast, "that not only carry passengers and mail but also cargoes of goodwill and friendship."

COMPLIMENT PAID

Keen perception and analysation of the Pacific the germ of great development, Dr. Cuno said to his hosts who were got together by the Chamber of Commerce to enjoy conversation, and so the Hamburg-American Line, of which he is director-general, now is equipping vessels to make home.

"I wish you very closely," he added, "and so we decided to put commerce here," and, he added, "of course, what we do cannot much also on the patronage we receive and on help from you."

Some produced from his pocket were received by citizens of Hamburg in January from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce telling of the climate, advantages and business of the city and he declared that the welcome he has received here is typified by his lack of sufficient words of the American language to express his appreciation.

PERSONAL TOUCH

In the personal touch and the realization that are the first and important means of bringing men into harmony with each other, he said.

He spoke told of some of the difficulties of restoring Germany to stability and said the generation in power called on to solve in a few months problems that its predecessors required years to solve. Success, he said, was effected in part old from America, naming especially Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State, and E. H. Harriman, American extension of credits was of great assistance, although he remarked, it came somewhat dear, as credit does.

BISHOP SPEAKS

Considerable consolidation and reorganization took place in German industry in order to effect rapid restoration so that there in the country fewer separate enterprises than before but many greater.

Retired D. F. McGarry of the Chamber of Commerce presided over the luncheon. Along with his welcome to the visitor was added that of Rabbi Edgar Magnin and Bishop Cantwell, Episcopalian Parker of New York, a welcome occasion at the luncheon to Congressional representatives advised his hearers that not only the 1930 census may Call-ifornia a great Congressional reapportionment.

Among the luncheon guests of the day were men of several nations representatives of government, of business and industrial circles.

Cuno will leave today for San Francisco.

ROTARIANS TO MEET

R. G. Brett, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Alberta, Can., will be the speaker at the Rotary Club today noon luncheon. The chairman of the Canadian Day program will be Allen F. Pearson.

IRRIGATION NEEDS OUTLINED

Bond Law Declares Powers of Bond Certification Body Too Limited for Good of Districts

Additional powers and scope must be given the State Bond Certification Act as a forward movement to relieve the present lack of progress in agricultural development of the State, declared Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, yesterday, in an address at the second annual Irrigation Conference at the Chamber of Commerce.

Those present voted unanimously to continue annual discussions of the problems of the economics of irrigation and agricultural development in general.

Speaking in different parts of the room were T. H. Lambert, president of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau; W. D. Ellis, president of the Irvine Bond Bank of Berkeley, and others of the two score.

In his speech to the morning session, asserted that the multiplicity of duties are investigation, legal and structural of irrigation districts is too limited at present to be of great aid.

SUGGESTIONS

He made three suggestions for the betterment of the present situation: first, a constitutional amendment providing adjudication of water rights; second, to set at rest the question as to appropriation of water for home use; second, better engineering or economic feasibility of projects, and, third, authority to the commission to determine that the district requires water to be economically sound.

It was stated that in his opinion a total of the 1,300,000 acres of land included in the irrigation district, only about 300,000 acres will be found to be irrigable.

FIFTY MEN WIN BRUSH FIRE FIGHT

First Blaze of Season in Pasadena Area Burns in Eaton's Canyon

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, April 26.—The first forest fire of the season in this vicinity burned over three and a half acres in Eaton's Canyon near Henniger Flats today before it was brought under control by a crew of fifty men recruited from Pasadena, Los Angeles and the Federal Forest Service.

The conflagration originated in a brush fire which got beyond control of a county flood-control crew and spread rapidly until reinforcements arrived.

The fight against the fire was directed by District Ranger Coulter of the Arroyo Seco station of the Angeles National Forest forces and Deputy Supervisor Anderson of Los Angeles.

The fire was brought under control at noon. Four water pumps were brought to the scene from the government warehouse in the Arroyo Seco and a force of men was stationed last night to guard against the possibility of a new outbreak of the fire.

Girl Deputy in Lickley's Office Snared by Cupid

Dan Cupid invaded City Prosecutor Lackley's offices yesterday and departed smilingly with a fair recruit in the person of Miss Deena Jacobson, deputy prosecutor in the Failure-to-Provide Department.

DEENA JACOBSON.

Stealing away from her duties long enough to go to the chambers of Municipal Judge Rosenkranz, the deputy prosecutor was married to Harry C. Brilliant, 27 years of age, assistant sales manager of the P. A. Newmark Company. Mr. Brilliant is also a law student at Southwestern University.

Miss Jacobson, or rather Mrs. Brilliant, expects to continue her work with City Prosecutor Lickley, she said, adding:

"I am certain I'll never have to issue a failure-to-provide complaint against my husband."

GUARD AT BANKS WITHDRAWN

Patrol of 372 Policemen Will be Called Off by Chief Cline Today

Chief of Detectives Cline yesterday announced that today he will remove 372 police officers who have been "staked out" at various banks since the 15th inst., to deal with bank bandits.

Cline said that no bank robbery has occurred since that date, and that he believes the bandit gang has been broken up, with four suspects in custody and indictments against six more who have left the city.

Special squads of police will be held in readiness to start at a moment's notice for any bank needing help, he said.

BUTLER AND AIDE GO TO NORTHWEST

Portland and Seattle to be Visited Sounding Out Sentiment of G.O.P.

William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican Committee, and William V. Hodges, treasurer of the committee, left Los Angeles last night for Portland, Or., after Mr. Butler had spent a busy day receiving and conferring with party leaders of Southern California.

Mr. Butler's itinerary includes Seattle and Spokane after a brief stay in Portland. The party will probably swing eastward on the last lap of the committeeman's tour of the United States "sounding out" conditions preparatory to the Presidential campaign of 1928.

During his stay in Los Angeles Mr. Butler conferred with scores of Republican party leaders from all parts of Southern California and his reception was climaxed Monday night with a banquet in his honor at the Alexandria.

Mr. Butler urged unity and enthusiasm among Republicans in preparation for the forthcoming campaign, but was silent on the possibilities of the G.O.P. in 1928 and the chances of President Coolidge entering the race for another term.

THREE DIE IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Two Killed When Freight Train Crashes Into Truck; Leap for Car Step Fatal

Two men were instantly killed last night when a truck drawing a trailer was struck by a Pacific Electric freight train on the San Pedro line at Watson Station, Alameda and Willow streets, police reported.

The dead are Bud L. Bewell, driver of the truck, employed by the Baker-Bower Company, 6750 Towne avenue, and an unidentified man, according to police information. Both bodies were badly mangled.

Traffic on the line was tied up for more than three hours by the wreck, passengers changing cars at the scene. The truck was carried 110 feet by the train, it was said.

The freight train, consisting of twenty empty cars, was bound for Wilmington. The train crew consisted of Motorman C. H. Keeling and Conductor J. I. Luther. Keeling declared he signaled for the crossing.

Charles C. Russell, 51 years of age, 25 Thornton avenue, Venice, suffered fatal injuries when he attempted to leap on the step of the second car of a Pacific Electric train at West and Venice boulevards yesterday, police reported. He suffered a basal skull fracture and a crushed chest. He died at the Receiving Hospital.

Handicraft of Juniors on Display at Chamber of Commerce Next Week

"This exposition will be an eye-opener to visitors, who will be given optical evidence of the capabilities of the modern boy, who devotes his spare time as well as his school hours to constructive thought," said Mr. Hauser. "The exhibits will serve to dissipate the cynicism of adults and will inspire thousands of boys with ambition to accomplish something worthwhile in the fields of art and mechanics."

Next Monday at noon the council will conduct a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Building for Roger Motten, executive secretary of the Woodcraft League of America, who will be the speaker. The public is invited.

EXPERT TO HEAD PUBLIC GARDENS

Dean Merrill of Berkeley Named to Post Here

Assumes Charge of Great Botanical Project

New Chief One of Foremost Authorities on Plants

The announcement yesterday of the appointment of Dr. E. D. Merrill, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California, as the director-general of the projected California Botanical Gardens revealed that actual work on the garden is already under way.

DR. E. D. MERRILL.

Crews of men under the supervision of Frank Gillelen are doing the preliminary work that will eventually transform Mandeville Canyon near Beverly Hills into a world-famous botanical garden and center of plant study and development.

The appointment of Dean Merrill was made public yesterday by the board of governors of the project. He will have charge of the scientific end of the gardens and will be charged with directing the development of the project, including the grounds, the buildings, such as the library, the museums, the propagating houses and laboratories. The selection of Dean Merrill is considered a piece of good fortune for Los Angeles. Although he still retains his position as dean at the university, the bulk of his time will be spent in Los Angeles directing the work of the botanical gardens.

LEADING AUTHORITY

Dean Merrill is regarded as one of the foremost authorities in the field of botany and related plant sciences. Following his graduation from the University of Maine in 1898, he took up work with the United States Department of Agriculture. In 1902 he went to the Philippine Islands as government botanist where for twenty government scientific work. In the two years he was engaged in time he was there he collected the most complete library in Asia and gathered together one of the largest collections of botanical materials in Asia.

Commenting on the new California Botanical Gardens, Dean Merrill expressed the belief that they will come to be one of the great world centers of plant science and development and of incalculable value and a large asset to the Pacific Coast and the entire Southwest. They will have a wide commercial value as a giant laboratory to determine the possibilities of increasing man's use of plant life and will serve as a great attraction to tourists and local residents alike, the dean pointed out.

SEMIPUBLIC PROJECT

In connection with the announcement of the appointment of Dean Merrill it was pointed out that the California Botanical Gardens are in the nature of a semipublic project—a nonprofit institution. It will be unique in that its operating expense is insured through an endowment in the form of property income accruing to the gardens. The endowment itself is estimated at $7,500,000.

The gardens will be open to the public both for their esthetic value and commercial opportunities. The home owner and garden lover can obtain expert advice as to what seed, plants or shrubs to plant and he will even be given rare species of plants from foreign climes to try out in the local climatic conditions.

Backers With Sportin' Blood, Show Yer Grit

An offer to ride 3000 miles horseback, handcuffed and shackled to the saddle, if he can find a backer, is made through The Times by Nowatto Slim, Cherokee-French-Canadian native of the Panhandle country, World War veteran, and hereabouts known as Texas Richard, sometime motion-picture cowboy.

"I just wanta see if they's any more sportin' blood," Slim said, "and I'll ride anywhere, any time, anything, right after Sunday, when I'm ridin' in the Baker ranch rodeo. Only I wisht somebody'd furnish me a coupla hosses for the ride. Mine is all right, but they's a-gettin' a little too old for that."

"I was the champ broncho buster at the Calgary roundup in 1921, when they was ridin' hard," Slim said.

The Indian is three-quarter redskin, he says—said he is living at the Ariste Apartments and 'lows he can be got there 'most any time.

ALL-YEAR FUND BOOSTED

Total of $40,000 Subscribed Since Last Tabulation; Motor Car Dealers Contribute Liberally

Mail subscriptions to the Southern California Forward Movement were received in such a flood during the past week that a total of $40,000 additional in subscriptions to the movement was recorded from the date of the last tabulation. This $40,000 includes subscriptions obtained by direct solicitation. The subscriptions of $500 and over follow:

Earle C. Anthony, $1000; Western Union Telegraph Company, $1000; L. A. Paint, Oil and Varnish Club, $700; Samson Tire and Rubber Company, $500; Louis K. Liggett, $500; Meyer & Holler, $500; Walker & Eisen, $500; Arthur Bard, $500; Lee, Callahan & Son, Inc., $500; Brownstein Louis Company, $500; Retail Plumbing Supply Credit Association, $500.

Financial support from the motor car dealers this year has been conspicuously stronger than in the past, Robert S. Breyer, president of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, was in charge of the work in this section. He pointed out to many of the dealers that they are among the earliest to gain a financial benefit from the arrival here of tourists and new permanent residents.

California now is second to New York in the number of cars registered. It is outranked by that State about 200,000 cars, but at the same time is outranked by nearly 10,000,000 in population. In per capita ownership of cars California is first in the United States, a conclusive indication that the people who come here to live are people of means.

The subscription of $1000 by Earle C. Anthony called for a warm commendation by the committee of ten that is raising the money. It was pointed out that last New Year's Day Anthony rendered a significant advertising service to the Southland in broadcasting all over the United States the story of the Tournament of Roses and of the East vs. West football game.

MOUTHS KEPT CLOSED FOR FEAR OF TONSIL TWISTERS

Among the guests who quickly moved out of the Biltmore when the convention of doctors moved in were Mr. and Mrs. Tonsil and their stepchild, Vermiform Appendix, it was observed yesterday.

As a matter of fact Timothy Turnover, prominent sword swallower, formerly connected with a large circus but more recently dietitian lecturer on the Chautauqua platform, is the one who observed the departure of the late lamented guests.

"I have noticed," said Mr. Turnover from his lounge in the galleria, "that every time you start to yawn around here you are immediately surrounded by a band of medicos craning their necks to get a look down your throat to see if you happen to have a pair of tonsils concealed about you. As for an appendix—anyone found guilty of an appendix is immediately read out of the party."

On the other hand, even a casual histopathologic study reveals that progressive pigmentary dermatosis is a definite clinical entity.

The doctors are really human. When the convention opened Monday the speakers austerely delivered austere speechs to austere gatherings in the austere ballroom where you couldn't hear a word that was said because the speakers declined to use the loud-speakers because it distorted their voices. And instead of the pitcher of water and one glass for all the speakers there were individual sanitary cups. And during the sanitary drinking pauses the crowd moved out in swarms because they couldn't hear. Yesterday they had the loud speaker going in the ballroom and the crowd stuck. Today may see the return of the common drinking glass.

Monday a doctor told the convention that what the world needs is the return of the old-fashioned family doctor who brought the baby in a satchel. Yesterday the convention was told that the passing of the old-fashioned family doctor certainly was a blessing.

Fighting shy of such controversial subjects, Dr. George H. Kress, editor of California and Western Medicine, and prominent local physician, remarked that his big job at the convention was to handle the arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting delegates.

TOO MUCH TOLD, PHYSICIAN SAYS

Tells Medical Convention Sex Talk Dangerous

Mixed Discussions in Schools Deplored by Speaker

Commercialization in Cities Also Criticised

Ignorance is not innocence, but the general information given the laity on medical subjects has caused a loss of prudery, one of those indefinite charms formerly possessed by women, Dr. Stuart McGuire of the academy of medicine, University of Virginia, told doctors attending yesterday's session of the California Medical Association at the Biltmore.

DR. STUART McGUIRE

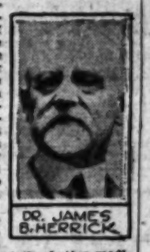
Dr. McGuire and Dr. James B. Herrick of Rush Medical College, Chicago, were the principal speakers at the main session in the ballroom of the hotel.

"Matters are now discussed in a mixed audience with a freedom and frankness that would have been thought unbelievable a generation ago," Dr. McGuire continued. "Beginning with co-education and equal suffrage, subjects suggestive of sex differences, the field of activity of the female mind has broadened until now the average high school girl is more or less familiar with the problems embraced under the terms eugenics, race suicide and the social evil.

"The woman today has lost her prudery; let her beware lest she lose her modesty as well."

An examination of school text books today shows that just as our children once were taught false history today they are being taught false science in physiology and hygiene, Dr. McGuire declared. The attempt to teach sex hygiene in the schools he termed an evil.

"It is a difficult question to decide in an individual case when and how to impart delicate information regarding sex hygiene," the speaker stated. "If parents hesitate to discuss the matter with their children at home it is certainly an evasion of responsibility attended by great danger to turn the subject over to an old maid school-teacher to deal with in a mixed school."



DR. JAMES B. HERRICK

By moral suasion, State legislation and the combined efforts of the better medical schools the entrance requirements for medical students were advanced, the number and length of teaching sessions increased, the character and scope of curricula improved and the minimum number and pay of full-time teachers were specified, Dr. McGuire said. Through this work the total number of medical schools in the United States has been reduced from 160 to eighty and the total number of students from 28,143 to 18,840. The benefit of this movement is seen in the improved quality of graduates and unquestionably will result in an improvement in the ethics and efficiency of the profession, Dr. McGuire predicted.

CENTERING IN CITIES

"Now the best doctors are centering in the cities and specializing in some particular branch of medicine," the doctor said. "To remedy this evil country practice must be made less arduous and more profitable. With specialization has come a tendency to consider his calling more a business than a profession. The modern doctor has discarded the silk hat and frock coat of his predecessor and put on the sack suit of the business man. In a sense he has

POLICE RAIDERS WARNED

Commission Condemns Violence in Hunt for Liquor in Homes and "Beating Up" of Citizens

Brutal attacks on citizens and destruction of property by police officers, especially in the conduct of raids on private dwellings suspected of being storage places for illicit liquor, were condemned and ordered stopped yesterday by members of the Police Commission after several complaints were heard.

The action of the commission resulted in the dictation of a statement by Chief Davis for the Police Bulletin in order that all policemen may be informed of the attitude of the commission.

At the close of the meeting President Birnbaum of the commission assured one of the complainants, Mrs. Bessie Lloyd, that the asserted misconduct of policemen in making search for liquor, as well as in other lines of duty, will be stopped if it is necessary to discharge half the force.

TELLS OF RAIDS

Mrs. Lloyd complained that eight squads visited her home at 1441½ Ridgeway Drive at intervals during the last three months. All but two of the visits were made in the daytime and she allowed the police to enter without a warrant, she said. On one occasion, according to her story, "the policemen tore up everything in the place." Another time they broke a glass door and were stopped from forcibly entering the house only by her mother, Mrs. Nellie Dawes, who stood guard for several minutes with a revolver, she stated.

Deputy Chief Plummer, when asked by the commission if he knew of the case, told Mrs. Lloyd that the police are satisfied that her home is not a bootlegging establishment and she will be disturbed no more.

After the meeting Mrs. Lloyd stated to several persons present that an unidentified policeman, subsequent to the gun incident, threatened that he would cripple her mother for life if she used such tactics in opposing his entrance to their home.

TELLS OF BEATING

With his forehead bandaged and one eye blackened and swollen, William P. Sanders, Santa Monica realtor, appeared before the commission and charged that he had been brutally and needlessly struck twice by Sergt. W. F. Dunn after an altercation over a traffic matter. He was asked to make his charge in writing and the chief was ordered to make an investigation.

In a written communication, D. J. Cotter, 2068 Dayton avenue, informed the commission that two policemen came to his home March 21, last, and charged that he was bootlegging, according to information furnished them by Councilman Carl I. Jacobson. At a later date, Jacobson denied that he made the charge, according to Cotter, who asked that the name of the person who gave the information be given him. He stated that the office of the Chief had twice refused to disclose the name of the informant. The matter was referred to the Chief for report.

Reinstatement of Detective-Lieutenant D. C. Huling, veteran hero

by Harry Carr

I AM unable to shed any tears over the sad case of Mile-Away Thomas—shot to death by policemen.

This town is full of these thugs and gunmen. The lives of decent citizens are less safe than in the worst towns of the old border days.

Between the maudlin heroics of the juries, the tangle of red tape of the criminal courts and the inefficiency of the public prosecutors, these professional killers enjoy a sort of perpetual immunity.

SHOOT TO KILL

Chief of Police Davis is admittedly advancing a dangerous doctrine when he instructs his policemen to "bring in dead" every armed criminal caught in the act of committing a felony; but it is a necessarily heroic method for a grave crisis.

His policy will not last long. It will disappear, owing to the scarcity of gunmen to shoot. They will scoot out of here like rats.

CRIMINAL LAWYERS

It would appear that the Bar Association should be heard from in this connection.

What have these gentlemen to say about the criminal lawyers who make a regular settled business of defending known and admitted gunmen—professional killers?

When a lawyer is admitted to the bar he takes an oath to defend the Constitution and the laws of the land. Just what does that oath mean?

BOXING IN DANGER

They work until they get boxing legalized; then they let it slip to the gutter scum; and find themselves thrown out again.

After seeing this Hudkins-Socklyn bout at the American Legion stadium—

I should say that it is about time for boxing to come out again.

ROUGH STUFF

I have seen a lot of prize fights, but this one was the rawest I ever witnessed.

As a circus wheeze it wasn't even well acted. Hudkins rushed in with windmill blows that pounded his late sparring partner's shoulders—even his back. His chin was left exposed to the summer breezes. He made no pretense of protecting himself.

Once in a while Ace tried his best to act as though he were groggy—from what no one was able to discover. He was just groggy because he was groggy.

VAUDEVILLE

As they finished and Socklyn was carried to his corner, a theatrical man next to me said: "I would like to sign up that act. With a little more careful rehearsing it would be good."

HAMS

If, by any chance, this fight was really genuine, then there is all the more reason why the match makers of this American Legion should not have signed a couple of such hams.

Hudkins has been ruled out of the ring in several States. There seems to be no very clear reason why California should be the can for pugilistic garbage.

Dorothy Mackaye Declared Drinking with Kelly as Husband Died

IMPROPER CARE LAID TO DOCTOR

Rumor Says Operation Would Have Saved Raymond

Prosecutor Will Confer With Physicians

Wife and Mother Collapse at Actor's Funeral

Dorothy Mackaye was in the Hollywood apartment of Paul Kelly a week ago early Tuesday morning, drinking gin fizzes, when her husband, Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, died at the Queen of Angels Hospital from a beating asserted to have been administered by Kelly, according to announcement made at the District Attorney's office yesterday.

While declining to comment at length concerning this disclosure, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray, who has been assigned to conduct the trials of Kelly, Mrs. Raymond and Dr. W. J. Sullivan, last evening admitted possession of evidence showing that Mrs. Raymond, with her chum, Miss Helen Wilkinson, left the hospital a short time before Raymond passed away and that she was drinking at Kelly's apartment when her husband died.

Another new development was the announcement by Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis that he plans to call a conference between a number of prominent Los Angeles physicians to inquire into reports that Raymond was not given proper medical attention and that an operation would have saved him.

Kelly is charged with the murder of Raymond and is scheduled to go to trial before a jury in Superior Judge Burnell's court on May 9. Mrs. Raymond and Dr. Sullivan are scheduled to be arraigned before Judge Burnell tomorrow on indictments accusing them of compounding a felony and with being accessories after the fact.

COLLAPSES AT FUNERAL

Raymond's funeral services were conducted yesterday morning at the Le Roy Bagley funeral parlors, 1440 Hollywood Boulevard, with an impressive Masonic ritual. After kneeling beside the coffin of her husband and placing one of their baby's shoes in his hand, Mrs. Raymond collapsed and was ordered home by her nurse, preventing her from attending the interment at the Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. A. R. Cedarbloom of Forest Hills, N. Y., mother of the dead actor, became hysterical when she gazed for the last time on the face of her son and it took friends fully thirty minutes to comfort and quiet her. She attended the burial services and again collapsed in the arms of Clarman Anderson, attorney, 158 South Harvard Boulevard, at whose home she is stopping.

The funeral was attended by many prominent theatrical and film stars of the city. Principals in "Castles in the Air," the last musical comedy in which Raymond was starred, sang the funeral hymns and "Dear Old Pal of Mine" just as the Masonic ritual completed.

Mrs. Cedarbloom may be a witness at the trials of the three accused principals, Mr. Murray declared.

He announced he will call several widely known physicians to confer with County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner, who performed the autopsy on Raymond's body and gave his opinion that the actor died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Raymond could not be reached last evening for a statement concerning the new evidence of her asserted visit to the Kelly apartment, a nurse stating she was in no condition to talk.

ATTORNEY WITHDRAWS

As far as could be learned yesterday, Kelly has not completed his arrangements for an attorney. Attorney W. I. Gilbert, who represented him at his arraignment, withdrew from the case on Tuesday when Kelly pleaded not guilty to the murder indictment. Kelly remained silent on his plans yesterday at the County Jail.

Attorney H. C. Gortner, sent to him by relatives in New York, interviewed him yesterday. Attorneys Warren L. Williams and Seymour Silverton said they were still negotiating with friends of Kelly, but that nothing definite had been decided. Judge Burnell has instructed Kelly to be ready for trial on May 9, next, the date set.

Mrs. Raymond went to the funeral services of her husband leaning heavily on the arm of her father, John Mackaye of Denver, Colo., and accompanied by Miss Wilkinson and her nurse. Mrs. Cedarbloom was already there when she arrived. They occupied different rooms until the services started, but were in the same place during the services. Neither spoke nor looked at each other, said those who were present.

SHRINE SERVICE

Raymond was a Shriner, a member of Medina Temple of Chicago, and the Masonic ritual was read at the services by members of the Los Angeles and Hollywood Blue lodges, Chapters, Commanderies, Scottish Rite, Al Malikah Shrine, the 333 Club and Hollywood Shrine Club.

Eva Olivotti, who was Raymond's leading woman in "Castles In the Air," led the singing. She was accompanied by Perry Askan, Marie Wells, Sam Ashe and Charles Villar, who were members of the cast. Other members of this company who attended were Frank Reicher, Mrs. Margaret Bourne, Roy Bradley and A. G. Lewis.

All paid tribute to the character of Raymond, asserting he was a lovable man, generous, big-hearted and one of the best in the profession.

Among some of the prominents at the funeral were Ning Baggott, Harry Howell, president, and H. J. Mock, secretary, of the Hollywood Shrine Club; James Crawford, Fred Esmond, Ed Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Plummer, Jacob Vogel, Paul Nicholson, Ned Sparks, Frank Loomis and Derry Welford. The pallbearers were Gareth Hughes, Theodore Lorch, I. G. Van Nest, Joseph Goldsmith, Jr., Ed Smith and Charles Miller.

One of the floral pieces was sent by the Lambs Club of New York, while others, which banked the coffin, were sent by other theatrical organizations and friends. One of the floral pieces which stood out was sent by Ethel Lee, negro housekeeper for the Raymonds for two years, and the only eyewitness of the fatal battle between Kelly and Raymond. She attended the services in the company of Policewoman Georgia Robinson, in whose custody she consented to remain until after the coming court hearings.

WORK ENDS ON SCRIPPS CASE HERE

Four days of evidence-taking in the Cincinnati multimillion-dollar Scripps estates case was completed here yesterday by John H. Perry of New York, formerly general counsel for Scripps interests.

Perry left for the East last night. The case is one in which Perry said, the widow and four children of James E. Scripps, who managed Scripps's interests, are suing for some $6,000,000 they assert is due them from the estate of E. W. Scripps, founder of the vast holdings including newspaper interests bearing that name.

Charles Evans Hughes, John Weld Peck, who formerly was Federal judge at Cincinnati, and Perry are associated in the case on the widow's side. Of counsel for Robert Scripps, against who service in the case once was effected at Ojai, is Newton D. Baker, formerly Secretary of War.

HALL URGES CITY-COUNTY LIAISON IDEA

Committee as Point of Contact for Two Estates Suggested to Council

Pointing out that approximately 70 per cent of the taxes paid to Los Angeles county originate in this city and that frequently it becomes necessary to bring matters of vital interest to the city before county officials, Councilman Hall yesterday introduced in the City Council a resolution calling for the appointment of a county affairs committee.

The resolution asked that the committee consist of the Mayor, the Director of Budget and Efficiency and one member of the City Council. After some discussion, however, sentiment in the Council favored naming the Mayor and two Councilmen. The resolution then was referred to the City Planning Committee for discussion with Mayor Cryer.

Priceless Gems Shown at Trial of Theft Case

Priceless gems that would grace the crown of a king glittered in Superior Judge Stephens's court yesterday at the trial of John Cronevitch, charged with burglary and declared by the prosecution to be the master hotel thief of the United States. The jewelry placed in evidence consisted of diamond studded brooches, rings, stickpins, watches and lavalieres valued at more than $30,000.

Cronevitch's arrest at an exclusive downtown hotel created a sensation when police discovered the jewels hidden under false bottoms of talcum powder cans. The cans have been placed in evidence together with the jewels, a made-to-order pair of crepe-soled slippers asserted to have been used by Cronevitch in his work, and a set of keys.

Police traced Cronevitch to Los Angeles from eastern cities by his signature on registers when they noticed that his name appeared at many places where burglaries were reported.

WOMEN NOW WIELDING SCALPEL

Glimpse Into Medical Convention Shows Old Idea That Medicine Was Domain for Man Only Has Become Obsolete

DR. ALICE MAXWELL

There was a day when the medical profession, except in rare instances, was indisputably considered man's particular field. A glimpse into the fifty-sixth anual session of the California Medical Association at the Biltmore this week proves that the theory has become obsolete and that women have made an important place for themselves in the profession.

In the opinion of Dr. Alice F. Maxwell, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the medical school of the University of California, this is only the beginning of what they may yet accomplish in this line.

"The idea that only men are capable of being good physicians and surgeons," she said, "is antiquated. I believe that there is a brilliant future for women with character and ability, in certain fields of the medical profession. There are so many circumstances under which a woman's understanding and psychology are so much better than a man's that she can create a very definite place for herself and fill a great need in these specialized lines. The study of children's diseases is one of the most important of these."

Not a member of the association, but an interested visitor at the meetings is Dr. Grace Fairley Boelke of Sydney, Australia. Dr. Boelke is paying her second visit to the United States in an effort, she says, to know the people and the country better. She is anxious to see greater amity between the countries and she feels that this can only be accomplished by a larger understanding among the individuals of both countries.

The wealth of the United States, she said, frightens her.

"Why, I would no more attempt to keep up with the way American women dress and live," she said, "than fly. It's really appalling and I only hope that it won't spread to Europe. And for that matter I don't see how it can. We haven't the money to spend. Now I don't want to give the impression that I have a grudge. We owe the dashed money and we've got to pay it, and I believe that we'll be better for our denials and economies in the long run. This is merely an observation on my part, but I believe that your country is going to suffer from the present youthful irresponsibility in regard to handling money."

Dr. Boelke was in China for some time before she arrived in the United States. She declared tuberculosis is rife in China. Industrial hygiene she says does not exist. Whatever has been done at all in this line has been accomplished by Great Britain and the United States.

Dr. Boelke expects to remain in and around Southern California until next February. She is with relatives at 218 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena.

Among the other women physicians attending the convention are several who, according to their colleagues, stand high in the women's branch of the profession and who have made valuable contributions to the knowledge of medical science. There is Dr. Gertrude Moore of Oakland who is a delegate to the convention and the secretary of the Alameda County Medical Society. She devotes much of her time to research in clinical pathology and has done important work in that field.

Dr. Emma Wightman Pope of San Francisco is a familiar figure at the meetings for she is secretary of the California Medical Association. Even though she gave up her active practice some years ago in order to bring up her family, she still keeps in the thick of things medical and has an active interest in the advances made by women in medical science.

Then there is Dr. Margaret Schulze, assistant professor of obstetrics at the medical school of the University of California, pointed out as one who had accomplished a great deal in her line.

Dr. Mary Butin of Madeira is another delegate who is held in high regard by other members of the association for her ability and services to the medical profession.

DOCTOR WARNS OF TALK ON SEX

become commercial. His offices are not only provided with instruments of diagnostic precision but also with the most modern methods of keeping accounts and collecting fees.

"The specialist is an expensive friend to the patient. The patient goes the rounds submitting himself to exhaustive examinations and his pocketbook to depletion. The system is not essentially wrong. Unquestionably the patient is better cared for than formerly. To the well-to-do, while the cost is great, it is not prohibitory. To the poor, the public and private charities are open where they can get the same services dispensed in no less efficient but in less luxurious fashion. The real sufferer is the great middle class. Caught between penury and pride without the price to pay but with the desire to conceal their poverty, they are often limited to an inferior grade of services."

Dr. McGuire briefly touched on the system which promotes the splitting of fees between the physicians and surgeons. The evil of incompetency in the shape of the unqualified surgeon and the vice of dishonesty in the form of secret division of the fee are being fought by the American College of Surgeons and other organizations and unless a remedy is found action will be taken by an indignant public through State legislation, the doctor predicted.

Dr. Herrick said that the old family doctor is vanishing and set forth as the reasons for his disappearance these facts: It is impossible for one man to know and do the many things required for the proper medical care of a family; specialties are luring the doctor away from general practice; the laity is demanding the services of an expert.

CANNOT KEEP PACE

"Fifty years ago a doctor with a receptive mind and industrious habits could master the essentials that enabled him to practice the art of medicine as it was then understood," Dr. Herrick said. "The gains in medicine are being made so rapidly today that no man can keep pace with them. If one tries to, he spreads himself out so thin as to be a very superficial diagnostician, a poor or dangerous surgeon, an overconfident or hesitating therapist; he is in a word, a mediocre or inferior man. Such a one is apt to drift and wind up as a pseudo quack, a pseudo-scientific general practictioner."

Dr. F. B. Taylor of Oakland discussed the treatment of ulcer. Dr. John C. Willson of Los Angeles, the extra-articular fusion of the hip joint; Dr. William J. Kerr of San Francisco, the rose bengal liver function test, and Dr. Wiley B. Wesson of San Francisco, certain frequent causes of backache.

This morning, Dr. Howard A. Kelly of Baltimore is to discuss the progress in gynecology, and W. W. Campbell, president of the University of California at Berkeley, is to deliver an address before the general session in the ballroom of the Biltmore.

All women connected by membership or relation to members of the association have been invited to attend a reception this afternoon at the home of Mrs. William T. McArthur, wife of the association president, at 2025 South Western avenue. Not only visiting women but all Los Angeles women connected with the association have been invited to the reception.

BREAKFAST CLUB
HOST TO PHYSICIANS

Visiting physicians will be guests of the Breakfast Club Thursday morning. Most of the novelty stunts of the club will be put on for the visitors, and there will be little of a serious nature aside from the introduction of the convention notables, including Dr. W. A. Evans of Chicago; Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cummings, Secretary Hubert Work and Dr. Rupert Blue of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Howard A. Kelly of Johns Hopkins University; Dr. W. W. Campbell, president of California University; Dr. Henry J. Gerstenberger and Dr. R. S. Dinsmore of Cleveland; Drs. Donald Balfour and Charles Sutherland of the Mayo clinic; Dr. J. D. Herrick, Rush Medical College, Chicago; Dr. Stuart McGuire, Richmond, Va.; Dr. George Middleton, Salt Lake City; Dr. John Ormond, Detroit, and Dr. A. L. Bloomfield, Stanford University.

This meeting does not take the place of the regular Friday-morning party, which will take place as usual.

WILL REPORT ON NARCOSAN CLINIC

Dr. E. H. Anthony, who is conducting a narcosan clinic at the County Jail for the benefit of physicians attending the State Medical Society convention, said yesterday there are twenty patients in the clinic, which started Sunday. Reports from fifty cases previously treated show, he said, an unusual percentage of apparent cures.

of a number of gun battles, suspended on charges of insubordination preferred by Commissioner Birnbaum, was ordered by the commission after the reading of a letter from the Commissioner, who withdrew the accusation and recommended reinstatement. Huling will receive pay for the time he was suspended, according to the order.

Chief Davis reported that the police department budget allowance for expenses has been overdrawn and on his recommendation the Commission voted to ask the City Council for an additional $26,425 for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Coroner Fails to Fix Blame in Negro Shooting

A Coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of Sam Faulkner reported yesterday that the deceased came to his death as the result of a gunshot wound inflicted by Officer Randolph, and declared it was unable to determine from the evidence submitted whether the shooting was justifiable.

Faulkner, a negro, was shot in the course of a raid by Officers Randolph and Sheffield, both negro policemen, in search of liquor at 1336 East Fifty-first street. Randolph, after the shooting, said he had been shot in the right arm by a man who appeared in the doorway of a bedroom in the darkness.

QUESTION RAISED ON RIGHT-OF-WAY TERMS

Resolutions introduced by Councilman Moore instructing the City Attorney to investigate terms of the grant conveying the right-of-way along Santa Barbara avenue to the Los Angeles Railway were adopted by the City Council yesterday. The matter was brought up by Moore in connection with the plans for the widening of Santa Barbara avenue west of Vermont avenue. Property owners have raised the point that the railway company's grant obligates the company to bring its right-of-way to the official grade of the adjacent roadway so that the right-of-way will be available for travel and use by the public.

SANTI UP FRIDAY

Judge to Impose Penalty for Statutory Offense

Toni Santi, charged with two statutory offenses against his 15-year-old sweetheart, is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Craig Friday for sentence on one charge and for a hearing on his plea for probation on the other. Judge Craig yesterday continued the case pending further investigation by the probation department.

The case was brought to the attention of authorities when the girl told officers that she had been attacked by two men who had branded the letters "N.R." upon her shoulder. The pair later admitted that they had perpetrated a hoax hoping to gain consent of the girl's parents to their marriage.

BUILDING MEN TO HEAR PROFESSOR

"Vision Plus—in Business" will be the topic of an address to be made before the Builders' Exchange organizations of Southern California Friday evening at Wilmington, by Emery E. Olson, director of co-ordination of the University of Southern California and instructor in the college of commerce. Representatives from Santa Barbara, Pasadena, Compton, Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, Ventura, San Diego and Long Beach will attend the gathering, with Henry F. Lembke, manager of the Builders' Exchange of San Pedro and Wilmington, presiding.

War Veteran Arraigned as Booze Maker

Marvin McConnell, 35 years of age, a World War veteran, yesterday was arraigned before United States Commissioner Head on a charge of operating an illicit liquor manufacturing plant, following a raid by Federal prohibition agents on McConnell's cabin, located in the rugged mountains near Little Lake, Inyo county.

Three agents from the prohibition offices in Los Angeles told how they had climbed the steep, rocky trails that led to the cabin where McConnell, his wife and five children lived. The officers reported they found a fifty gallon still cleverly concealed in the thick brush of the mountainside. The moonshine plant was packed on the back of burros and carried out of the mountains.

According to the Federal agents, McConnell was in possession of seven rifles and a revolver. The arrest, however, was made quietly and without any resistance.

Commissioner Head set bail at $1500 and May 3 for preliminary hearing.

SEAT OF TROUBLE

It is well for us that the Balkans are not also in Central America.

MAGNIFYING OUR ILLS

We make a great mistake in calling every bad cold we get "the flu," both psychologically and doctor-billically.

NO "PRETENDER"

It can be said for Signor Mussolini that he is no sham. As a dictator he simply does nothing else but dictate.

NEVER COME DOWN

There may be a law of gravitation, but the men who make our revenue legislation in these days never heard of it.

DECLARING WAR

The only right way for civilizations to declare war in this age is to declare it uncivilized and unnecessary and to procure justice in some other way.

OR HAVE A PANE

Now the Germans are making wigs of spun glass instead of hair. Think a man with that kind of a covering for his roof might be light-headed.

SPILLING BEANS

The Hungarians have a process for making a fair grade of cloth from bean pods. It is a fine thing if a man can raise his own overcoats in his garden. A has-bean is lucky.

COMPARATIVE HOLLOWNESS

When we think of the old farm meals we feel sorry for the 649,000 Americans who moved to town from the country last year. It must seem to them that there is a great deal of hollowness about cities and much of it settles in the stomach.

SOMETHING TO BURN

Canada is now producing more than 30,000,000 pounds of good tobacco a year—that is, it is pronounced rather good by smokers. The Anticigarette League will not admit that much and expresses fear that the Dominion will go up in smoke.

BORROWING

Some installment houses will sell things 10 per cent cheaper if you pay spot cash. Yet thousands of us will buy on the installment plan and pay 10 per cent more who wouldn't dream of borrowing the money at the bank at 7 per cent and paying cash.

THE REAL INVADER

Even if the Chinese feel some justification in the efforts made to push the English and other foreigners off the front porch they are both foolish and unjust in admitting the Russians at the back door under the pretext that they are assisting. They will have a harder time in getting rid of the Russians than all the rest and they can serve them least.

HE WHO GETS SLAPPED

Slapping Kerensky is getting to be quite a habit. From Alex's point of view it isn't a very pleasant one, but his press agent doubtless enjoys the sight of the many front-page reports of these attacks, the copy for which cost him no mental effort. But if the slaps continue and Kerensky begins to slap back he will get so much publicity that the press agent will find himself out of a job.

AT MONTE CARLO

Last month eight victims of hard luck committed suicide at Monte Carlo. The foolish song about the man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo has been a Lorelei to lure many an unfortunate over the falls. As a matter of fact, the trick has never really been done and never will, but nevertheless there are hundreds who think to garner easy money at this famous resort. Might as well try to skin a live tiger.

IF

"If Abraham Lincoln were alive today he probably would not be a college man," says Prof. Walter H. Whittlesey of Princeton. "The cost would be prohibitive. Jefferson and Franklin would have been dismissed from a modern college because they would not have submitted to the restraints placed upon present-day students." Such speculations are about as valuable as the ancient one, "If your aunt had been a man she would have been your uncle."

IN WONDERLAND

Customs revenues in Los Angeles for the first ten months of the fiscal year exceed $5,000,000, which is more than the receipts for the last full year. This is further substantial proof that the commercial expansion of the Los Angeles Harbor has never had anything to which it could be compared in the history of the world. In a few years the port has become the most impressive trade factor on the borders of the Pacific.

NO POLITICAL JUDASES!

"No American can profit by selling his own country for foreign favor." This ringing pronouncement by the President at the annual session of the United Press Associations in New York Monday night sounds a keynote in the national policy of the individual that should be re-echoed from one end of the country to the other. It is the answer to those who find that their country is always wrong, who would deprive every citizen residing or traveling abroad of the support of the government which, when he is at home, it is his duty and his privilege to support.

The United States is more than a geographical conception; it is a great community of free, liberty-loving spirits who are united together for the common defense and to promote the common welfare. Who touches the least of these touches the whole. We are neither too cowardly nor too niggardly to extend the common defense to each of our own, in every land and on every sea. Absent from sight does not mean absent from the heart.

This is the underlying principle that dominates our national policy, alike at home and abroad. Wherever Americans reside there are American interests; and it is the recognized duty of our government "of the people, by the people, for the people" to protect these lives and these interests when threatened by pillage and violence—to protect them in their rights so long as they have themselves done no wrong.

After pointing out that the foundation of our present prosperity was based in a large part on investments of foreign capital made here in the nineteenth century the President continued:

As we have come into possession of surplus capital we have shown an increasing disposition to extend this same kind of service to other countries. Our people have gone abroad with their investments, their technical skill and commercial ability to assist in opening up undeveloped countries. This is the natural play of the forces of civilization. It is the result of natural and commendable enterprise which carries with it the same kind of benefits and advantages to the other people which we ourselves formerly received from abroad. It is the method by which the more prosperous and improved portions of the earth help to bring these advantages to those less fortunately circumstanced.

This is the kind of development that the government seeks to promote, development that shall be based on justice on both sides, that shall be wholly devoid of exploitation. And when American lives and property are unjustly attacked, when a backward government shall pass retroactive laws for the purpose of plundering Americans, then it becomes the duty of the American government to come to their support; not in an aggressive spirit, not to force unwilling concessions of foreign territory, but to protect interests that were legally and honestly acquired under the laws of the country where the investments were made.

That has been the policy of our government in Mexico, in Nicaragua, in China, a policy which is already bearing substantial fruit. With Mexico no display of force has been necessary. Our government reaffirmed its traditional policy that property of American citizens could not be confiscated by the passage of retroactive laws by another government. Conferences extending over several months followed; and the President electrified his audience and the country at large when he announced that:

The Mexican Ambassador has recently declared to me that she does not intend to confiscate our property and expressed the wish, which we so thoroughly entertain, of keeping cordial and friendly relations. With a strong sentiment of this nature, which, I am convinced, animates the people of both countries, it will surely be possible to reach an amicable adjustment. Our two peoples ought so to conduct themselves that there will never be any interference with our ancient ties of friendship.

In Nicaragua and in China the position of our government is the same. There is no disposition to interfere with the domestic affairs of these countries, so long as American lives are not menaced and there is no expropriation of American property. While groups of "little Americans" all over the country have been crying that our government was wrong, the other governments are agreeing with us that, in extending this protection to our own, we are in the right.

This brings us back again to the keynote of the President's address: "No American can profit by selling his own country for foreign favor."

PLANT TREES

When God made all things good for the use of man He made nothing better than the tree. Indeed, without trees this planet would be uninhabitable for the human race. People who live in places denuded of their forests or where no tree will grow continue to exist by the grace of the other parts of the earth where trees are still abundant.

America owes no small part of its present greatness to the plentiful supply of timber and woodland with which the Creator had blessed it. That precious heritage our people are recklessly squandering. Unless we cease to regard the tree merely in the light of so many feet of dead lumber we shall, in the near future, be counted among the races that exist by the grace of those who still possess a surplus of living forests.

We can postpone that evil day by saving the thousands of trees that we sacrifice to the moloch of the forest fire at the rate of 7,000,000 acres a year. We can set forward the date of our treeless existence from thirty to forty years by using the two-thirds of the tree that is now lost in logging and manufacturing. We can prolong the period of our independence from foreign tree owners by wiping out the insects and parasites and fungi that form the black list of our national forestry.

But cutting out waste and loss will not give us back the forests that are gone or the trees that are still going. Plugging the leaks in a reservoir will not fill it again with life-giving water. There is only one way to stave off the lean and barren days. We must plant trees—and we must plant them in greater numbers than we are cutting them down—and we must do it immediately and make of it a continuous performance.

The unthinking materialist may tell our people not to worry about the possibility that in thirty years' time we shall have cut down the last American tree. He may assure us that by that time chemistry and physics will have found ample substitutes for all the valuable materials that we now extract from our woods and forests. It may be true that science by that time will build our houses for us without wood and manufacturers will no longer need turpentine and resin from the pine, that we can dispense with oil from the eucalypt and silk from the mulberry tree.

But these things will not save us from the doom that overtakes all races that must live in the treeless waste spots of our fecund earth. We might manage to make some headway without dead trees, but we shall surely perish without living ones.

And that end will come more quickly in our semiarid Western States, where trees in the mountains alone make possible farming in the valleys, where the leaves and roots that protect the watersheds preserve the streams to water the dry lands, where the shade of exotic and man-planted trees make pleasant the homes of the rural worker and the suburban resident and where the joy of life is so largely made up of green leaves and colored blossoms. What would life in California be without our avenues of palms and peppers and eucalypti in the plains and on the mountains the noble redwood and the proud Douglas fir?

SIX REVOLUTIONS IN CHINA

Dr. Edward Hume of Yale-in-China points out the somewhat overlooked fact that, whereas the United States went through a single political revolution in 1776 and it took several years to bring peace and order out of disquiet and disorder, China is now going through six revolutions—"a political revolution, an economic revolution, an educational revolution, a social revolution, an industrial revolution and a religious revolution."

As to the correctness of this view of the present state of affairs in China there can be no question. Dr. Hume is on the ground and knows what he is talking about. But we in America hear very little about the economic, educational, social, industrial and religious phases of the revolt that has split China into so many contesting factions. What we hear most of and are mainly concerned about is China's hostile attitude toward the foreign powers. This attitude did not manifest itself to any great extent during the first year and a half of the two years of belligerency which disrupted that unhappy nation. Peking seemed to be willing to carry out the old treaties, but of late has joined in the cry of the Nationalists for the abrogation of all unfair pacts with other countries.

This cry has become louder and louder and is now the leading issue. The social and economic phases of the situation, while they exist, are by no means paramount. The demand for autonomy and the abolition of one-sided treaties is considered by many leading Americans to be an eminently fair one. Our government is manifesting a most conciliatory spirit in regard to it—far more conciliatory, in fact, than that of those nations which, despite all the popular uproar in China against everything resembling foreign authority, still think to keep to the old program of domination and exploitation.

It appeared as if we were about to be drawn into taking extensive aggressive action with the other powers, but recently we have assumed a more disinterested attitude. Fresh instructions from Washington to Minister MacMurray at Peking requesting his withdrawal from active participation in the parley of the powers over punitive measures because of China's refusal to meet promptly the demands for an apology and reparations for the Nanking killings and lootings transformed America at one stroke from an actor into an observer of the stormy Chinese scene.

Of course, we would like to see all six of the revolutions referred to by Dr. Hume terminated in a manner that accords with civilized ideas, but the first thing that must be settled is where China is going to stand politically, as upon this all the other phases of unrest in that country naturally hinge. And to settle this prime factor in China's affairs is not going to be a matter of weeks or months—it may take longer than it did for America to free itself from subjugation and assume its "separate and equal station among the powers of earth."

WASTING SENTIMENT

If California is to have a habitual criminal act that means anything the Assembly committee in which the measure now is reposing will have to be persuaded to drop some strange ideas. The committee, apparently, wants to make habitual criminals eligible to parole, presumably on the theory that not to do so closes the last door of hope to the offender.

Since habitual criminals as defined by the act are men who have been three times convicted of such serious offenses as burglary, robbery, murder—and only serious and vicious crimes are counted—it seems that the Assembly committee is wasting sympathy that might better be directed to the victims of the criminals. If any man can show that he has effected a genuine change of heart after three such convictions he should be able to demonstrate the fact to the Governor, who can intervene. It is too serious a matter for the parole board, upon whose actions the light of publicity does not beat.

Surely if there is any method by which a man can prove that he is a determined enemy of society it is by getting himself convicted three times of a major crime. Future generations may discover something to do with such an enemy other than to lock him up for the protection of society and keep him locked up, but past generations have not found it and the present one is equally in the dark. With the habitual criminal it is no longer a question of confining him for his own good; it is a question of sufficient restraint to prevent him from committing further crimes. Parole is for criminals when there is a possibility of reform. The "three-time loser," to use police phraseology, is so far from the probability of reform that its possibility becomes merely an academic question, and parole should not be considered. Executive clemency can take care of the exceptional cases, if there ever are any.

It is the habitual-criminal acts of New York and other States which have them which strike real terror into the heart of professional criminals. California can be made unhealthy for the thug, the gunman, the burglar and the vicious thief by following the example, and sentimentalizing should stop. Sympathy is beneficial only when it is extended to those who deserve it.

BENEFICENT BUMPS

Residents of California, outside the immediate environs of the city of Los Angeles, have been somewhat spoiled by smooth streets and good boulevards, with the result that they groan and gnash their teeth whenever they strike a rough bit of road. The knowledge that the jolting was good for the liver usually fails to cheer them up.

The motor-car manufacturers are telling us now that bumps and jolts are not only good for the internal workings of the human system, but highly beneficial to the innards of the automobile as well. The chassis lubricating system on many of the new makes depends on the jolting the car receives for its power. Whenever the car strikes a rough spot in the road and proceeds to be jolted off is automatically pumped to the bearings and lubrication is thus taken care of without father spoiling his manicure by getting under the car and attending to this unpleasant detail.

When you consider the condition of many of our streets at present you realize that this matter of lubrication must be well taken care of in the local automobiles. Anyone who has occasion to drive out Wilshire can be sure that his car is being thoroughly lubricated with every turn of the wheels. But instead of calling down anathemas upon the heads of our city for proceeding at such a pleasant, leisurely pace with the widening of that thoroughfare we should endow them with our blessing. The family flivver as well as the family liver is benefited thereby. In fact, the only thing that really suffers is the disposition.

TREE PLANTING

If you are going to join the tree-planting army this spring the American Tree Association of Washington suggests the following "fourteen points" for you to follow:

(1.) A piece of burlap or canvas should be spread over the grass so that the dirt from the holes may be thrown upon it.

(2.) Holes must be made large enough that the roots may be spread out naturally without cramping.

(4.) Good, fertile top-soil must be used about the roots. If the tree is to be planted in impoverished ground, good soil should be provided for it.

(5.) Plant the tree the same depth it stood at the nursery (easily determined by the dirt ring on the trunk.) This is very important.

(6.) Lay the roots out naturally and cut off all the broken or bruised parts.

(7.) Press the earth down firmly, embedding every particle of roots and working it in under the crown.

(8.) With small trees the dirt will settle firmly if the plant is moved gently up and down as the hole is filled. With large trees use tamping stick.

(9.) Pour in water to top of hole after filling three-quarters full with earth. When this is settled complete filling in process, leaving top soil loose.

(10.) Trim broken or bruised branches, also two-thirds of the previous year's growth to offset the loss of roots in transplanting.

(11.) It is often best to trim the leader or central stem, as a forked tree may result. Hardwood trees, like the oak and beech especially, should not have their central leader trimmed.

(12.) Large trees or trees in exposed places should usually be staked. To prevent chafing protect the tree with old hose or with burlap and sticks where the wire is attached.

(13.) After planting it is better to leave a cultivated area about the tree than to sod close to it. This cultivated area should be from three to five feet in diameter.

(14.) Fertilizer, as manure or compost, may be used either in the bottom of the hole or as a mulch, or both. Be careful not to allow manure to come in direct contact with the roots.

The association will register your tree on the honor roll. Charles Lathrop Pack, president, urges you to celebrate the Centennial of Arbor Day in 1972 by planting the trees now.

PET LEOPARD SPOILS CASE

Occupants of flats in a building in Berlin complained recently that a man was keeping a leopard in his rooms, and that they feared for their lives. To prove how docile was his pet, the owner took it into court was petted it before the magistrate. "Did the wicked people say you were a savage beast?" he asked while he stroked and kissed the purring cat as it nestled in his arms. The magistrate was impressed and leaned forward to look at it closely. In an instant the leopard was on the official's desk, growling savagely. Magistrate, assistants, police and witnesses bolted out the door. After court resumed the leopard was promptly ordered evicted from all courts and all flats.

AN ANXIOUS INQUIRY

Alaska is very hard to recognize in these days. A wealthy Eskimo is ill among his reindeer herds on St. Laurence Island, and the school teacher has radioed for help. But the weather was so bad that the airplane at Fairbanks did not even start to get him, and so the government surgeon at Nome prescribed first-aid treatment by radio. That's the news. And will someone explain the rich Eskimo rancher, the school teacher, the surgeon, the radio and the airplane? Is that Alaska or is it Hollywood?—[Baltimore Sun.

Our Fenced-Off Ocean

HOLLYWOOD, April 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Starting at a point about seven or eight miles north of Santa Monica the beach is excluded to the public; from the above-named point the forbidden beach extends twenty-six miles up the coast.

The property is named on the "Keep Off" signs as belonging to the Marblehead Land Company, but in reality belongs to the Mrs. Rindge. Her holdings extend from the water line inland for eight miles and, as above stated, for twenty-six miles up and down the coast. There is, however, a right-of-way along the coast, eighty feet wide, belonging to the State; this road is under construction, only something like four or five miles having been completed.

Further, the signs state the owner is legally able to keep trespassers off, under Federal suit number so and so.

Now California is one of the comparatively few States having the ocean at her very feet, so to speak; and to allow it to be fenced off (so that those who have come in many cases hundreds of miles to see it, are able to view it only from the road) is little short of criminal.

As anyone who has been to the beach in the summer knows, Santa Monica is terribly crowded, as is the beach from there south because of its being so well built up; therefore, the logical thing to do in order to avoid a crowd is to drive north, past the bungalow-holders. But at the very point where the houses leave off and consequently the crowd, the barbed-wire fence of the Marblehead Land Company begins.

Naturally, it is logical to exclude the public from the land inland from the State right-of-way; but the beach is a different proposition. It would be as logical to fence off a strip of land surrounding the rim of the Grand Canyon and to put up signs "Keep Off;" or to surround Niagara Falls with a "No Man's Land."

Of course, this keeping people off of the beach is legal; but that does not necessarily make it morally right. Can we not get some legislation enacted, not only with regard to this case in particular, but also with regard to the general principle involved, i.e., the exclusion of the public from property which by all rights should at least be open to the people if not actually the property of the State.

The Court of Common Sense

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When Coroner Nance said, in answer to an objecting attorney in the Kelly case, "This is not a court; the witnesses will be permitted to tell all they know," he uttered the most illuminating commentary in the fewest words on American jurisprudence I ever heard. It is worth framing. I recently served ninety days on a jury and I am still in a state of befuddlement.

But, while our technicality-hampered legal procedure needs revision and paring to the core, I think the worst miscarriages of justice arise in the juryroom. Twelve logical, unbiased, sanely thinking, "good and lawful men—and women"—cannot be brought together on one panel. Inevitably there are two or three who are swayed by trifles, by sex appeal or a single line of foggy reasoning impervious to argument.

Ten out of twelve should return a decisive verdict, and eight would be better.

A Mother's Appeal

MONTROSE (Pa.) April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Over twenty years ago a young man engaged in the real estate business in Montrose, Pa., and met reverses. His name was Samuel Steine. He disappeared and nothing has been heard from him through all these years, although his father and mother have searched vainly for him. A traveling salesman lately told his father, Louis Steine, a Montrose merchant, that his boy is in Los Angeles, he having married in the meantime. But the son's mother is especially unreconciled over her son's continued absence and daily hopes he will write her.

Will you kindly give publicity to this in The Times in the hope that it will meet the eyes of her boy—now a man of 40-some years—in the hope that he will send her the long-looked-for letter?

AUTO IN LONG OVERLAND TRIP

In the first attempt to travel in an automobile from London to Australia by land except when unavoidable, three Australians left London recently. They are M. H. Ellis, a newspaper man, Francis Bisties and R. W. Knowles. They will pass through twenty-one countries and will cover 15,500 miles by land and 900 by sea. Their route will take them through Verdun, Vienna, Constantinople, Delhi, Singapore, Sumatra and Java. Ellis is making the trip to demonstrate an automobile built for use in new countries like Australia. He expects the most difficult stretch to be the 2500 miles in Burma and Siam, which never has been invaded by an automobile before.

TAXED TO ATTEND OWN SHOW

Theater managers and proprietors in Alexandria, Egypt, are up in arms against a decision recently made by city officials to apply the city amusement tax to officials of theaters and their families, which means that if a proprietor wishes to take his wife and family to his own theater he must pay a tax for each. Theatrical men of the city recently held a meeting at which they drafted a letter to the Governor of the city and Director-General of the municipality, in which they protested that there was no logic in the decision, because high officials of the city exempt themselves from the tax when accepting passes to places of amusement.

"It's sad and strange," said Richard Red, "that I can't get a job. I've walked the streets in rain and snow, with the work-hunting mob; I see the others taken on and hired for work I plead, they round on me to begone—they've all the men they need. Employers advertise for men and I go there in droves, they knock me through the door. "The reason why," I said to a scout, is not so hard to find; you're always looking down and behind. You want a man of has-been kind. You want a man of sundry buttons lacking, his hat's gone galley west, your coat is split along the back, your trousers are not creased. Employers now invite the birds to build their nests therein; you want a woebegone for words. Poor is a sin. 'Here is a man,' employers think, when they behold a frame, 'whose heart and soul are on the blink, who's beaten by the game. He hasn't snap enough to make a scrap against despair, he hasn't pep enough to raise his orders from his hair. He don't ten cents a day, much less a million of scads, and so we'll not be in his way and hire those other blokes.' The other lads retain some pep though they're as poor as mice, their cheap cravats are neat and they've burnished half the shine. There isn't much in store for blokes whose self-respect can stand as much that they will advertise they have lost their grip, but up and try to look as though prospects still are good, and I will gladly pay you a good thing ricks of wood."

TYROLEAN ZITHER CLUB

would likewise be divided into quarterly periods, as follows: First, KDYL in Salt Lake (247,) for its noonday variety program; secondly, KHJ in Los Angeles (405.2,) for the daily stock and market reports; and, lastly, KOMO of Seattle (308,) for the little organ recital.

Then from 2 to 3 o'clock, KTBI, Los Angeles (394,) has its inspirational broadcast, followed by KJBS, San Francisco (220,) for the vocal and instrumental numbers; at 2:30 listen to Fred C. McNabb give his weekly garden talk over KHJ; and then at 3:45 tune in KFWM, Oakland (536,) for piano and vocal solos.

For the next hour a representative program would be the Oakland KLX (508,) for the baseball scores at 3 p.m.; at 3:15 AMB at Tia Juana (301,) for cabaret music; followed at 3:45 by KFXB, Los Angeles (332.7,) for a dance orchestra.

VESPER SERVICE

Commencing again at 4 o'clock, KFWC, San Bernardino (286,) is scheduled to be on the air with a studio program; fifteen minutes later KWG of Stockton (248,) with an afternoon musical; KPEC, Portland (232,) with another studio program, and then to KFWV, also in Portland (213,) for a similar program.

Promptly at 5 o'clock KTAB of Oakland begins its children's hour (302.8;) then to KFWB, Hollywood (252,) for a travel talk with incidental music; KGEF, Los Angeles (517,) for the vesper service, and to KOA, Denver (322.4) at 5:45 for the dinner hour concert program.

At 6 o'clock I would tune in KFSD in San Diego (245.8) for the nightly musical review at 6:15 KPSN (315.½,) for their concert; at 6:30 the Burbank KELW (535) for the studio program, and KPPC of Pasadena at 6.45 (229,) for the church music.

KNX of Hollywood (337,) at 7 p.m. will run some good phonographic tunes, followed fifteen minutes later by KMO, Tacoma (250,) with a program from the town of Olympia; KFON, Long Beach, at 7:30 (282,) with the band concert program, and at 7:45 KPSC, Los Angeles (275.1,) with organ and church music.

Radio news is as important as the newspaper, so I would tune in to KHJ at 8 o'clock for the fifteen minutes of news items; then to Catalina for KFWO (211.1,) for the concert from the hotel lobby; KOIN, Portland (319,) at 9:30, to KFWI, San Francisco (250,) for some songs, and KOIN, Portland, at 9:45 (319,) for a little radio play.

At exactly 9 o'clock I would again tune in KHJ for the evening time signals, the weather report and music by the Tyrolean zither players; followed by KOWW, Walla Walla (285,) for studio music; at 9:30 to KFI, Los Angeles (467,) to sample the orange network program, and again to KHJ at 9:45 to hear the Swiss Yodelers.

BRIDGE GAME

KGW of Portland (491.5,) would bring the bridge game at 10 o'clock, and then KFYD, Venice (508,) fifteen minutes later would be on the air with dance music, followed by KNRC, Ocean Park (226,) with the prize fights; and KMTR, Hollywood, at 10:45 (570,) with some more dance tunes.

The playground department harmonica band gave its usual program together with a solo number by John Orloff; George Kerr, youthful mandolin soloist, offered some tunes; Marguerite Bringham, "Nightingale of KHJ," sang some popular songs; Lois Jane Campbell, "Brown Eyes," who now comes to the studio on Tuesdays instead of Wednesdays, gave recitations; and popular tunes were broadcast by Winston and Weston Doty, 13-year-old twins, and Harl Irvine, 14 years of age, playing the banjolele, ukulele and musical saw. These interesting youngsters have been on the vaudeville circuits and offer pleasing entertainment.

DIXIE'S DAUGHTER

The evening musicals after 8 o'clock brought to the studio Faynette Munro, known as "Dixie's Daughter," in popular pianologues, featuring original numbers and Southern dialect songs. Miss Munro has just returned from her second tour of the Orient and leaves today to continue recitals in the East. She has often sung from KHJ during her hurried trips to California and during the World War, with her own company of five South-

YOUTH LINKED TO BURGLARIES

Fingerprints Bear Out Asserted Confession Covering Eight Robberies

Study of fingerprints indicated that Frank Viskovitz, 17 years of age, was involved in a number of burglaries, including twelve beauty parlors, a cafe and the Third-Street School, police declared yesterday. Police said the boy confessed to being implicated in eight burglaries.

Viskovitz was arrested Monday by Detective Lieutenants Kleinfield and Burris in a poolhall at Second and Hill streets. The officers declared that he had slept in the poolhall the preceding night, during which time a place next door was robbed of about $70. A sum corresponding to this was found on the prisoner, the officers declared.

He Will Pay in Jail for Money Easily Gotten

It was an easy way to make money, Lloyd Halford admitted yesterday when he entered a plea of guilty before Municipal Judge Richardson to a charge of soliciting funds under the name of the American Legion, but today his opinion has changed.

After receiving the guilty plea and hearing testimony by Detective Lieutenants Leslie and Bligh, the arresting officers, Judge Richardson sentenced Halford to jail for 180 days.

According to Deputy City Prosecutor Chotiner, the defendant was arrested on the 14th inst., on complaint of American Legion officials that a man was soliciting alms in the name of the ex-service men's organization. Investigation by officers showed that Halford had obtained almost $1600 by representing himself as collecting funds for the Legion.

"Well, you had an easy time while you were at it," commented Judge Richardson, "and now we will make you pay for it at the rate of one day in jail for every $10, plus several more days to convince you it doesn't pay to take the easiest path."

One of the lovely early summer weddings will be that of Miss Eleanor Otis Booth, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Booth of Inverness avenue, and Herbert Billington Howard, the ceremony to take place in the gardens of the home of the bride-elect's parents, Saturday afternoon, June 11, at half past 4 o'clock. Rev. George Davidson of St. John's Church will officiate and Mr. Booth will give his daughter in marriage. Miss Booth has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. Otis Booth, to assist as matron of honor at the ceremony, and Miss Dorothy Wright of New York will be the maid of honor, while Arthur Howard will serve his brother as best man and Frederick Gay will be the groomsman. Miss Booth has been honor guest at numerous beautifully appointed affairs since the announcement of her engagement several weeks ago, and Thursday afternoon, May 5, Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff is entertaining with a bridge luncheon at her home, 1360 West Adams street, in her honor.

Engagement Announced

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was the bridge-tea with which Mrs. Edward William Carroll and her attractive daughter, Miss Catherine Elaine Carroll, entertained at the Mayfair in honor of Mrs. Glendon Tremaine, a bride of the season, formerly Miss Norma Ponton. Seventy-five guests were bidden and the surprise feature of the afternoon was the announcement of Miss Carroll's engagement to Raymond Albert McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willett McGuire of Fresno. Both Miss Carroll and her fiance were graduated from the University of California at Berkeley, the former being a member of the Delta Gamma sorority while Mr. McGuire is a Delta Upsilon fraternity member. The wedding will be one of the events of the late summer.

Week-End Outing

Mrs. Robert M. Fulton and Miss Truman motored down to the Desert Inn at Palm Springs for the week-end, taking in the Ramona Pageant Saturday and stopping at the Mission Inn, Riverside, on the way back home.

Miss Virginia Judd, president of California Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi, will preside over the meeting, and 500 women are expected to attend.

Dinner Party

One of the beautifully appointed affairs of last week was the dinner party Saturday evening with which Mrs. Carlos Douglas Sheldon of Houghton, Mich., entertained at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, where she returned recently from several weeks' stay at the Moana Hotel in Honolulu. A mound of long-stemmed yellow roses, pink sweet peas and purple iris blooms centered the table, where covers were arranged for Dr. and Mrs. William A. Dashiel of Hollywood, Mrs. Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, Minn., and Pasadena; Mrs. C. C. Douglas of Houghton, Miss Julia MacFarland of Washington, D. C.; Miss Mary A. Ducey of Detroit, Gen. Rupert Blue, Washington, D. C.; Col. Gone to Arizona

The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents in Haverford some time next month.

At Seaside Club

Mrs. Peter McClelland, who for the past two months has been making her home at the Surf and Sand Club in Hermosa Beach, is entertaining there today with a breakfast at half-past 12 o'clock, covers being arranged for sixty guests. The decorations will be effectively carried out in the orchid tones, with sweet peas and tulips predominating in the flowers and all the appointments of the large round table will stress the same color motif. Assisting the hostess will be her two daughters, Mrs. Winford A. King and Mrs. Lillian T. Linton, and Mrs. Cecil Randolph Luton. Mrs. Carlos Hardy and Mrs. Henry Arthur Strodthoff.

Keeping a Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

© 1927 Pathéan Beauty Pictures

Wash your face gently with Palmolive.

Shun any but a TRUE complexion soap used this way.

SIMPLE are the rules of those whose skin you admire. For they have probably learned the most important rule of a good complexion.

Daily cleansing with a mild COMPLEXION soap, to keep the skin clean, and pores free of accumulations. And, even more important, to shun any but a TRUE complexion soap—one made to foster lovely faces, to protect and beautify the skin.

To ignore this simple rule it to court danger—and a poor complexion. For present-day beauty culture calls for soap and water, regularly.

Largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Massage its balmy lather of olive and palm oils into the skin. Rinse off with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be naturally dry, apply a little good cold cream. Do this regularly and particularly in the evening.

Use powder, rouge, make-up all you wish. But never let them remain over night. Follow one week, then note the difference in your skin.

Get Palmolive today. But be sure it is GENUINE Palmolive. Costs but 10c a cake.

Soaps represented as of palm and olive oils without the Palmolive name are usually crude imitations. So take care. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

STUMBLING

"By Peterizing, I reduced thirty pounds two years ago. Since then, however, I've regained them, and what is all important, I can not (?) lose them. Herein is my trouble: For a week I'll sail along gramefly abedding pound after pound, and then in a moment of weakness or madness, I will start on a food rampage and take on all I've lost. I know my weakness, doctor, and I know you will tell me to resist it. After all, there is nothing else you can tell me. When it comes to food, I'm like a common drunkard—abhorring what I touch and looking for more and more. During the week that I am dieting, however, I am very strict and prove, to myself that I have a remnant of will power left; but, Oh, doctor, those moments of which Satan himself must be the originator! doctor, can't you help me?

It's possible, E., that your trouble lies in the fact that while you are so "very" strict during the week, "abedding pound after pound," you probably go to the extreme of not getting the elements your system needs, and your going on a rampage may be a physiological necessity. Do you take the following daily foundation diet?

FOUNDATION DIET IN REDUCTION

Now let me see, what else can I say to help these food drunks? I take it that these rampages happen probably when you are invited out to dinner. There are always things you can omit without being conspicuous at such a dinner; you needn't eat any bread at all, and that automatically cuts out butter; if the soup is heavy soup, you needn't eat all of it; if you are not overfond of sweets, and the dessert is a sweet one, you can leave half or more of that. It may be a good plan, before going out to a dinner, to eat a little something so that your appetite is not so keen. For instance, a raw cabbage salad, no oil, (25 c.) or two apples or oranges—(200 c.) They'll dull your appetite and make less room to be filled.

Another thing: Don't try to reduce too rapidly. Say you are going to lose at the rate of one or even one-half pound a week. Keep a chart of your weight, and put little crosses where you expect to be on certain dates, and be there even if you have to go on one liquid or semiliquid diet day, not over 600 to 700 c., before the day of weighing.

Don't feel that you are alone in your depraved state, E. All of us who are inclined to overweight have the same weaknesses you have.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 500 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—as will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, all that are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

TREASURES BROUGHT TO CITY BY MODERN MAGIC CARPET

BY OLIVE GRAY

The magic carpet of Arabic myth was supposed to transport one to lands far away. Treasures of historic value, scenes of loveliness, everything, in fact, that imagination could picture was glimpsed in this magic tour.

The modern magic carpet brings the world's treasures to us. The summoning Jinii, the spirit of merchandise, searched the marts of the great round globe and gathering treasures of every kind, spreads them for our inspection.

A trip downtown is all the effort needed, when we wish to feast our eyes upon objects of use and beauty garnered throughout the world. Fabrics hand-woven and loom-made, from every land on earth; objects of art and utility, products of ingenuity tuned to highest pitch; creations characteristic of famous Paris makers; treasures of the jewelers' craft; examples of the best afforded for every personal want and to beautify the home. All this one may partake of, by a trip downtown. At present, during the After-Easter Sales, lowered prices are available in every store and shop, making doubly attractive the far-famed district, the objective of the modern magic carpet, whose mythic action has been transformed to fact.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

All Together

When putting away sonny's suits after laundering, button the vestee into the blouse and the trousers onto the blouse. Then when in the usual rush for school there will be no search for different parts of the suit.

Musty

The metal or enamel teapot that has become musty through disuse can be sweetened by filling it with water into which has been dropped a red-hot cinder. Close the lid and let stand a while. Rinse with clear water.

Safer Matches

It is much easier for the housewife to use plain sulphur matches for kitchen duty, rather than those that must be struck on the box. But keep the matches in a tin box and when you are through in the kitchen, put the lid on the box. Sulphur attracts mice and many a fire has been started by these small rodents.

Paper From Ribbon

The paper ribbon that comes between ribbon on a bolt is splendid to put next the feed bar on the sewing machine when sewing on sheer material or laces. It prevents puckering and is easily torn away.

COOKING HINTS

Doughnuts

3 tablespoons PANCRUST	3 cups flour
1 egg, beaten	¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup sugar	4 teaspoons baking powder
⅔ cup milk	1 teaspoon nutmeg

CREAM PANCRUST; add beaten egg and sugar. Stir in milk. Sift flour, salt, baking powder and nutmeg together and add to mixture. If the dough is not stiff enough to roll, add additional flour. Roll out on floured board and cut. Fry in hot, deep fat until a golden brown. Place on brown paper to absorb the grease and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

ALL the problems of old-time hygienic ways have recently been ended, largely because of a new way called KOTEX.
Kotex discards as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry, no embarrassment of disposal.
Being 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," you wear lightest gowns and frocks without slightest fear. Deodorizes, too, thus ending all fear of offense.
Obtain at any store without embarrassment simply by saying "KOTEX." Many stores have it already wrapped on counters, ready for you to pick up and take along without even asking for it.
Try today and you'll never again risk the uncertainty of old ways. Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Governor Glad of Increase in Training Camp

The pleasure of Gov. Young over this year's increase of 100 in the enrollment of the citizens' military training camps has been expressed in a letter made public yesterday by H. L. Suydam, civilian aide for California. The letter was addressed to Maj.-Gen. Hines, corps area commander, and says:

"I have read with pleasure your letter containing the information that the quota of young men who may be trained in the citizens' military training camps of this corps area during the summer of 1927 is to be 9000, an increase of 100 over last year.

"The wholesome experience which comes to our young men as a result of the days spent in these camps is sufficient in itself to justify us in giving sincere indorsement to the project. The action of Congress providing more liberally for this training will, without doubt, be appreciated by California parents who desire their sons to have this opportunity. I believe that these camps have a broad appeal to those of us whose interest is primarily in the upbuilding of a fine citizenship as against the idea that emphasizes merely military preparedness."

CAMP OF '49 TO BE RODEO ATTRACTION

A '49 camp, typical of California gold rush days, is being built adjacent to the Baker ranch stadium, which will afford all the amusements of the early frontiersmen to the 35,000 people expected to attend the second annual Baker ranch rodeo at Saugus, next Sunday. A composite reproduction of all the gold rush centers is going up under the direction of the Pacific Club, in charge of the entertainments, which will begin before the rodeo and continue into the evening. The Baker ranch is thirty-two miles from Los Angeles on the Mint Canyon highway. The Southern Pacific will run a train leaving Central Station at 12:45 p.m. Sunday.

OPEN SEASON FOR DIRECTORS

John M. Stahl Chosen to Make "In Old Kentucky;" George Fitzmaurice Will Direct Colleen Moore; Universal Signs F. Harmon Weight

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

"In Old Kentucky," being one of those hardy perennials which never ceases blooming on stage and screen, is going to have another inning.

This time it is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer who is to produce the picture.

And John M. Stahl, according to the announcement of Irving G. Thalberg, will direct the screen translation of the famous old Charles Dazey play. Work on the script has already started and Stahl expects to get the picture under way within the next two months.

"In Old Kentucky" has long been the property of Louis B. Mayer, who produced it independently some six years ago with Anita Stewart starred and Marshall Neilan directing. As a play the melodrama ranked as one of the most successful hits of the American stage during the first years of its production, after which it was successfully produced in half a dozen foreign lands.

Stahl last year directed "Lovers," starring Ramon Novarro with Alice Terry; "The Gay Deceiver," with Lew Cody, Marceline Day and Dorothy Phillips, and "Memory Lane," featuring William Haines and Eleanor Boardman. He was formerly under contract to Louis B. Mayer, and during his entire career has been generally regarded as a consistent director of box-office attractions, being connected with M.-G.-M. ever since the tri-merger.

The forthcoming production of the melodrama is to be a most elaborate one, according to present plans of M.-G.-M.

While no definite decision has been made in the matter we understand that it is likely that Renee Adoree will play the star woman role.

"Lilac Time" to be Special

Colleen Moore is going to make her first special production since she came under the First National banner. The leading star of First National Pictures will be seen as the heroine in the picturization of one of the most successful stage plays of the present generation.

COLLEEN MOORE.

John McCormick, west coast production chief of First National, has just announced the acquisition of the film rights to "Lilac Time," the stirring play which served as a stage vehicle for Jane Cowl several years ago, and which was written by Miss Cowl in collaboration with Jane Murfin.

"Lilac Time" will be known as a Colleen Moore-George Fitzmaurice special production, since it will be directed by the man whose name is synonymous with a high type of romantic screen entertainment. In fact McCormick declares he has held the story in abeyance until he should find just the right director for it.

Fitzmaurice has already made one film under his new First National contract, "The Tender Hour," co-featuring Billie Dove and Ben Lyon, which will be presented by John McCormick.

"Lilac Time," if you chance to remember, tells the poignant romance of the love of a little French peasant girl and an English soldier during the World War.

The star role would appear to be one to which Miss Moore can lend her greatest and most appealing emotional talents.

Sam de Grasse in Another

Sam de Grasse isn't to move his make-up box from the De Mille studios for some time to come. He has just signed a contract for a featured role in another De Mille production, "Brigadier Gerard," in which Rod La Rocque is starred with Phyllis Haver playing opposite. Donald Crisp will direct. At present de Grasse is appearing with Rudolph Schildkraut in "The Country Doctor."

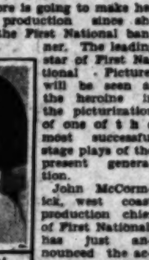
Janet Gaynor Comes Home

The title "Seventh Heaven" should be no misnomer to one clever little actress at least. She is Janet Gaynor, Fox star, who played the leading role in the picture as her first great part, and who is said to have given so beautiful a performance that she will take her place in the highest niche among popular young screen players.

Miss Gaynor therefore will doubtless be in the seventh heaven when she witnesses the opening of the picture next week. She returned from the East yesterday in order to have a new gown built for the great night.

Weight to Make "Viennese Lovers"

Director F. Harmon Weight would appear to wield a busy megaphone. He started work yesterday on "Hook and Ladder No. 9," at the F.B.O. studios, but took time at noon to dash over to Universal and sign a contract to direct "The Viennese Lovers," which stars Mary Philbin and Jean Hersholt, just in case you've forgotten.



MARY PHILBIN.

Ford Sterling Leaves

Packing his trunks with all the garments, which the well-dressed man should wear, Ford Sterling hopped a New York-bound train yesterday.

When he reaches the eastern metropolis he will take part in a picture to be made for First National.

Here and There

C. Gardner Sullivan is looking hard and long at every applicant who visits him looking for a chance to play the role of Napoleon Bonaparte in "Brigadier Gerard." So far a couple of score of applicants have been turned away.

Likewise Wid Gunning is searching the horizon for a star bright enough to play opposite Milton Sills in "Hard-Boiled Hogan," which First National is to make.

Anton Vaverka, noted Czecho-Slovakian character actor, has been added to the cast of "Love," M.-G.-M.'s present subsettitute title for "Anna Karenina."

Frank Beall, Cleve Moore, Tola d'Avril, Winston Miller, Bert Sprotte, all have supporting roles in First National's "The Stolen Bride."

William Demarest has been added to the cast of Warner Brothers's "What Happened to Father."

Dorothy Yost Kept Busy

Since that clever young scenarist, Dorothy Yost, deserted the free-lance ranks and went into the F.B.O. fold, she has won several new laurels to place among those in her crown of success.

Having just completed the adaptation of the late Larry Evans's last story, "Down Our Way," a story of the Kentucky mountains in which Virginia Valli is to play the leading feminine role, she has been selected to write the adaptation of "The Harvester" Gene Stratton Porter's widely read book.

English Actor With Paramount

Philip Strange, portrayer of sophisticated character roles on the screen, yesterday was placed under a new long-term contract by Paramount, according to announcement by B. P. Schulberg.

Strange appeared on the English stage for many years prior to coming to America in 1926. Shortly after his arrival in the United States, he decided to try motion pictures and was cast for a minor part in Griffith's "Sorrows of Satan" by Paramount. Subsequently he appeared in Menjou's "Ace of Cads."

Joseph Schenck Delays

Josephine Schenck, head of United Artists, who was to have started home from New York yesterday, delayed his return one day, presumably, as things turn out, to receive the felicitations of his friends on the success of Norma Talmadge in "Camille."

The picture opened there on Thursday night, and a wire from Mr. Schenck contains wonderful praise from all the principal critics. Unanimously the critics agree that Miss Talmadge is "the loveliest of all the Camilles on the screen," while all equally praise the intelligence of her interpretation.

Bachman Travels

J. G. Bachman has left on a hurried business trip to New York, and will return in a few days. He recently completed "Argentina" at Tec-Art Studios for Julian Ajuria of South America, and had previously made "Too Many Crooks," starring Mildred Davis.

Andre Beranger In It

Andre Beranger completed a lengthy engagement in the title role of "The Small Bachelor," the Universal farce special directed by William Seiter, just in time to rush down to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and start another feautred role, this time in "Anna Karenina."

MAMMOTH'S TUSK FOUND BY CHILDREN

Prehistoric Ivory Washed Out by Rains Discovered at Palos Verdes

An eight-foot ivory tusk of what is believed to be one of the largest mammoths ever discovered, has been unearthed at Palos Verdes Estates. The tusk is approximately ten inches across at its widest diameter and came from an animal which probably weighed more than three tons.

The tusk was discovered by children from the Malaga Cove school. Recent rains had left it protruding from a sea cliff near the school. John Kohler, amateur paleontologist at Palos Verdes Estates, directed the unearthing of the ivory and turned it over to the engineering department of the project.

Prof. Loye Miller, head of the biology department of the University of California in Los Angeles, inspected the specimen and suggested a method of preserving it for exhibition purposes. The tusk will be encased and added to other specimens of prehistoric animal and plant life to form the nucleus of a museum at Palos Verdes Estates.

According to paleontologists, the tusk comes from an animal that roamed the fertile areas of the Pacific Coast more than 250,000 years ago.

FINAL CAMPAIGN FOR MORE JUDGES BEGUN

Frank James, head of the judiciary campaign of the Los Angeles Bar Association, announced yesterday that a final drive for seventeen additional judges for Los Angeles county will be made in Sacramento. Kemper Campbell, president of the local bar association, left for the capital last night to confer with Chief Justice Waste of the Judicial Council and Senator J. W. McKinley in regard to amending Mr. McKinley's bill by raising the figures from five to seventeen.

BAY CITY NOT ANNEXED YET

So Local Prosecutor Cannot Force Debt Payment by San Francisco

San Francisco has not been annexed to Los Angeles—yet, according to the text of an official letter written yesterday by Chief Investigator Vail of the City Prosecutor's office, to Benjamin, Noble & Bomze, Philadelphia manufacturers of wash dresses.

The statement was evoked by a request that Vail ask A. J. Marcus and C. J. Van Praag of San Francisco to return a line of dresses sent on approval or pay for them.

In reply to a similar letter he recently induced Tom Malouf of Los Angeles to pay the manufacturers $13.25, according to Vail, who gave this incident as the reason for the second request.

Day Nursery Celebrating Anniversary

Four charter members of the King's Daughters Day Nursery at 132 North Clarence street have taken an active part in the observance of the thirty-second anniversary of the founding of that organization. The four are Mrs. Jennie Harrell, Mrs. E. A. Williams, Mrs. O. W. Smith and Mrs. George P. Lewis.

The day nursery was organized April 15, 1895, the first organization of its kind on the Pacific Coast. The work was begun in one room of Dana Bartlett's institutional church on the East Side. The day nursery has moved five times, each time seeking larger quarters. The present home of the organization was built on a site owned by the day nursery.

The day nursery is nonsectarian. It cares for the children of mothers who must work to support their families. The Advertising Club is one of the organizations which have given the institution valuable support.

The day nursery has a cottage at Manhattan Beach, where the children are given a two weeks' outing each year. The Children's Hospital is an outgrowth of the day nursery movement.

"CREAKING CHAIR" TO PLAY HERE

"Patsy" at Morosco Will Make Way for Thrill Play on May 8

Less than two weeks remain before "The Patsy" closes at the Morosco to make way for "The Creaking Chair," which will open May 8, according to an announcement.

"The Patsy" is having an extremely successful run in Los Angeles. Kay Hammond, as Patricia Harrington, the role Claiborne Foster created in New York, and John Litel, as Tony Anderson, are reported to be making the comedy as big a hit here as it was in New York.

The young man who coaches the girl on how to capture a lover, not knowing that he is the object of her affections, bring about one of the best situations in the play.

"The Creaking Chair" is a farcical mystery play by Allene Tupper Wilkes. It ran one year in London and one year in New York. It provides, the record shows, all the chills that mystery plays are heir to and gives the theatergoers in search of thrills something to enthuse over.

Court Annals Furnish Plot for Photoplay

Los Angeles is to witness the opening of another first-run theater Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the refinished Arcade Theater on Broadway will open, with Mrs. Wallace Reid's "The Red Kimono" as the featured attraction.

Choosing the career of a girl, taken in actual life from the records of Los Angeles courts, Mrs. Reid, with Adela Rogers St. John, who did the script, and Walter Lang, her director, has set out to present a message on a daring subject in an inoffensive manner.

BELLE BENNETT GETS ORPHEUM CONTRACT

The Orpheum, in its announcement of the booking, said that this was considered one of the most important bookings of the year, as it is the star's first stage appearance since her success in the "Stella Dallas" photoplay. Through an arrangement with Samuel Goldwyn, Miss Bennett will appear at the Orpheum in "The Man in the Stalls," the one-act playlet given at the Writers' Club recently. Supporting her will be John St. Polis and Crauford Kent, both outstanding screen feature players.

"The Man in the Stalls" is considered a very unusual playlet. It is from the pen of Alfred Sutro, the English author.

MAY ARRANGE RUN OF VICE FILM FOR WOMEN

Over 1000 letters have been received by the management of the California Theater from club women, physicians and business women asking permission to view "Is Your Daughter Safe?" the educational picture, now in its fifth week.

The picture has been discussed so widely by the men who have seen the film that women are trying to arrange for the management to have a showing for them only.

An effort is being made to get permission from the police department for a special showing before women only. The intimate scenes and disclosures of the vice sections of Chicago and other cities make it inadvisable to show the picture before both men and women at the same time.

VARIETY HEADLINER PLAYS SCREEN ROLE

Danny O'Shea, Orpheum headliner, will be one of the star features of the program coming to the Figueroa Theater Friday.

Danny will play opposite Mary Brian in "Her Father Said No," the feature picture, and will also appear on the stage every night in the act which he presented over the Orpheum and other circuits in the East.

Involved In Strenuous Events

Elinore Jackson

One of the participants in the mystery drama, "The Donovan Affair," which unravels its tangled skein for the first time at Wilkes's Vine Street Theater tonight.

TWO STAGE PLAYS WILL OPEN

Two spoken plays, as different from one another as two plays could possibly be, will have their premieres in Los Angeles tonight. At Wilkes Vine Street Theater in Hollywood, "The Donovan Affair," a sufficiently baffling mystery thriller—according to the reputation which precedes it—will engage itself in a laudable attempt at spine-tingling; and at the Orange Grove in downtown Los Angeles, "The Strawberry Blond" will seek out the tickling risibilities of other first-nighters.

Owen Davis, who is hardly a novice at playwriting, having tossed off a hundred-odd "great American dramas" in his turbulent career and won the Pulitzer prize for the best play of the year with one of them, is the author of "The Donovan Affair." And Harry Mestayer, who is scarcely a newcomer, as a director, staged it.

Among those who reportedly have cast acquisitive eyes in the direction of seats for tonight's premiere are Gloria Swanson, John M. Stahl, Conway Tearle, George K. Arthur, William Seiter, Laura La Plante, Percy Marmont, Monte Bell, Garrett Fort, Gertrude Olmstead, Frank Bacon, Marie Prevost, Marshall Neilan, Blanche Sweet and numerous other screen-art exponents.

"The Strawberry Blond" (masculine,) was written by Martin Brown, whose "Cobra" is perhaps his outstanding contribution to the stage. It relates the adventures of a red-headed Romeo whose vocation is floor-walking in a department store and whose avocation posing as a leisured gentleman among leisured gentlemen.

Louis O. Macloon has assembled a cast for "The Strawberry Blond" which includes Sterling Holloway in the title role; Mabel Taliaferro, Miriam Byron, Edward Hobart, Marguerite Allen, Margaret Wesner, Lorraine Eddy, Zelie Tilbury, Arthur Jasmine and Stuart Erwin.

Robert Warwick to Head Next Week's Program

Robert Warwick, the stage and screen star, will head the bill at the Hillstreet next week in his playlet, "One of the Finest," a psychological story dealing with the effect of conscience. Mr. Warwick is supported by a cast of players.

The Hillstreet management announces the positive appearance of Hasoutra, "the Golden Idol of Paris," in a special dance offering of many sequences. Hasoutra was taken out of last week's show at the last minute because of illness.

Phil Rich and Alice Adair will bring their novelty, "The Flower Vendor," an offering of dances and repartee. Richy Craig, Jr., is also a feature and will act as master of ceremonies. Josephine Chappelle and Harry Carlton will offer "A Few Things You Haven't Seen."

Warner Brothers contribute for the screen feature "The Hills of Kentucky," starring Rin-Tin-Tin. Jason Robards, Dorothy Dwan, Tom Santschi and Billy Kent Schaeffer. Herbert Bretherton directed this story. Pathe Newsreel, comedy and Aesop's Fables will also be shown.

Stage Offering Is Pretentious at Loew House

Renoff and Renova, stars of Earl Carroll's "Vanities," and generally conceded to be among Russia's greatest classical dancers, are on the bill at Loew's State Theater this week.

Gene Morgan returns to the Fanchon and Marco line-up this week in "Hoops M' Idea."

Juanita Wray, prima donna of "Castles in the Air," also is featured, together with the Sunkist Beauties, Scotty Westen, the Dancing Gob, the Lovettis and Natalie Harrison.

All in all, the stage show at Loew's State this week, which is filled with typical Gene Morgan gags, is almost as plentifully humorous as "Frisco Sally Levy," which features Sally O'Neil, Roy D'Arcy, Kate Price, Tenen Holtz and Charles Delaney.

"Frisco Sally Levy" is an Irish-Jewish comedy, in which Sally O'Neil plays the role of a Kosher colleen.

In addition this week there is a special Gene Morgan comedy on the screen. Also first motion pictures of the Venice-to-Los Angeles marathon dance.

Season Record for Long Run Held by Drama

The one hundred and fiftieth performance of "Alias the Deacon" will be celebrated at the Hollywood Playhouse May 9, according to an announcement. The event will be held in honor of Berton Churchill, starring in the production, and Frances Underwood, playing opposite him.

"Alias the Deacon" is now in its fourteenth week. It is known as the longest-running play this season in Los Angeles and Hollywood and enjoys the distinction of having played longer than any stage production that has been in the latter place.

SCENARIST RENEWS CONTRACT FOR YEAR

Lenore J. Coffee is to remain with Cecil B. De Mille for at least another year. This announcement emanating at the studio yesterday precluded any possibility of this scenarist accepting one of the many offers which she has received since it became known that there was a chance of her entering the free-lance field.

It was learned, that previous to De Mille's departure for New York for the opening of "The King of Kings," he left instructions that a new contract be drawn up for Miss Coffee. This contract makes her one of the highest-paid individuals in the film industry.

During the last year, Miss Coffee wrote such original stories as "The Night of Love," for Samuel Goldwyn; "The Battalion of Death," which Gloria Swanson is to produce for United Artists; "Lonesome Ladies," which First National is now producing; "For Alimony Only" and others. At present she is writing another original story for Leatrice Joy.

Musical Play Will Succeed Lonsdale Opus

Frederick Lonsdale demonstrates his right to be considered one of the best writers of sprightly comedy in the English language, and Charles Dillingham wins additional laurels for the production he has supplied Miss Claire. Roland Young and James Dale are featured players. "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" engagement terminates Saturday night.

Russell Janney, producer of "The Vagabond King," the latest of Rudolf Friml's musical plays, which comes to the Biltmore on May 2, is determined that the country at large will see his production upon the same lines of scenic excellence as at the Casino, New York, where it ran for fourteen months.

Janney, when he sent his big organization on tour, refused to reduce the numerical strength to the extent of even one chorister, one musician or one dancer.

No operetta in a generation has achieved more success than this musicalized version of the drama, "If I Were King," and Janney apparently is bent on making a reputation as a producer who sends his product on the road precisely as it is shown in the metropolis.

Fan Mail Count Reveals Chaney Film Favorite

Reports received by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios from cities in various parts of the country where "Mr. Wu" has opened since its premiere at the Forum indicate that its success here is being duplicated everywhere. Critics are reported unanimous in pronouncing it Chaney's finest acting. Others in the cast are Renee Adoree as Nang Ping, and Louise Dresser, Anna May Wong, Ralph Forbes, Holmes Herbert and Claude King.

A jump from a seventy-four-foot tower into a nine-foot net on the ground, "human ladder" equipment drills, and many other spectacular scenes are shown in the big field-day scene in "The Fire Brigade," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new filming of the heroes of peace which opens at the Million Dollar Theater a week from today.

May McAvoy and Charles Ray have the featured roles. The film was directed by William Nigh from an original story by Kate Corbaley. It was produced with the co-operation of the International Order of Fire Engineers.

NEGRO'S DRAMA WILL CLOSE SUNDAY NIGHT

On Sunday night Garland Anderson's unusual drama, "Appearances," will terminate its engagement at the Majestic Theater preparatory to being taken to San Francisco.

"Appearances" has elicited high praise from theatergoers who have witnessed it.

The company, with Ralph Glenniger and Carol Wines in the principal roles, is said to be one of the best seen at the Majestic this season and the production should meet with the approval of theatergoers in the northern city when it opens there.

HONOR SHAKESPEARE

In commemoration of the birth of William Shakespeare, on April 23, and to pay home to its honorary president, Dr. Frederick Warde, the Los Angeles Shakespeare Club is holding a banquet at the Windsor Tea Rooms, Brack-Shops, on the 29th inst. at 6:30 p.m. The president of this club is Mrs. Norman D. Hall, 315 South Reno street.

VOCAL ARTIST IS PANTAGES FEATURE

Another of Maria's fairest daughters to score a sensational success in the United States is Senorita Rachel Rojas, appearing on the stage as Maria. Senorita Maria, a well-known opera star in Mexico City, is headlining with a group of charming vocal selections at Pantages this week.

COOKING CLASS INTEREST GAINS

'Additional Lesson by 'Times' Expert Draws Crowd

Mrs. Wyman to Demonstrate Twice Weekly Hereafter

Courses Popular Feature of Manufacturers' Exhibit

Omelettes are the popular number at Mrs. Maybelle E. Wyman's cooking classes, now held on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock in the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit at 130 South Broadway, and another demonstration was given by the food expert yesterday in response to a request seconded by every woman in the crowded room.

Although the Tuesday afternoon class had been announced but once and yesterday was its introduction, a record attendance was observed and students were as attentive and interested as at the beginning of the Friday classes.

Among the demonstrations made by Mrs. Wyman were whole-wheat noodles with Spanish sauce, a walnut-cream pie and a new type of orange roll, which the instructor declared she had only recently perfected.

Other recipies were given and in response to a request Mrs. Wyman gave her famous husband's butter-mayonnaise formula. Questions asked from the audience were answered, as well as some of those handed in at the close of last Friday afternoon's class. Question blanks were filled and left on the demonstration table and these will be answered on Friday afternoon, next.

Additional exhibits have been installed by Southern California manufacturers and preparations are under way for the formal opening to be held Saturday. Many interesting features are listed on the program. One of these is a demonstration of the carding and spinning of wool on a spinning wheel made in 1602.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL TO CELEBRATE

Ceremonies Will Mark Breaking of Ground for Two New Buildings

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the two new buildings which will be constructed at the Children's Hospital, Sunset Boulevard and Vermont avenue, will be conducted May 5 at 10 a.m., according to Florence R. Pennington, executive secretary.

With the completion of the structures, which include an east wing and a residence for nurses, Los Angeles will have the most complete and modern hospital for children west of Chicago.

The new east wing will be four stories high and have a capacity of 100 beds, about double the number now available. The upper floors will be divided into wards with a large sun porch for medical and surgical cases. An isolation ward will be a complete unit in itself.

The nurses' home will replace the present building in De Longpre avenue. It will be 251 feet long, sixty feet deep and three stories high. On the ground floor will be fifteen storerooms which will be rented to provide revenue for the hospital. The nurses' quarters will contain 106 bedrooms, each separate and fully equipped.

The hospital is a nonsectarian institution and open to all children under 15 years of age. Plans for the building are being prepared by Lester H. Hibbard. Dr. R. G. Brodrick has acted as hospital consultant. Lee A. Phillips is chairman of the building committee.

SCOUT LEADER HELD

Former Boys' Worker Will Face Trial On Statutory Charge

Chester A. Arthur, once an employee of the county probation department and recently a Boy Scout worker, was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday on three statutory charges following a hearing before Judge Archbald in Juvenile Court. Bail was fixed at $3000.

Arthur is asserted to have committed statutory offenses against three boys with whom he become acquainted in Boy Scout work.

The defendant, who was asserted to have told his employers that he was a descendant of President Arthur of the United States, was branded as an impostor recently by Chester A. Arthur of Santa Barbara, a grandson of the President.

FILLING OF CANALS IN VENICE ADVANCED

The Public Works Committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon approved a report of the City Engineer asking that he be instructed to start proceedings at once to fill in several of the canals at Venice. It is proposed to first fill Coral, Alderbaran, Lion and Altair canals and portions of Venus and Grand canals west of the existing storm-water outlets.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Dancing will be featured in St. Ann's Inn, in Santa Ana, again each Friday night, after an interval of two weeks when the popular Friday-night dances lapsed. These weekly affairs have become one of the favorite social diversions of the city, and a large crowd is expected at their reopening. The St. Ann's Inn orchestra will present a program of the latest popular dance music, beginning at 9 o'clock.

PALM CAFE CHANGES HANDS

R. A. Bird, formerly of the Palm Cafe in San Juan Capistrano, has purchased the White House Cafe in Laguna Beach, and recently reopened it after expending a considerable sum in remodeling and in new furnishings and equipment.

A dining-room and a coffee shop, with a combined seating capacity of 200 persons, now comprises the cafe. It is centrally located in Laguna Beach.

CAFE TO HOLD "FILM NIGHT"

Motion-picture night will be celebrated in Brandstatter's Hollywood Montmartre Cafe this evening with Dorothy Phillips, well known film star, as guest of honor.

EXHIBIT TO OPEN SATURDAY

Varied Entertainment to be Provided at Formal Launching of Southland Trade Display

Plans for the formal opening next Saturday of the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, indicate that the whole day and evening will be filed with entertainment. This will consist not alone of artists who will participate from time to time, but will embrace the actual operation of many exhibits themselves. Demonstration of processes and methods of making articles on display, will be going on fn a score or more of the booths and the two floors will be a scene of activity.

Among the concerns which have already arranged for this form of activity are Robinson Furniture Manufacturing Company, Van Fleet tyrcrete floors, Page Wall Bed Company, California Hut, Holsum Bread and hostess cake (Continental Bakery,) East Side, Maxwell House coffee, Los Angeles Desk Company, Superbo Water Heater Company, Samson Tire Company, Master Fan Company, Lord floor heater, Cary health cooker, McLaughlin Glass Company, Swim-easy Knitting Company, McEyerlast Paint Company, J.W.P. auto enamel, Ward refrigerators, Mrs. Valentine, paper flowers, and others. This will give a fascinating aspect to the whole and will be most informative.

Besides Smith and his Ambassador Band, which will be on hand from 6 o'clock on with Director Otteberry, soloists and ensembles, and the Ethel Lindsay dancers, who will entertain afternoon and evening in the patio garden and on the floor, the Kemper Radio will give a program at intervals and radio stars from The Times studio will mingle with other artists on the program afternoon and evening.

A novel feature will be the first public appearance of Antonio De Monte, "the singing postman," discovered by The Times as he walked his "beat" singing operatic arias instead of whistling. He now is engaged by several organizations, including the Pilgrimage Play, for future appearances, and he will make his bow to a Los Angeles audience Saturday night at the exhibit, where he will be heard in several operatic numbers. He has a fine tenor voice, highly trained. He is expected to appear in uniform and his fellow-letter carriers are planning to turn out Saturday night and give him a fitting reception.

The hostess of honor—already selected but whose identity will not be disclosed till later, will be enthroned at the second-floor entrance and will be on hand afternoon and evening to greet visitors. She is an international star; that much may be said, and she is delighted with the honor.

The exhibit still is open informally every day and those who wish to see it are heartily invited.

Antonio De Monte

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock, Mrs. A. L. Wyman, conductor of the Tomorrow's Menu and Practical Recipes columns of The Times, will conduct free classes and demonstrations of good cookery and household economics in the lecture room of the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway. Mrs. Wyman is the widow of the late Chef Wyman and is herself one of the noted culinary experts of the country. This course in practical cooking is a gratis contribution by The Times to the service of its women readers and there will be no charge whatever.

ONE HELD AS BURGLAR

Sister of Accused Man Taken After House Robbery Released

Burglary charges caused by their desire to provide their home with more luxurious furnishings taken from another house yesterday resulted in Municipal Judge Bush holding George Scott, 21 years of age, to the Superior Court and dismissal of the charges against Marie Scott, 18, his sister.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello, the two broke into a vacant house belonging to William and Catherine Gerke at 1319 North Sycamore avenue on the 18th inst. and made away with a floor lamp, a vase, one pillow and a book rack. Young Scott made his escape when they were seen leaving the place, but the girl was captured by Gerke when she stumbled over a rose bush, it was testified. The goods were found at the Scott home, the arresting officers said.

As the boy and girl were without counsel, Judge Bush appointed Attorney Stanley Visel to represent them at the preliminary examination. The dismissal of the charge against the girl was granted by Judge Bush on motion of Mr. Visel on the ground of insufficient evidence.

In holding the boy to the higher court, Judge Bush fixed bail at $1500 in default of which Scott was re-

SALES OF FIRE DATA CHARGED

Insurance Agent Accuses South Gate Chief

De Yeager and Four Aides in Arson Hearing

All Witnesses Excluded from Courtroom

That Peter De Yeager, South Gate fire chief, agreed to sell information about fires occurring in the community to insurance companies was charged in testimony at yesterday's preliminary hearing on charges of arson against the chief before Judge Ezra Neff in South Gate Municipal Court.

E. Farrar, an insurance agent, admitted under the questioning of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Crail, that such an agreement between himself and the chief existed. He agreed to pay Chief De Yeager $2 for the information about each fire, he said. In addition, the chief was to get an extra $3 bonus if Farrar could land insurance contracts on the places where fires were reported, Farrar testified.

With De Yeager are four of the South Gate department's volunteer firemen who also are being tried on charges of arson. The men are R. J. Gould, Ellwood Brevig, Thomas Bosques and Jerome J. Jenkinson. Through their attorneys a motion was made that all witnesses be excluded from the courtroom during the trial. Judge Neff sustained the plea.

K. C. Bryant, Trustee of South Gate, testified about the duties of volunteer fire department members.

FILM STAR AND WIFE BACK HOME

Meighan and Frances Ring Return to Screen Colony After Long Stay in East

Thomas Meighan, screen star, returned to Hollywood yesterday after an absence of three years. He was accompanied by his wife, Frances Ring. He plans to stay in the film capital indefinitely.

FRANCIS RING.

Meighan started his picture career here several years ago, but transferred his activities to the Atlantic Coast. He has made only one picture here in the past five years.

His return is caused by the centering of all production activities of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation in the local studio.

Meighan, who yesterday professed delight at his return, will start a picture here within ten days. He will work under the direction of James Cruze.

"I started work here, and I'm glad to be back to work here again," Meighan said. "But I don't suppose I'll recognize the city any more. I've heard of its recent growth."

THOMAS MEIGHAN.

Meighan with his wife went immediately to the Ambassador, where he will stay until he finds a permanent home.

PUBLIC TO PAY HONOR TO WIGGINS

Citizens to See Unveiling of Portrait at Opening of Trade School Tomorrow

Citizens of Los Angeles are invited to attend the unveiling of the portrait of the late Frank Wiggins, for twenty years the secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and the formal opening of the new $1,000,000 trade school at Venice Boulevard and Olive street tomorrow afternoon.

When the new school was planned the Board of Education decided to honor one of the most progressive men who had ever lived in Southern California and one who gave his life to promote the growth and prosperity of this section. The Frank Wiggins Trade School stands for the highest ideals and the newest types of trade training and every instructor in the school has earned his living for years in the trade he teaches.

More than thirty trades are represented in the school in which 2000 students already are enrolled. It is expected this figure will be doubled by September when all the departments are installed.

The reception welcoming the public will begin at 1 p.m. tomorrow and continue throughout the evening and will be repeated on Friday afternoon at the same hours.

Woman Rules Self Divorced; Judge Concurs

A woman's "last word" yesterday obtained a divorce in Superior Judge Summerfield's court for Mrs. Mary F. ClaVell, well-known club woman and social worker, from her husband Guy Earl ClaVell, San Diego business man.

As the plaintiff's attorney closed his case Judge Summerfield remarked that he believed there was insufficient evidence for a divorce. Mrs. ClaVell sprang into the breach immediately.

"What's the use of evidence?" she asked. "That's all red tape. I'm not going to live with that man again and he's not going to live with me, divorce or no divorce, so you might as well set me free, because if you don't I'll keep coming back like the proverbial bad penny."

Mrs. ClaVell was awarded her de-

EAST AND WEST ONE AT LAST

Romance of Other Days Flowers Here

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Boeseke

A ROMANCE which began in the exclusive Montecito district of Santa Barbara several years ago culminated yesterday in the marriage of Dr. Elmer J. Boeseke of Santa Barbara and Mrs. Clara Vail of Asbury Park, N. J., in St. Paul's Cathedral here yesterday morning.

Dr. Boeseke, twice Mayor of Santa Barbara and a resident there for nearly two-score years, quietly left his home city yesterday morning and met Mrs. Vail, who arrived shortly afterward from her eastern home. The couple planned to have the wedding kept secret, but failed.

Dr. Boeseke gave his age as 59 and the bride's as 46.

Dr. Boeseke is the father of Elmer Boeseke, Jr., twice a member of the international polo team and the first polo player produced by the West to win world prominence. Dr. and Mrs. Boeseke will continue to make their home in Santa Barbara. Mrs. Vail lived there for many years and only recently moved east.

CANDIDATES INDORSED BY CHURCHMEN

About 700 members of the Christian Church Brotherhood of Los Angeles attended the quarterly meeting and dinner of that organization last night at the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church. Dr. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, was the principal speaker, his topic being "Man and the Master."

Prof. Roy Porter, chairman of the Wilshire group, congratulated members on the large attendance and spoke on matters pertaining to the brotherhood organization. The brotherhood, he said, stands primarily for clean citizenship and clean city administration.

"If we are to have a clean city administration we must see that the right men are elected for public office in the next election," said Prof. Porter.

Indorsement by the brotherhood of Dudley S. Valentine and Guy F. Bush for municipal judges was contained in a resolution adopted. Robert M. Allan and Virgil A. Martin were supported for City Council.

Dr. M. Howard Fagan, pastor of the church, gave the address of welcome, and J. M. Mumbower, president of the Arlington Brotherhood, the response.

An Inner Lining

If you will line your kitchen waste paper basket with a clean newspaper each time you empty it, the greasy meat papers, ice cream containers, etc., may be put into it without worry about spoiling the basket.

BANDITS MAKE STORE MANAGER OPEN SAFE

THIEVES KIDNAP MAN AND TAKE HIM BACK TO SHOP WHERE THEY GET $175

Two bandits obtained $175 last night after kidnaping Sidney Cosloff, manager of the Safeway Store at Western avenue and Exposition Boulevard, according to a police report.

Cosloff said he was walking to his home at 615 West Forty-second street after locking up the store, when two men stepped from an automobile, threw him into the car and drove back to the store. They forced him at the point of a revolver to unlock the door and open the safe.

They then forced him into their machine, throwing him out at Thirty-eighth and Western.

For Emergency Cleaning

Make a bag of several thicknesses of soft muslin and fill with pulverized pumice stone. Stitch across the upper edges to keep the powder from spilling. Window panes wiped with this pad will be shiny and clean immediately. It is a nice thing to keep on hand in case of emergency.

If, when washing rag rugs and carpets, starch is added to the rinsing water, the rugs will keep clean much longer.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

A sincere reader says: "Will you tell me how I shall dress my baby in summer? I kept my first baby too warm and she got prickley heat. Do you think it necessary to use wool on small babies in the summer time? How about socks? I understand the sun should reach their bodies. I let my little boy run barefooted and without a blouse, and he seemed to benefit by it.

ANSWER

One need not worry too much about not getting enough sun in the summer time. In fact, children should be protected from it, as sunburn and overexposure to the sun are dangerous.

In the summer all the food we eat has been subjected to the sun's rays so that we are not sun starved, as it may be possible to be in winter.

Very young or very thin babies, with no protective fat, may need clothes as they are more easily chilled, but the fat, healthy baby

Sandals would be better for the city boy than going barefooted on hot streets. Also going without a blouse seems to be carrying the thing a wee bit too far.

A boy who is running about should wear clothes and a blouse and thin cotton trousers, and a pair of sandals would satisfy Mrs. Grundy and still prevent him from being too warm.

Mrs. C. L. C. says: "My baby weighed eleven pounds at birth and now at six months weighs twenty-two pounds and two ounces. Is this a good gain? Her teeth were through at two months, but the flesh swelled over again. This has happened time to time. Her gums are very much swollen now. Should I have them cut through?"

ANSWER

The baby has made an enormous gain, even considering the large birth weight. Nothing to worry about there. I would not advise lancing the gums. They might close over again and then this scar tissue would be much more difficult for the teeth to cut through than it is now.

Unless the baby become really ill through failure to cut the teeth, and the doctor advises it (and I don't

ANCIENT INDIAN IDOL DUG UP

Santa Fe to Distribute Replicas of Image

Margaret and Lillian Reynolds With Relic

INDICATIONS of primitive art in New Mexico were revealed yesterday when an Indian idol recently dug up by Santa Fe Railroad engineers near Taos, N. M., arrived here.

According to Margaret and Lillian Reynolds, Orpheum dancers, who were photographed with the idol to lend beauty to its weird art, the figure at least proves that futuristic art was used by the Indians long before Greenwich village ever thought of cubist craniums.

Replicas of the idol are being made by the railroad company for distribution throughout the United States for school children to observe and study.

Two Remanded for Asserted Fake Hold-up

Charged with perpetrating a fake hold-up in which ticket receipts for the Mission Play were obtained, Will F. Chopp, in charge of the ticket office for the theater company in the Pacific Electric Building, and Jean Watkins, 225 East Eighteenth street, yesterday were bound over by Municipal Judge Bush to the Superior Court for trial on felony charges.

Chopp was held to answer on charges of grand larceny and embezzlement, while a charge of receiving stolen property was sustained by Judge Bush against Watkins.

On motion of Defense Attorney R. C. Hunting, similar charges against Mrs. Mabel White, 1738 Commonwealth avenue, were dismissed. Signed confessions by both men were introduced in the case.

Bail was fixed at $1500 each.

Turns from Purveying of Forbidden Waters Only to Land in San Quentin

Duke Hardy (alias Ray Boyd) came to California a year ago as an advertising salesman seeking work to aid in the support of his parents in Texas, according to the story he told yesterday in Superior Judge Craig's court.

But advertising didn't sell well, Hardy said, so he turned to bootlegging instead and adopted a convenient alias. He roamed the city attempting to sell his wares, but competition was as keen in this as in other professions and business was "not so good."

"And so I decided to try burglary as another sideline," Hardy told Judge Craig.

"Did you find it profitable?" asked the judge.

"I should say not," was Hardy's retort. "I guess I'm a ne'er-do-well."

Judge Craig denied Hardy's request for probation and sentenced him to San Quentin on the first of two counts of burglary of which he had been convicted.

University Made Part of Pacific Debating Body

Admission of the University of California at Los Angeles into the Pacific Inter-Collegiate Forensic Conference was announced yesterday. Other members of the conference are Stanford, Washington, Oregon, Oregon State, Willamette and University of Southern California.

Admission of the University of California at Los Angeles came in recognition of the work of its debating teams during the past year, when it defeated a number of the leading colleges and universities of the nation. The local institution participated in twenty-four forensic contests, winning seventeen of them during the year.

Last year, the University of California here withdrew from the Southern California League and since that time its debating teams have been free-lancing.

The debate question for next year, as decided by the Pacific conference is "Resolved, that the Oxford system of education should be adopted in American colleges."

Musicians to Organize for War on Union

Organization of a unit of the American Musicians' Union, an open-shop group of musicians not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and opposed by the regular musicians' unions, will be attempted here by F. J. Smith, who is organizing Smith's Ambassador Band, Smith announced yesterday. The American Musical Union has headquarters in Chicago.

Smith said he will attempt to get Los Angeles nonunion musicians in his unit and carry on a counter movement to the one through which the regular musicians' unions here are attempting to gain control of radio musical performances.

As to his own band, Smith is trying to organize an outfit that will tour the country with a speaker boosting Los Angeles, he said.

Dr. William W. Campbell, president of the University of California, will be the guest of Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of the University of California at Los Angeles, and chairmen of departments, and the administrative staff of the local institution at a luncheon today at the California Club. Dr. Campbell is here from Berkeley to address the California Medical Association.

TEMPLE SCHISM AT STANDSTILL

Secession Leader Stands Pat on Hair Bob

Mrs. McPherson Refuses to Comment

Sixty Join New Symphony Orchestra

A state of "armed neutrality" between Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson and the 300 followers of Gladwyn N. Nichols, deposed band leader of Angelus Temple and head of the secessionists, yesterday presaged the end, for the present at least, of the schism that for a time threatened to disrupt the entire church, officials of the Four Square institution declared yesterday.

While Nichols continued to "stick to his guns" in criticising Mrs. McPherson's bobbed hair, the evangelist adopted an attitude of indifference to Nichols's statements and declared she "would not dignify them with an answer."

Monday night, which is ordinarily a rest period for the temple leader, was spent by her interviewing members of every department in the temple to ascertain whether the recent break was to become general throughout the institution.

Following the meetings with the old Four Square choir, which did not secede, several hundred Bible students in the temple school, and the board of directors, officials of the temple issued the following statement:

"Only three students of the entire Bible school body were undecided as to their stand, while the others loudly cheered Mrs. McPherson and announced they would stand by her. A symphony orchestra of sixty pieces will be a feature of the temple shortly, that number of musicians with symphony talent having enrolled in a body Monday night."

A stipulation by counsel yesterday delayed action on Mrs. Verla Kimball's $1,000,000 slander suit against Mrs. McPherson for two weeks. Mrs. Kimball accuses Mrs. McPherson of naming her as the woman of the famous Carmel-bungalow incident in the McPherson case.

LONG TERM IN PRISON FOR THIEF

Second-Story Flats Safest from Burglars, Says Carl Nylen After Conviction

Second-story flats are the safest place to live if one seeks to avoid the visits of burglars.

This was the advice given to Superior Judge Craig yesterday by Carl Nylen after the court had sentenced him to San Quentin prison for a term of from five years to life. Nylen was accused of burglary in more than fifty Los Angeles homes during the last year.

In passing sentence, Judge Craig announced that he will recommend to the State Prison Board that they fix Nylen's sentence at a minimum of twenty-five years.

"That's a long time," Nylen said. "I've learned to leave other people's property alone. I don't need that much."

"That's about six months for every burglary you have done," the judge answered. "Didn't you ever enter the second story of a house?"

"No," Nylen answered. "It's too hard to get in and too hard to get out. A second-story flat is the safest place to live."

Nylen pointed out that he never carried a gun because he didn't want to hurt any one.

Airport for City to Be Topic at Chamber Meet

In keeping with the proposed establishment of a $1,000,000 airport in Los Angeles, the Chamber of Commerce announced plans for an aeronautical luncheon. The luncheon will be held in the Alexandria at noon next Tuesday, according to A. O. Arnold, secretary and general manager of the chamber.

H. H. Blee, special representative of the aeronautics division of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., will speak on "Commercial Aeronautics." The address will be nontechnical in character, illustrated by stereopticon slides.

Mr. Blee, who is to give the principal address, is senior business specialist for the Department of Commerce and will appear at the chamber luncheon as the personal representative of Hon. William P. MacCracken, Jr., Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics.

The spectacle of forty-four candidates for public offices, speechless before a gathering of thousands of voters, will be presented Friday night at the Philharmonic Auditorium during the political mass meeting and vaudeville show to be staged under the auspices of the Intercity Unit Council of the United Veterans of the Republic. Gag rule for the candidates invited to be present has been ordered by Charles W. Cradic, chairman of the arrangements committee in charge of the event.

Each candidate, however, will be introduced and permitted to make a bow before the audience. There will be twenty-four aspirants for the Municipal Court, fifteen for the City Council and five for the Board of Education.

Charlie Murray will be master of ceremonies.

SENTENCE ON DRUG CHARGE DEFERRED

Sentence of Dr. Elmer G. Litle, convicted of selling narcotics illegally, was deferred yesterday by Superior Judge Craig upon motion for a new trial made by Litle's attorneys. A hearing on the motion will be given Friday. Frank Hutton and W. I. Gilbert represented Dr. Litle. The defendant was arrested at his offices, Third street and Western avenue, last September by State officers.

Death of Sick Man in Garage Laid to Suicide

William Nelson, 53 years of age, a retired farmer, of 1753 Thirty-seventh Drive, was found yesterday on the floor of a garage at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. Kreigh at 733 South Berendo street, strangled and with an electric wire about his neck.

Police reported the case as suicide, declaring he had tied the wire in a noose and jumped from the top of the car, the wire finally breaking. He had been in poor health, it was said, had tried suicide before, and for a time was under observation in the psychopathic ward at General Hospital.

He was discharged Monday from Hollywood Hospital, where he was under treatment.

Forestry Chief to Be Honored by Association

A dinner in honor of Col. W. B. Greeley, chief United States forester, will be given by the Conservation Association of Southern California on Friday, the 29th inst. The dinner and conference on that day will be the one opportunity for the people of Los Angeles to meet with and hear Col. Greeley, Congressman Arthur M. Free and others, it was announced yesterday.

This dinner, it was stated, is not to be confused with the dinner announced by the American Green Cross for tonight.

Col. Greeley and other members of his office, including S. B. Show, district forester, will arrive in Los Angeles on Friday morning. The supervisors of the four southern forests have been asked to meet with them on that day.

Public Police Inspection Set for This Year

Annual inspection of the police department, the occasion when all officers not required for duty turn out en masse with spick uniforms and polished shoes and brass buttons shining like new dollars from the mint, will be held in the Coliseum May 2, next.

This order was made yesterday by the Police Commission, which extended an invitation for the general public to be present. Instead of separate inspections in the various stations this year the commission will assemble virtually the entire force in one body for public review.

OUR FORESTS

Ask Your Aid in Their Fight for Preservation.

We urge you, here, to join us in a great movement to save our wooded lands. Your part is a simple one. Just read what we say here, then send the coupon below!

EACH year 10,000,000 acres of virgin trees are burned to the ground in America.

Each year thousands upon thousands of trees are killed by wood-boring insects and lowering water tables. Our scientists, through lack of funds, are helpless to prevent the waste.

Each year 8,500,000 acres of standing timber are required to supply the needs of man. Each year these demands increase. Homes, paper, furniture, automobiles and a thousand other uses are taxing the capacity of our fast disappearing wooded lands.

And where 50,000 acres of timber are being consumed, only one acre is being replanted.

The ultimate result is obvious. Depleted forests mean the elimination of water sheds. Without water sheds, water cannot be conserved for commercial, industrial or agricultural uses. The only end can be aridity for the land; starvation and failure for the people.

But red-blooded Americans will not allow such a continued wasting away of our natural resources. Already a great organization has been formed with the sole purpose of perpetuating our forests. It's called the American Green Cross.

You Can Help!

We know that you want a part in this reforestation movement. So the following plan has been devised to make it easy for you to help. You fill in the coupon below, attach your check for $3.00 and mail to the address below. In return we will send you a handsome book, "MOULDING PUBLIC OPINION TO HELP SAVE OUR TREES." The cost of printing this book, the cost of preparing this message and the space this message occupies has been donated by public spirited citizens who, like yourself, want to see that our forests are preserved.

In addition you will be presented with a paid up field membership in the American Green Cross. This membership certificate carries your name and is suitable for framing.

Thus every cent you pay will go into the actual work of protecting, preserving and perpetuating our forests.

Begin today to take an active interest in the reforesting of America. The first step is the coupon. Send it now!

Prof. Hill's recent tour through what is now the theater of war was his thing in twelve ...the most concrete evi... ...ia's growing solidarity," ...is the development of the ambitious plan to link the railways of South Asia in the trans-South Asiatic Railroad. The project follows the proposals made in Paris six years ago by representatives of all the South Asia countries—French Indo-China, Siam, Burma, India, Persia, Iraq, Syria, Trans-Jordania, Palestine, Egypt and Turkey.

NOT YET COMPLETE

"There are yet in this line some gaps which must be bridged by the use of motor cars, elephants and camels. But it will not be long before a trans-Asian railroad will break down still further the centuries-old barriers of race hatreds and distrust that have separated the Asiatic countries.

"In Siam the dictator of communications, Prince Kam Pang Fet, the kingdom's builder and modernizer—an Oxford graduate—has just completed the Siam railroad to the border of Indo-China. Here is a country of 8,000,000 people that could support 80,000,000. Siam is rapidly becoming independent of outside support and is even building its own airplanes.

"Burma has seen a notable development with the taking over by the British Indian government of all privately operated railways. British engineers are working to conquer the Irrawaddy delta—200 miles of shifting terrain—with pontoons.

GREAT RAILROAD

"When these countries have laid 500 more miles of rails, a great railroad 4500 miles in length will operate under a central board of direction.

"South Asia and the Far East are growing closer together. Japanese trade commissioners recently visited Constantinople with high hopes that Turkish trade might be diverted from the United States. Japanese trade delegations are visiting China and Chinese delegations are in Japan.

"One hears the phrase 'Japan's revenge upon Britain.'

"Japan is making overtures to Siam. A few months ago Siamese princes received in Tokio the highest honors at the disposal of the Japanese Emperor.

AIMED AT BRITAIN

"Japan seeks from Siam a concession to dig a canal across the Malay Peninsula to shorten the Tokio-Suez water route by 1000 miles. Such an achievement would end Singapore's career as a world port of call and is Japan's reply to British plans for a great Singapore naval base."

Prof. Hall on his journey followed the route of the projected trans-Asian railroad, covering 30,000 miles. On his first visit to the Orient he acted for Minister Reinsch in studying Japanese and German intrigue during the Japanese penetration of Shantung province in 1916. His prearranged signature, "Up Close," to his dispatches became his pen name when they were appropriated by American press services and under this pseudonym he has published several books on the Orient, as well as articles now appearing in The Times Sunday Magazine.

Prof. Hall is lecturer on Pacific Asia at the University of Washington, on indefinite leave of absence. He addressed the students of the University of California at Los Angeles and the Ebell Club Monday and will speak Thursday at a luncheon of the University Club, of which he is a guest during his stay in the city.

MONTHS HENCE PARIS TO SEE STYLES NOW SHOWN LOCALLY

Paris and American-designed fashions that will be new to Parisians when shown months hence in Los Angeles motion pictures, are features of the style displays in local retail establishments.

Tourists will find it well worth while to devote part of the next few weeks to visiting Los Angeles stores and shops, which set apart this season as one of the most important shopping periods of the year.

Motion-picture requirements make it necessary for Los Angeles merchants to assemble new merchandise long before its introduction throughout the country. This applies to everything the films make use of, from wearing apparel to furnishings for the home. Visitors thus have a chance to see and, if they so desire, to take home with them the newest of the new things.

GAS BOMBS FOR RUM SMUGGLER

McReynolds Makes Threat at Women's Meeting

Reprisals for Liquor Gangs With Machine Guns

All-Around Co-operation in Enforcement Asked

Promising to employ tear-gas bombs as a reprisal upon liquor smugglers who have purchased machine guns in a threat to combat dry officers and hijackers, Maj. McReynolds, prohibition administrator for Southern California, yesterday afternoon in an address before the Woman's Law Enforcement Committee of Southern California at the University of Southern California, pledged unqualified support to those under his command.

"To smugglers of contraband who have passed the word through underworld channels of a deliberate plot to wreak vengeance against Federal officers by use of light artillery, I reply that we will retaliate by inaugurating a warfare of tear-gas bombs," Maj. McReynolds declared.

MUSTARD-GAS THREAT

"This is not an idle threat for we already have a supply of these bombs on hand. If this method of combat proves ineffective against the machine gunners, the department will go to the extreme, if necessary, by using mustard gas."

In a half-hour address on the subject "Difficulties in Federal Enforcement," the speaker said he had "worked up too much interest in the job to quit the post now. It was not exactly a job of my own choosing in the beginning, but now that I am on it I will do my best."

Maj. McReynolds marveled at the fact that more officers engaged in the work have not turned crooked because of the remarkably small salary. "Can you imagine a man with a family living on a wage of $150 a month? It really is a wonder that more of them do not go wrong. Our Los Angeles police officers get more; those in San Francisco receive $200 a month.

WAY TO ENFORCE IT

"Some well-meaning gentlemen accused me of saying that I would spend my time in chasing the 'higher-ups' and permit the hip-pocket toters go scot free. I believe it is my biggest duty to stop the outflow of liquor at its source. Try and visualize a handful of agents attempting to dry-up all of Arizona as well as California from the Mexican border to as far north as Turlock.

"Prohibition can be enforced, I maintain, but only with the wholehearted co-operation of local police, the Sheriff, the District Attorney, the courts and the dry forces. When any of these responsible agencies fall down on the job it is very much a question whether the Eighteenth Amendment can be executed."

Finally taking up the question of the bootlegger, Maj. McReynolds interrogated his audience of 100, as to whether it had ever cherished the friendship and acquaintance of a whisky seller. "Did you ever know of a bootlegger who kept his lawn mowed or that attended such civic meetings as these? If you did, I miss my guess."

SOURCE OF CRIME

Mrs. John C. Urquhart, chairman of the committee, introduced Maj. McReynolds and presided as officiating officer. She also led in the open-forum discussion which followed the address.

The initial speaker of the afternoon was Benjamin F. Bledsoe, who spoke on the subject, "The Problem of the Bootlegger." Mr. Bledsoe declared that during the twenty-five years he sat on the bench, approximately 75 per cent of the cases he heard, including domestic relations, criminal and juvenile cases, resulted either directly or indirectly from alcohol.

"Prohibition was not put over on the United States at a moment's notice, but rather after long years of serious study. There were thirty-three dry States in the Union when the law was enacted as well as 2726 counties out of the some 2800 in the forty-eight States."

As a parting shot at opponents of the prohibition law, the speaker stated that the "bootlegger will exist no longer than his patrons."

Mr. Franklin was a criminal deputy under Sheriff White for seven years, and during the last few years had been the chief investigator for the Wholesalers' Board of Trade and special agent for the western division of the National Association of Credit Men.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lucy Fox Franklin; two daughters, Mrs. Hazel May and Mrs. Frances Notes, and one son, Ned Franklin, all residents of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted at Pierce Brothers' chapel, 720 West Washington street, tomorrow at 2 p.m.

NEWBERRY BRANCH TO OPEN HERE

New York Variety Chain Company Entering Field With Broadway Store

The J. J. Newberry Company, operators of five, ten and twenty-five-cent stores, with executive offices in New York City, will open their first western store in the near future at 445-447 South Broadway, it was announced yesterday. More than 500 persons will be employed in the store, all of whom are actual residents of Los Angeles county, it was stated.

The selection of Los Angeles for the store, it was declared, was prompted by the company's confidence in the development of this city.

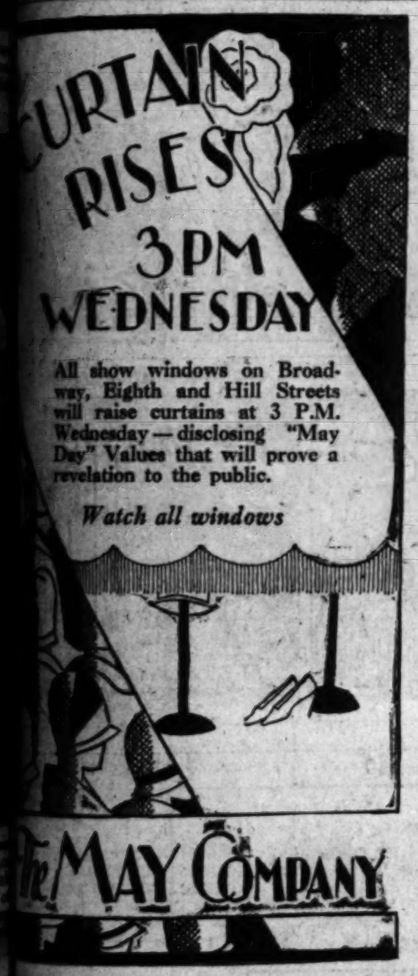
More than 86,000 items will be handled in the store, which contains nearly 50,000 square feet of floor space. The basement, the first and second floors are devoted to salesrooms, with fixtures and displays arranged so that shopping may be conducted with a minimum of effort, it is said.

Especial attention has been given to the lighting system. The store contains a number of spacious stairways and two modern freight elevators.

With the exception of the restaurant equipment, the finish of the fixtures is in a rich mahogany. There is a ventilation system which furnishes fresh air continually to the entire building. Display windows have been arranged in accordance with the most modern ideas.

A lunch and restaurant department is located in the rear of the first floor and basement. Every possible labor-saving device and form of equipment making for efficiency and cleanliness has been installed in this department, it is declared. The floors and walls are of white tile.

With reference to employing a Los Angeles personnel the company says it has departed from the practice of most chain organizations and has developed its entire organization within this territory.



All show windows on Broadway, Eighth and Hill Streets will raise curtains at 3 P.M. Wednesday—disclosing "May Day" Values that will prove a revelation to the public.

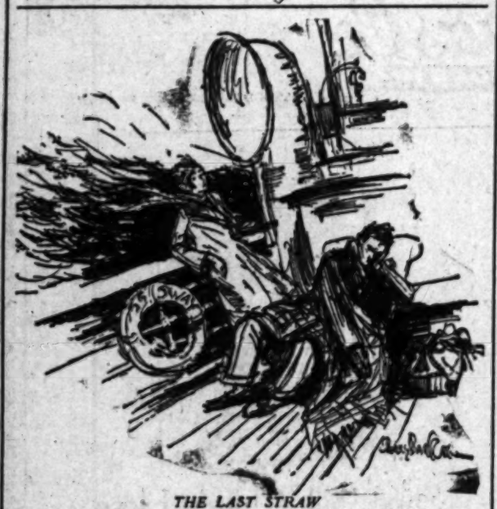
CHUCKLES from LIFE



THE LAST STRAW

She: George, dear—the minute we reach Paris, I'll have to get a permanent wave.

For Young Ladies

IT'S a great thing to be a good Scout as a girl, but it isn't so laudable when you grow to ladyhood.

Whom you marry makes little difference, but it is vitally important to be divorced from the right kind of man.

The dashing chap who fears nothing on the polo field may quake before the paying teller in his bank.

It is even worse to be seen coming from the wrong sort of beauty parlor than from the wrong sort of restaurant.

Never consider a proposal of marriage from a man who can break ninety for eighteen holes. He has already selected his life's interest.

A man may also be known by the charge accounts he keeps.

Beware the swain who can name the material your gown is made from. He didn't acquire his knowledge reading "What the Well-Dressed Woman Will Wear" in the theater programs.

You will be judged for life the first time your suitor hears you getting the same wrong number twice over the phone. Be sweet about it, even if it chokes you.

A Little Gravel in That Remark

GARB TO INDEX PROFESSION IF CLOTHIER HAS HIS WAY

Haberdasher Evolves Science of Apparel to Point of Revelation of Chosen Calling

BY THEIR duds you shall know them if the personality program evolved by James Oviatt, Los Angeles importer and president of Alexander & Oviatt, is generally adopted by male Angelenos. His plan, Oviatt said, is the result of many years' painstaking research. He has studied importations from the continent, talked with professors and other authorities and now believes he has attained a point where he can adequately clothe personalities. Every profession, he believes, calls for a definite style of attire. For instance, doctors should wear clothes which are in harmony with their calling; lawyers will—or, at least, should—wear the cloth of the bar, while newspaper reporters are expected to wear anatomical scenery which will silently proclaim their vocation to the world.

Here is the way Oviatt catalogues the list, as far as he has gone:

BANKER: Dark blue suit, self-diamond check pattern, white shirt, stiff collar, striped tie (subdued tones, plain Malacca walking stick, gray hat with black band (formal type,) small check camel's hair overcoat, black shoes. Only change when tired of this is cold steel gray, otherwise known as banker's gray, usually matches eyes. Bankers are confined to these two colors by convention.

ACTOR: Gray or tan West of England flannel coat and vest, light flannel trousers with stripes, plain colored collar-attached shirt, striped mogador tie, gray or tan spats, black or tan shoes, tan or gray hat, large plaid overcoat, tan or gray gloves, novelty walking stick.

WILSHIRE'S ASSESSING ZONE FIXED

Council Committee Also Decides on 90-Foot Road; Action on Santa Barbara

The major street-improvement projects, involving Wilshire Boulevard and Santa Barbara avenue, received impetus yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Street Opening and Widening Committee of the City Council.

The committee approved new modified lines for the widening of Wilshire Boulevard to ninety feet, between Figueroa and Alvarado streets, and agreed upon a tentative assessment district. The districts will not extend east of Figueroa street nor west of Alvarado, while to the north and south it extends only to the rear of lots facing on West Sixth and West Seventh streets.

The committee also approved modified lines for widening Santa Barbara avenue between Figueroa street and Third avenue. The plans call for a 100-foot street from property line to property line, with a seventy-four-foot vehicular roadway. The tracks of the Los Angeles Railway also will be brought down to grade and the rails laid in paving.

TRAFFIC COLLISION MAY KILL FIREMAN

City Fireman G. T. Mandella, 27 years of age, of 435 West Ninety-third street, suffered a possible skull fracture and other injuries yesterday in a collision between his car and one driven by Ventura Alba of 318 Carilla Place at Ninety-third and Figueroa streets. He was treated at Receiving Hospital by Dr. Sebastian. His condition is considered serious.

Dealer Sought After Asserted Furniture Fraud

Police yesterday were searching for Samuel A. Baker, proprietor of the Adams Furniture Company, 1774 North Vermont avenue, according to police reports, on a charge of having perpetrated a series of forgeries of furniture contracts and selling the contracts to finance companies.

In a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Menzies, Baker is accused of forgery of one contract for $1350, which was asserted to have been sold to the Fidelity Reserve Corporation. It is charged that Baker forged the name of Harry Myers, Sun Building, 706 South Hill street, to the contract.

According to Mr. Menzies the method of operation, as asserted, was for Baker to take the supposedly signed furniture contracts to the finance company and discount them. The operations, it was asserted, involve about $75,000.

Victim Buried for Hour Dug Out Swearing

J. Barron of 528 Marine street, Wilmington, went mesmerists one better yesterday, when he was dug out uttering Mexican expletives after being buried an hour in twelve feet of dirt.

Barron was following a trench digger at O and Lagoon streets, putting braces in the twelve-foot drainage ditch, when the east wall caved in. Assistant Fire Chief J. C. Baly with his crew and a dozen men with shovels dug Barron out, expecting him to be a case for a pulmotor or worse.

Barron's strong language was audible before the top of his head was out. His first word after his head was uncovered was a request for his five-gallon hat to be put back on his head. His second was for a cigarette, which he puffed nonchalantly while directing the work of his rescuers.

He started to walk off unassisted, but thought better of it and let Fireman Jens Hansen carry him to an ambulance and be driven home, little the worse for the interment.

Architectural Students' Mask Party Saturday

The lure of mask and wig, of grease paint and costume, combined with the adventuresome spirit of spring and thrilling freaks and feats of the circus, will mingle in "Le Cirque du Printemps," the annual masked costume ball of the school of architecture of the University of Southern California, to be held Saturday evening on the roof garden of the Hollywood Terminal Building, with students and coeds from the twelve schools and colleges of the Trojan campus participating incognito in the only bal masque of the school year.

According to Frank Baden, president of the Southern California school of architecture, the architects stage the masked party yearly, but it is attended not only by students of all the departments, but also by their friends. Doris Johnson, vice-president of architecture, is assisting in preparations, as well as a committee consisting of Bob Bawbell, Roy Kelly, Lee Ellis, Carrol Sager, Frances Flynn and Graham Latta.

Swaggering pirates, daring apaches, dainty ballet dancers, daredevil acrobats, gypsies, giants, snake charmers, harem, ladies, Chinese mandarins, sword swallowers, clowns, bareback riders, lion tamers, human skeletons, midgets, Russian dancers, mystics from India, bearded ladies and many forms which would astonish even Alice in Wonderland are to parade and perform. Prof. Clayton N. Baldwin has been selected to act as ringmaster.

Bible Institute Seeking Funds For Radio Class

A campaign to raise $300,000 for equipment for the radio bible class of the Bible Institute, and for other improvements at the institute, was launched yesterday at a meeting conducted by the board of directors of that institution and presided over by Nathan Newby.

F. M. Couch was elected chairman of the general campaign committee. Dr. J. M. MacInnis, dean, and Dr. C. E. Hurlburt, superintendent of the institute, will be in active charge of the drive, which will last six weeks.

As interior decorator and purchasing agent for the seven Alerton Club residences in New York, Chicago and Cleveland, Miss Marie Glinn of New York City has one of the largest jobs of housekeeping in the country.

GLUCKSTEIN STARTS SUIT ON 'IN-LAWS'

Wife's Parents, Sister and Brother Facing $125,000 Alienation Action

Bowed down under trouble with his "in-laws" Morris Gluckstein yesterday carried his fight to the Superior Court by filing a suit asking $125,000 for alienation of his wife's affections by her father and mother and sister and brother-in-law. Gluckstein named Samuel Siegel, Sarah Siegel, parents of his wife, and Julius Caplan and Rose Caplan, his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, as defendants in the action.

The trouble all started about two years after their marriage, which took place March 20, 1923, according to the complaint. On December 14, 1924, Gluckstein charges, the defendants entered into a conspiracy to attract his wife away from him and began their campaign by telling her that he was in a position to provide her with greater comforts and luxuries than she was then enjoying.

The result, the complaint states, was a suit by Irene Gluckstein against her husband in 1925 asking for separate maintenance. Since that time, he asserts, his wife has been living with her relatives and receiving numerous gifts from them.

The complaint, filed by Harry Lyons, Gluckstein's attorney, asks for $100,000 actual and $25,000 punitive damages.

PLEA MADE BY PIONEER OF SCHOOLS

D. K. Edwards Asks That Present Board Members be Chosen at Polls

An appeal to the public to elect to the Board of Education candidates indorsed by the Citizens' School Committee in its campaign to "keep the schools out of politics" was issued last night by D. K. Edwards, former member of the Board of Education and one of the pioneers in the development of the city's public school system.

Edwards entered briefly into the requirements of members of the Board of Education, and gave a personal history of the candidates sponsored by the Citizens' School Committee. He closed with a plea to the public to show approval and appreciation of the "present efficient, effective, economic and harmonious administration of the public schools" by electing Carrie Parsons Bryant, Robert L. Burns, Letitia J. Lytle, Clair L. Peck and J. L. Van Norman on May 3.

With reference to the statement, W. J. Washburn, chairman of the Citizens' School Committee, declared there is probably no man in Los Angeles who has given more of his life to service in educational and civic matters in Southern California than Edwards.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES WILL CONDUCT DANCE

As a method of raising funds to enable them to bring the 1931 biannual convention of Postoffice Employees' Association of the United States to Los Angeles, postal employees of Los Angeles and Southern California in general will hold their annual ball and carnival at the El Pato Ballroom this evening. The public is invited to attend. Headed by Postmaster O'Brien of Los Angeles and a number of postmasters from surrounding cities and towns, a large group of notables will attend. The grand march will be led by Jabyna Ralston and Eddie Cantor, motion-picture celebrities.

These clothes dispute the $50 market point for point

in Foreman & Clark Factory No. 4 at Watervliet, N. Y.
Where F&C Suits Are Made More Carefully than Ordinary $50 Garments

in Fabrics in Service in Tailoring in Style in Fit in Wear

against any brand of clothing in America

This page is an open bid for the critical, "skeptical" interest of the man who thinks "$50" the moment he thinks of "new clothes." We have never directly addressed you, if you are that man, in our advertising, though we have sold and served your ($50) friends, more and more every season!

A famous American car sold at $3000. Vigorous new management took hold and tripled sales! Now the price, with no change in quality, is $2200. You perhaps nodded your head and soundly concluded, "good business!—more production, better distribution,—that's the stuff."

YET you go on buying clothes sold through such a bulky distribution system that their price is doubled between maker and you.

The Foreman & Clark parallel differs only here—neither the management nor the policies of this coast-to-coast business ever have changed. But . . . we brought new management to the clothing industry itself! We brought new production standards, new distribution shortcuts, totally new ideals. We dropped the price of good clothes from $50 and $60 to $35! From $40 and $45 to $25 and $30! We did this not by cutting a single corner of quality production, but by cutting every other corner in the clothing business! The bigger we grew, the more so!

Today less than one-tenth, NOT one-half, of the cost of production is added to Foreman & Clark prices by distribution! We have piled 14 savings one by one behind the Rent economies originating with our slogan . . . . . .

29 hand-tailored points per topcoat?

And inner tailoring as fine as this:

C—One-eighth inch lockstitch lapel, three fine rows of parallel threads, instead of one or two.
D—Hand-shaped, hand-felled one-piece collar.
